and the same

THE DESIGNATION OF THE PARTY OF

- Feet (PC

th the PR

No very lone

Votes les

and the Rule of

. artistical

· **** **** ****

Bergeline etc.

W. Bur of

To all the seasons and the contract of

eren er ere allej

W. Farring

 $2\exp(k_{1}-\frac{1}{2}\log k)$

Contract Williams

Tr (0.4)

ROOKS

COLLEGE

COMPANSION S

. a.s. . Second 100 100

In that

ANPO

PAGE

FOR MOR CLASSIFIE

aily Source in tional Investor

PCWE

CATCHER ON OF NICES

to the sample

5 5 5 5 5 5 6 7 6

that the chess is in Paris, London, Zurich, Hong Kong, Singapore, The Hague, Marseille, Miami.

PARIS, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1987

_____110 Dr. Norway___8.00 N.Kr. Yyogalawa ____ 560 D

_____22 S. Jurnel______NS 230 Portugal____125 Esc.

ESTABLISHED 1887

No. 32,330

Reagan Offers Investigators Excerpts of His Notes on Iran The Person

By David Hoffman Washington Pau Service 2 vailable
WASHINGTON — President 2 ations. Ronald Reagan will make available to investigators, if requested, "relevant excepts" from his personal notes on discussions and meetings concerning the decision to sell arms to Iran, the White House annonneed Monday.

Matheway (sal of earlier statements by White House officials that Mr. Reagan considered his notes to be private

LATE NEWS

Perle to Leave Pentagon Post

WASHINGTON (WP) -Assistant Defense Secretary Richard N. Perle has informed Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger that he intends to resign soon, administration sources said Monday.

Mr. Perle's intention to rezign became known after he gave a speech Sunday at a con-ference in Munich in which he criticized European allied leaders as "mealy mouthed." The Reagan administration ansounced that Mr. Perle, who is the assistant secretary for international security policy, was not speaking for the United States in his criticism.

MISEDE TODAY

GENERAL NEWS

M South Africa's white opposition party accused the government of suppressing the truth about abuses of blacks. Page 2. B Alisteir MucLeso, author of "The Guns of Navarone" and one of Britain's leading postwar writers, thed Monday. Page 6.

BUSINESS/FINANCE If Part A. Volcker warned that a further fall in the dollar could engender inflation. Page 9.

The designer Christian Lacroix, after resigning from Jean Patou, signed on with Dior for a conture venture. Page 7.

and that they would not be made view Jan. 26 with the three-member available for congressional investi-

lin Fitzwater, said the president "will continue to provide all information required by those conducting the inquiries into the Iran matter. Should it be determined that material is needed, however, the president is willing to make available relevant excerpts from his per-sonal notes. This is consistent with his meeting with the Tower board

"The president wants to get to the bottom of the matter and fix what went wrong," the statement

Officials said they had not determined how the "relevant excerpts" would be chosen from the president's notes, which he has written in longhand in preparation for his

They said a method would be determined if the congressional committees investigating the Irancontra affair make a request for the

Arthur Liman, the chief counsel of the special Senate committee investigating the affair, said in a statement that the panel would not comment on witnesses or evidence being sought. But "we intend to pursue all individuals and evidence relevant to our inquiry," he said. It is not known how voluminous the president's notes are, but aides said he had recorded some material relating to the events in 1985 and 1986 in which the United States sold missiles and military spare parts to Iran.

Mr. Reagan used the notes in preparing for his 75-minute inter-

By Stuart Diamond

and Ralph Blumenthal

New York Times Service

igence officials learned more than a year ago that private arms dealers were trying illegally to ship 39 American fighter planes and vast.

amounts of other weapons to Iran but the officials did not stop the documents and participants who informed the government.

The illegal efforts were allowed to continue because the military officials hoped to gain intelligence information, including data on Iran and access to advanced Soviet tanks captured from Iraq by Iran,

The Pentagon confirmed that it was told as early as December 1985

NEW YORK - Pentagon intel-

panel, headed by former Senator John G. Tower, that is investigating Mr. Reagan's spokesman, Mar. procedures of the National Security Council

> The investigation was undertaken following disclosure of the NSC role in arms sales to Iran and diversion of some of the Iranian bels, who are known as contras.

Mr. Reagan made the decision to provide the notes at a meeting Monday morning with his chief of and his commitment to cooperate staff, Donald T. Regan, and with Vice President George Bush, offi-

The existence of the presidential notes was disclosed Sunday by The Washington Post. The newspaper said the Senate special committee was expected to seek access to the Nuns watched over ballot boxes on Monday at the election tabulation center in Manila.

Casey Quits CIA; Deputy to Replace Him

the Reagan administration was ar-

Information about the efforts - known as the Demavand project,

Israel sent rifles to the Nicaraguan rebels, an Israeli news-for Iran's highest mountain - was obtained by The New York Times

from numerous documents, many of them confidential, and interviews with 150 government offi-cials, arms dealers, intelligence sources, and others over the last fighter planes were delivered to Iran, but Iraqi military sources have said that a greater number of F-4s have been flying for Iran since last fail. The total value of the arms contracted for in the Demayand project was more than $1 billion.

No one interviewed was sure that federal special prosecutor.

ranging the official sales that are the sources and documents: now the subject of inquiries by two

Government officials

Washington Past Service

WASHINGTON - William J. Casey, the director of the Central Intelligence Agency and one of President Ronald Reagan's closest friends, resigned Monday. Mr. Casey's deputy, Robert M. Gates, will be nominated to prolace him. be nominated to replace him.

The chief White House spokesman, Marlin Fitzwater, said Mr. Reagan accepted the resignation of Mr. Casey, who is hospitalized with cancer, with "reluctance and deep regret."

Mr. Casey, 73, who had been director of the agency since 1981, resigned seven weeks after being in his first briefing as Mr. Reagan's gan's

Pentagon Said to Condone Illegal Private Sales to Iran

These disclosures emerged from • Government officials were aware of wider efforts to ship

American arms to Iran, and far larger amounts of American weapons were involved than has been previously reported. The primitals-tration has acknowledged government sales of arms to Iran of $12

Iran, in 1985 guaranteed money and offered planes to dealers trying to ship the F-4s to Iran through Turkey. Egyptian military officials said they did not know that the Major European financial institutions had extensive contacts with the arms dealers, providing bank accounts and money and, in one case, co-signing a sales con-

. John K. Singlanb, a retired army major general, helped the ad-

tration supply the Nicaraplanes were destined for Iran.

cancerous tumor was removed his brain Dec. 18 and he is still a patient at Georgetown University Hospital

Mr. Gates, 43, joined the CIA in 1966. He served in the National

Robert M. Gates is a career intelligence officer and an expert on Russia. Page 6.

Security Council under three presi-

Mr. Casey will become a counhead of Marine Corps counterintelligence in Washington, high Iranian military officials had details of Evidence suggests a measure of official efforts. The line between what was official and unofficial became blurred, and arms dealers

now assert that they were acting under the umbrella of official ap-

The United States had declared

an embargo on arms sales to Iran

after Iran seized American hos-

the private discussion.

of New York.

Casey had volunteered his resigna-Mr. Reagan offered the job to

Mr. Gates on Friday. He reportedly was Mr. Casey's choice for the ob and also was recommended by president's national security advis er, Frank C. Carlucci.

The White House sounded out one politician, former Senator Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee as a replacement. But Mr. Baker, who is still considering a presiden-tial race in 1988, rejected the over-

Mr. Casey served as Mr. Reain his first briefing as Mr. Reagan's gan's campaign manager in 1980.

The investigation by The New rine Corps counterintelligence, were aware of illegal private arms sales to Iran, in addition to the officially arranged sales that are now known as part of the Iran-

The New York Times reported

last month that two U.S. Army colonels had been implicated by army investigators in illegal efforts to sell arms to Iran for private gain

while they were on active duty in sensitive Enropean assignments.

Pentagon authorities were in-

See ARMS, Page 6

guan rebels and also served on the tages in 1979. The administration board of a New York City arms continued to support that ban pub-company that became involved in licity although it sent its first ship-

the Demayand project and whose ment of arms to Iran in August

• One intelligence consultant York Times gives further indica-the company, Austin Aerospace, cial arms shipments.

hours after he 110

Aquino Wins Wide Mandate As 80% Back New Charter

By Michael Richardson

MANILA - Philippine voters, turning out in unexpectedly heavy numbers, overwhelmingly endorsed a new constitution restoring full democracy, according to early returns Monday.

The unofficial results from the plebiscite were seen as a convincing vote of confidence in the government of President Corazon C.

Those in favor of the new charter led those against by a margin of more than 4 to 1, the National Movement for Free Elections, or

Namfrel, an authorized poll-watching body, announced. The group reported an approval margin of more than 80 percent — 5,374,617 to 1,294,656 — with 27 percent of the 86,703 precincts reporting nationwide. Analysts said the strong support for the constitution should provide an unchallengable popular mandate for Mrs. Aquino, who will have her term extended for six years, to 1992, under the charter. She took office last February after a military revolt and popular uprising removed President Ferdinand E. Marcos following disputed

But her hold on power has been

U.S. Urges Iran to Free Journalist

owner pleaded guilty to smugging 1985 and although President Ronarms to Iran. General Singlaub ald Reagan signed an order in January 1986 anthorizing further officary WASHINGTON - The United States urged Iran on Monday to release Gerald F. Seib, a Wall was detained while visiting the • Egypt, which has criticized the gave confidential information in Washington, including aides at United States for selling arms to about the Demayand project to the country with a group of foreign > Iran said 68 girls were killed in an Iragi air raid. Page 2.

reporters at the invitation of the

A State Department spokesman,

Charles Redman, said Iran was continuing to prevent Mr. Seib from leaving the country.

The Swiss Embassy, our protecting power in Iran, is protesting Mr. Seib's detention and demanding that he be released." Mr. Redtion is unwarranted."

Later Monday, Secretary of State George P. Shultz met with officials of the newspaper to discauss efforts to free Mr. Seib.

Mr. Seib, 30, the newspaper's Middle East bureau chief, was seized outside his hotel in Tehran on Saturday. He had been in Iran for 10 days as part of a group of more than 50 Western journalists. There was no information from Iran on Monday about Mr. Seib or the reasons for which he was being But the South-North News Ser-specializes in coverage of the devel- trans-Atlantic trade dispute, U.S. oping countries, said that its correspondent in Tehran had reported nere monthly land to that Mr. Seib was being held in differences on aircraft subsidies. dent in Tehran had reported solitary confinement there on charges of spying for the United hard-fought compromise was States, Israel and Iraq.

An Iranian intelligence source quoted by the news service said fied military and political informalran if he could get out of the coun-

Norman Fearlstine, the Journal's the A-340, a long-range jet.

managing editor, said Mr. Seib was

The U.S. officials were to meet "a highly respected foreign corre- Tuesday with officials in Paris bespondent and there can be no basis for his detention." We are requesting his immedi-shaken by several coup attempts, the latest last week, involving military and political elements associated with Mr. Marcos. Despite isolated acts of violence and intimidation, election officials in many parts of the country reported a record turnout of voters on Monday. Ramon Felipe, chairman of the commission on elections, said he expected final figures to show that 80 to 90 percent of the slightly more than 25 million registered voters had cast ballots.

See DETAIN, Page 6

He said official and final results would not be announced by his commission until Saturday.

Mrs. Aquino, through her spokesman, said the exceptionally heavy turnout proved the dedication of Filipinos to democracy. She said she believed that the new constitution, which will replace a provisional charter she proclaimed in March, would "usher in the political stability we all desire." Analysts said the high turnout also demonstrated renewed confidence that votes would be fairly counted without the widespread cheating that marred elections under Mr. Marcos. Leaders of a non-Communist opposition coalition campaigning against the constitution said they eccepted the outcome.

Rene Cayetano, secretary-general of the Nationalist Party, said. "We are abiding by this momen-tous expression of popular will." He added, "Let us give the people what they want - stability, democracy and progress."

The Nationalist Party is headed by Juan Ponce Enrile, a former defense minister under both Mr. Marcos and Mrs. Aquino. He led the campaign against the new constitution. In parts of northern Luzon, the main island in the Philippines, unfficial partial returns votes against the constitution leading votes in favor of it. Analysts said the area was dominated by Bocanos and was also the home of both Mr. Marcos and Mr. Early returns from Fort Bonifa-cia, one of the main military camps in Manila, also showed a majority of anti-constitution votes. Ilocanos form a substantial portion of the 160,000-man armed forces. Mr. Enrile warned that challenges to the Aquino administration from within the military would not subside until the govern-See MANILA, Page 6

Airbus Talks Open, Falter Over Subsidy

By Warren Getler

LONDON - In what could be vice, a U.S.-based organization that the opening skirmish in the next and European officials meeting bere Monday failed to bridge sharp The talks came a week after a reached on U.S. grain exports to the European Community. The two sides did agree Monday that Mr. Seib had obtained classi- to continue the aircraft talks in Geneva under the auspices of the tion that "would be very harmful to General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, at an unspecified time. Monday's talks came amid plans Mr. Seib has been based in Cairo by Europe's Airbus Industrie con-

for the Journal since January 1985. sortium to launch a new generation His wife, Barbara Rosewicz, also is of planes for the 1990s; the A-330, a Wall Street Journal reporter. a medium-range passenger jet, and fore going to Bonn on Wednesday in an effort to persuade the main governments backing the Airbus project to reduce support for the new jets. Production of those planes depends on the sponsoring governments providing more than $2.5 billion in development loans. None has yet agreed to budget the funds.

The cost of producing an Amerielectorate that all acknowledge is more Donnell Douglas Corp.'s MD-11. has been put at $700 million.

Geoffrey Pattie, a senior minister in the British Department of Trade and Industry, described as "threatening" the American com-plaints leveled Monday about European subsidization of Airbus.

And Michael B. Smith, deputy separate news conference that the talks here had been "frank, to put it diplomatically."

But another U.S. official here for See AIRBUS, Page 11

of the private efforts, which began in 1983. But various arms dealers contended in interviews that some sovernment officials knew of the project by early 1984. The private efforts continued as the sources said.

For One Soviet Citizen,

9-Year Quest to Leave

By Bill Keller

New York Times Service MOSCOW — A week after his release from the Second Moscow fita Yeysyukov's muscles still ache so bally lie cannot put on his over-coat without help. His fingers trem-ble, he has lost 25 pounds (11 kilo-grams) and he walks with evident discomfort.

His conversation is lucid and attentive, but his eyes appear burned out, a common side effect of the tranquilizer haloperidol, which Western human rights groups say is often used indiscriminately in Sovi-et mental clinics. Mr. Yevsyukov said he spent most of the last six months stopefied by daily injections of the drug.

In his nightmares, his daughter added, Mr. Yevsynkov says he hears the screaming and ranting of the 40 severely disturbed mental patients who shared his crowded ward in the clinic south of Moscow. Mr. Yevsynkov, a former airline navigator who has been trying for nine years to emigrate from the

the mental clinic a week ago, after the intervention of Andrei D. Satherov, the physicist and dissident. In an interview Saturday, he decribed his experiences in the menlal ward, and his family's four-gen-

cases were taken up by Mr. Sakha-leave the country. Mr. Koryagin, a psychiatrist senenced to 12 years in labor camps and internal exile for exposing the use of Soviet mental hospitals to punish political and religious dissiapparently in preparation for his expulsion from the country.

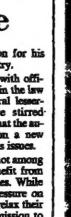

The releases, together with offi-cial promises of changes in the law and the freeing of several lesser-known dissidents, have stirred widespread speculation that the au-thorities have decided on a new approach to human rights issues.

But Mr. Yevsyukov is not among those who expect to benefit from such a change, if it comes. While there is international pressure on the Soviet authorities to relax their grip on Jews denied permission to nigrate, divided families and prisoners serving time for political or religious reasons, Mr. Yevsyukov sees little prospect for people like him - Russian citizens who simply Lipetsk region, 300 miles (485 kilo-

In the 1930s, during Stalin's forced collectivization of agriculture, Mr. Yevsyukov said, his

See SOVIET. Page 6

want to leave. Mr. Yevsyukov said his father and grandfather were peasant farmers who built up farms in the meters) southeast of Moscow. grandfather was sent to prison for

U.S. Yacht Wins Again, Is One Victory From Regaining Cup

A chase boat pulls alongside the Australian yacht Kookaburra that a bomb had been placed aboard the Australian 12-meter, III on Monday as it was losing its third straight America's Cup but a search after the race found nothing. The Australian skipper race to Stars & Stripes, by I minute, 46 seconds. A caller reported declined an offer by officials to cancel the race. Sports. Page 15.

As Election Nears, U.K. Politicians Show New Faces to Public

By Karen DeYoung Washington Post Service

LONDON - "I do hate an untidy kitchen," said Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, noting a spill on the counter. After a quick swipe with a towel, she righted her aprop and turned back to a pot of boiling red cabbage on the stove.

As a camera crew and interviewer wedged themselves into a corner of the tiny kitchen in 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's official residence, Mrs. Thatcher explained how the violet-colored cabbage liquor, when poured into a solution of sodium bicarbonate, would turn green. There was a lesson in the experiment, chemistry before entering politics: "Don't minister confessed that she suffers from

These and other bits of Mrs. Thatcher's television audiences last week on "Take for years and confide that she buys her certain to choose the moment when she Nobody's Word for It," a science program that each week features a guest. It was the latest in a recent series of appearances by the prime minister on proms having little or nothing to do with politics. The goal is to show a side of Mrs. Thatcher that even many of her supporters doubt exists - that of a caving, feminine and sometimes even funny woman. national elections. The Labor Party leader, im bicarbonate into red cabbage if nerves every time she walks into the House you don't want a disaster at the dinner of Commons. In a documentary special table."

of Commons. In a documentary special called "The Englishwoman's Wardrobe," Mrs. Thatcher took viewers into her closet underwear at Britain's top budget clothing store, Marks & Spencer.

She turned up on "Saturday Super-store," a children's pop music and call-in The prime minister is not the only political leader here who feels her image needs to be burnished a bit as Britain heads toward

On radio's "Woman's Hour," the prime Neil Kinnock, was a "Saturday Superstore" guest in December, and the Liberal Party leader, David Steel, is scheduled for Mrs. Thatcher is not required to hold a vote until July 1988, when she completes kitchen wisdom were revealed to British to boast that she wears many of her dresses the fifth year of her second term. But she is thinks her chances are best. The opening of the official three-week campaign still may be as many as 17 months away, or it could come as soon as this spring a prospect that campaign managers of all political stripes believe is much more likely.

In the meantime, Mrs. Thatcher's Conservatives, Labor and the third-ranking alliance of Liberals and Social Democrats volatile in terms of party loyalty, and more apathetic in terms of issues, than any in Public opinion polls have swung wildly

in recent months; a week ago, one gave the Conservatives an eight-point lead while another showed Labor five points ahead. None of the parties is seen as able to win a parliamentary majority at present. Voter dissatisfaction with the two principal party leaders, Mrs. Thatcher and Mr. Kinnock, far outstrips popular approval of them.

While the Conservative Party has begun See THATCHER, Page 6

dents, was reportedly transferred Saturday to a jail in his hometown of Kharkov, in the castern Ukraine,

his good Ecoly in the ALC FEBUNE

Soviet Union, was released from cration conflict with society. He is one of 14 prisoners whose rov in a personal appeal to Mikhail S. Gorbachev, the Soviet leader. Two imprisoned rights advocates on the list, Anatoli Koryagin and Sergei Khodorovich, have been told they will be freed and forced to

BEIRUT — The pro-Iranian said that it would kill foreign hostic to be holding two tages if Washington intervened. The message Monday from Isgroup believed to be holding two Americans and three Frenchmen captive, Islamic Jihad, said Monday that it would kill foreign hostages if the United States attacked Lebanon,

Two militia leaders said they believed that the Anglican church en-voy, Terry Waite, who had sought the release of captives in Lebanon and has been missing since Jan. 20, had been arrested, not kidnapped.

The archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Reverend Robert Runcie, said in London that he had asked Iran to help find Mr. Waite.

forcibly in Lebanon or elsewhere in professors, three Americans and an Indian who holds U.S. resident alien status, unless 400 guerrillas were freed from Israeli prisons within a week. The Israeli defense

Israel Supplied Rifles To Contras, Paper Says

By Jonathan C. Randal Washington Post Service
JERUSALEM — Israel sent captured Soviet-made rifles to the U.S.-backed Nicaraguan rebels, but Washington stopped the ship-ment at sea when Iran disclosed the Original arms deal in October, a leading Israeli newspaper has re-

Also Sunday, Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin repeated a denial that Israel sent weapons to the rebels, or contras, as alleged by a report of the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. He did not refer specifically to the new allegations in the daily Ma'ariv. The newspaper quoted Israeli security sources as saying that Lieu-tenant Colonel Oliver L. North, a former National Security Council side, "drove us crazy with requests to supply weapons" to the contras. North was implicated in diversion of the proceeds to finance the rebels.

Israel shipped a few hundred Soviet-made rifles in October, the disclosures soon afterward of arms Associated Press on Monday. sales to Iran, ordered that the freighter carrying the weapons be stopped en route. The ship resident is salem, the source said. turned to the Red Sea port of Eilat.

sources as suggesting that the Israe- that Israel had tried to sell arms to li government's contention that it Iran before becoming involved in

The liberal Progressive Federal

Party, opening a parliamentary de-hate on a no-confidence motion.

accused the government of keeping white voters uninformed and said the election could not be free and

The government in June imposed emergency laws, including heavy censorship, to quell black political violence and demands for Colin Egtin, leader of the Progressives, said: "The government has imposed a form of law and order in our country. But does it realize the enormity of the damage

it is doing to the very fabric of our

The warning was similar to a threat made Saturday night by another group, Islamic Jihad for the Liberation of Palestine, which said. it kidnapped four professors from Beirut University College on Jan.

The group said it would kill the ground that Israel dealt with Americans involved with Colonel North.

But the sources said Israel knew the arms were destined for the con-Ma'ariv said Colonel North first asked Israel to supply arms to the contras when Mr. Rabin visited Washington in May, during a time when the Reagan administration was banned by Congress from sending weapons to the contras, and pressed Mr. Rabin on the mat-

Mr. Rabin reportedly replied that he would not transfer any weapons to the contras, but would consider transferring captured So-viet arms to the United States, which could do as it pleased with them. Colonel North accepted that ter during another visit in Septem-the sale of arms to Iran and the Shamir and Nimrodi Meet Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir raeli arms dealer who arranged the 1985 shipments of U.S. weapons to newspaper said. However, the Rea- Iran, and asked to hear his version gan administration, faced with the of the affair, a source told The

A New York Times article Sun-The newspaper quoted the day quoted Mr. Nimrodi as saying did not transfer arms to the contras the sale of U.S. weapons.

CAPE TOWN — South Africa's white opposition party Monday opened its campaign for the May general election by charging that the government had suppressed reports of psychiatric abuse of political detainees.

Taking advantage of parliamentary privilege, which allows the media to report debates in the chamber, Mr. Eglin introduced a study involving some of the estimated 25,000 people held—at a creating party.

severe mental strain.

government opponents.

Accusing the authorities of distorting news of violence among blacks, Mr. Eglin quoted residents who said that police stood by as rightist vigilantes moved through one township last month attacking

Finance Minister Barend J. du

Plessis defended the emergency de-cree, telling Parliament: "I don't want to stand here boasting statis-fact that since these measures were tics about dead people, but it's a contested in South Africa.

introduced, fewer people have has 27 of the chamber's 178 seats

In introducing the no-confidence ty's 127. The Progressives have motion, Mr. Eglin was attempting gained support since doubts sur-lamic Jihad was sent with a black and white photograph of Terry A. Anderson, an American journalist kidnapped in West Beirut on March 16, 1985.

Islamic Jihad also is believed to be holding an American agronomist, Thomas M. Sutherland, as well as Marcel Carton and Marcel Fontaine, who are French diplomats, and Jean-Paul Kauffmann, a French journalist.

The group claims to have killed two Western hostages: a U.S. dip-lomat, William Buckley, in 1985 and a French sociologist, Michel Seurat, а усаг ago.

Islamic Jihad's threat on Monday appeared to be a response to the U.S. Navy sending warships in the Mediterranean toward Lebanon last week and sending a five-ship task force toward the main Iran-Iraq bettlefront near Basra in the northern Gulf.

In Damascus, two Lebanese militia leaders said after separate meetings with Vice President Abdel Halim Khaddam of Syria that they believed that Mr. Waite had been arrested, not kidnapped.

Neither Walid Jumblat of the Druze militia nor Nabih Berri of the Shiite Moslem Amal group said what distinction was intentween "arrest" and "kidnap."

Political analysts in Damascus said they believed an underground said they beneved an underground group in Lebanon might be holding Mr. Waite temporarily in an effort to prevent any U.S. retaliation for the kidnapping of the professors. "I believe he is arrested," Mr.

Jumblat said, adding, "but don't think he is kidnapped." Mr. Berri said: "What I know is that Waite is arrested now."

Mr. Jumblat denied reports that Mr. Waite was being held in the Bekna Valley of eastern Lebanon, summoned Jacob Nimrodi, the Is- but neither he nor Mr. Berri revealed the identity or motives of Mr. Waite's captors.

In London, Mr. Runcie's office said the archbishop had written to Hashemi Rafsanjani, speaker of the Iranian parliament, to seek help in finding Mr. Waite.

A spokeswoman would not say if a reply had been received from Mr. niani, who said on television last week that Iran would help if it could to find Mr. Waite.

White Opponents Assert Pretoria Abuses Detainees

in peace talks.

Last week, National Party lead-

On Monday, Mr. Nothnagel is-

Politicians expect the May 6 election for the all-white House of Assembly to be the bitterest ever

The Progressive Federal Party

ty's 127. The Progressives have sued a statement pledging to ad-bere to the party position. He de-nied that he had sought to terrorism and violence."

ers ordered Albert Nothnagel, a member of Parliament, to leave the Recently, a liberal National Par-challenge the party leadership, and said, "I accept that the ANC may not be included in the process of negotiation before it foreswears

ments:

Above, Terry Waite, left, with the Druze leader Walid Jumblat a few days before Mr. Waite disappeared.
Right, the photograph of a kidnapped American journalist, Terry A. Anderson, delivered with Islamic Jihad's warning Monday. Below, Hashemi Rafsanjani, speaker of Iran's parliament.

68 Girls Died In Iraqi Raid On a School, Iran Reports

BAHRAIN — Iran said Monday that 68 girls were killed at school in an Iraqi air raid, as both sides continued assaults on towns and cities. Baghdad reported more fighting on the southern front, where an Iranian drive on Basra, Irag's secand largest city, is in its fourth week. Iraq said its jets hit targets in the central Iranian city of Isfahan and in Rezaiyeh in northwestern Iran. Iran said its planes attacked military and economic targets in Al-Amarah, 100 miles (160 kilometers) north of Basra. Al-Amarah is on the main road between Basra and Diplomats in the region say that the Iranian objective might be to cut this road, Iraq's major military route to the south. Tehran Radio said the 68 girls were killed in Iraqi air raids on two schools Sunday in the city of Mianeh, 250 miles northwest of Tehran

The radio said 150 other people were injured in the raid, but gave no details. Mianch was one of at least sever towns hit in Iraqi raids Sunday.

Iran's national news agency said scores of people were killed or wounded those raids. Iran has reported at least 2,000 civilians killed and 7,000 injured in Iraqi air and missile attacks since Jan. 9, when Iran launched its latest offensive on the southern front. Baghdad, which has been hit by seven surface-to-surface missiles in that time, puts Iraq's casualty toll at hundreds.

Hungary Sets Up Rival to Official Writers' Group

BUDAPEST -- Hungary has authorized the formation of a new writers' association, apparently be-cause of an ideological dispute with the official Writers Union.

The state press agency MTI an-nounced Monday the creation of the new "basic organization of writers, poets and translators."

It said that 111 members have joined the organization, which it said was "open to all writers, poets and translators who accept the aims of the Hungarian trade union Creation of the association is the latest step in a dispute between the Communist Party and the 400 members of the Writers Union that came into the open in November after the union elected a leadership The minister of culture, Bela

Koepeczi, said Saturday in the party newspaper Nepszabadsag that the Writers Union no longer officially represented the literary sec-

Union members, voting by secret ballot in November for the first time, elected a board of 71 members that has been openly critical of The board then appointed a president, general secretary and other officials who are in bad standing with the party.

Mr. Koepeczi said Saturday that about 30 writers have left the union to show opposition to its leader-

WORLD BRIEFS

Pakistan Shelling of India Reported

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Indian Army has evacuated 20,000 to 25,000 residents from 100 border villages in Kashmir State after Pakistani troops shelled parts of the area over the weekend, according to reports

A local journalist in Jammu, summer capital of the state, said there. have been four incidents of firing across the border over the weekend. The journalist was reached by telephone Monday and said he had seen Indian tanks taking position on the border and the evacuation of

He said he toured the border and spoke to military officials who outlined the scope of the evacuation. A spokesman for the Indian Defense Ministry in New Delhi said he was unable to comment on the reports of firing or evacuation. A Pakistani diplomat, who requested anonymity, said, "It is normal to have a few shots fired on the border."

China Warns Against Stifling Dissent

BEIJING (NYT) — The Chinese government moved forcefully Monday to limit the campaign against intellectual dissent, in a sharply worded front-page editorial in the official Communist Party paper, the People's Daily, as well as other major papers.

Apparently fearing that the campaign to silence critics of the party is being carried too far in some areas, the editorial stressed that only party members should be affected. In a reference to the upheavals of the members should be affected. In a reference to the upheavals of the Cultural Revolution, which ended in 1976, the editorial said that no political movement was to be begun and that suppression of criticism was

Many of the editorial's themes were laid out in a speech last week by Prime Minister Zhao Ziyang. The editorial's length and prominence suggested that the attacks on divergent views in many parts of China might be interfering with the new economic order.

Sakharov Invited to Soviet Forum

MOSCOW (WP) — Andrei D. Sakharov has been invited to participate in an officially sponsored forum on nuclear issues this month in Moscow, a spokesman for the organizing committee said Monday. The spokesman said Mr. Sakharov would respond Tuesday and was expected to accept. The dissident scientist said Monday that he had not yet received the invitation and could not give an answer until he knew more about if

Mr. Sakharov returned to Moscow in December after almost seven years in internal exile in Gorky.

China Said to Reject Cambodia Talks

Norodom Sihanouk said Monday that China and the Khmer Rouge had rejected proposed direct talks between him and Heng Samin, leader of Cambodia's Vietnambacked government.
Mr. Sihanouk said here that he welcomed the idea of the talks, which would have been the first direct talks between Cambodia's warring factions, but could not act without agreement of his coalition

He said their opposition had dimmed his hopes for solution of the eight-year war in Cambodia, and he added that he felt that political initiatives were needed to back Prince Norodom Sihanouk growing military strength.

BBC Protests a Raid on Its Offices

LONDON (AP) - The British Broadcasting Corp. on Monday protested a police raid at its Scottish offices, and opposition legislators accused Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's government of trying to. intimidate journalists.

The Conservative government denied it sought the search warrants for

The Conservative government denied it sought the search warrants for the seizure over the weekend of film and documents relating to a coming TV series, "Secret Society." The series included a segment on Zircon, Britain's first spy satellite. The BBC withdraw the segment after the government said it endangered national security.

Parliament scheduled for Tuesday an emergency debate on the action against the BBC. The BBC chairman, Marmachke Hussey, made the complaint in a letter to the two cabinet ministers responsible for the police and for Scotland. He complained about the scope of the raid, in which police removed two vanloads of material covering the entire sixpart series.

Spain Flies Police to Morocco Enclave

MELILIA, Spain (Reuters) — Spain flew extra riot police to its enclave of Melilla in Morocco following disturbances in which more than 40 people were injured and several Moslem leaders detained, officials

The weekend rioting was the worst since residents of Moroccan origin, who technically are illegal aliens, began demanding Spanish citizenship more than a year ago. The violence was also linked to Spain's refusal last mouth of a Spanish-Moroccan commission to study the future of Melilla and its sister enclave, Ceuta.

For the Record

The Soviet foreign Minister, Eduard A. Shevardmatze, conferred Monday with the East German leader, Erich Honecker, and Foreign Minister Oskar Fischer after arriving in East Berlin for a two-day visit. (UPI)

French Journalists Feel Government's Grip on the Broadcast Media Tightening Again

By Julian Nundy

al Herald Trib PARIS - The role of the French state in the media, a recurring controversy, has come back into focus as journalists accuse the government of trying to strengthen its control particularly in television.

Ironically, the issue has arisen as

The flavour of an island

ed har

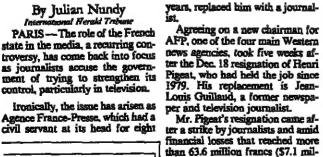

BELL WAR

ACCORDS WHOSE

STINGLE MAILT SCOTCH WHISKY

in a single malt

ion) in 1985.

But he could take comfort in the fact that, politically, he had survived three different governments - a rare achievement in France's

Appointed under President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, Mr. Pigeat remained as head of AFP during remained as head of Arr ourng the five years of Socialist government that ended with parliamentary elections in March. He then held on to his post under the new conservative government of Prime Minister Jacques Chirac. While AFP is not officially stateowned, the government has a ma-jority financial stake in the agency.

As Mr. Pigeat held the reins at AFP, many of his colleagues in other branches of the media came and went at the behest of politi-One of them was Mr. Guillaud.

In 1981, when the Socialist Party won both presidential and parlia-

Send detailed resume

DEGREE SACHELORS . MASTER'S . DOCTORATE

PACIFIC WESTERN UNIVERSITY 600 N. Sepulveda Bivd., Los Angeles, California 90049, Dept. 23, U.S.A.

Jean-Louis Guillaud

mentary elections, Mr. Guillaud was removed as head of TF1, one of France's three state-owned television channels by Prime Minister

Pierre Mauroy. Such changes are not limited to the presidents of media organiza-

Jean-Pierre Elkabbach, one of France's best-known broadcasters, was another victim of 1981, leaving his post as editor of the news service of Antenne-2, another stateowned television channel.

Now, with a rightist government back in power, Mr. Elkabbach has been promoted from head of news to chief of programming at Europe l, a commercial radio station in which the state has a substantial were named at Antenne-2 and FR3, the third state network. The two brought new bosses for their TF1, which is due for denationalization this year under the Chirac government's privatization program, has been left alone.

At the end of 1986, new heads

police brigadier who crushed a black rebellion in Soweto in 1976, said Monday he would decide by Saturday if he would run for office compared with the National Par- as a member of the rightist Conservative Party. A black policeman was stoned, and Pretoria's ambassador to London, Denis Worrall, left his post and indicated he might also seek

In addition, prominent National

There were these other develop-

Theurs Swanepoel, a retired

office as an independent.

journalists protested by staging a limited one-day strike recently over what they perceived as a lack of

At Antenne-2, the news programs have the highest ratings of any in France, a factor that in most countries would guarantee the con-

timed employment of its journalists. But it is there that many observers of the French media expect

Among the journalists considered the most vulnerable at the channel is Claude Sérillon. Political sources say that it is Mr. Chirac's

Mr. Sérillon presented the main evening news bulletin on Saturday,

Dec. 6, the day a student died after being beaten by police. Allegations against the police were supported place. The program reportedly anous in several weeks of social up-beaval and strikes that afflicted the

If Mr. Scrillon is forced to leave, to Elie Vannier, recruited from Radio Lixembourg to be the new head of the Antenne-2's news ser-tion would be to purge the staff.

year stood at $33 million.

gered the government.

entourage that wants him to go.

the most spectacular changes.

to capitalize on dissension with the ruling party.

I ast week National Party lead
Botha's commitment to ease segre Bureau for information said Constable L.S. Kondlo was off duty when he was attacked at Guanletiz party or retract calls to involve the ty parliamentarian resigned to run near Cape Town. Thirteen black banned African National Congress for Parliament as an independent men were detained for questioning • Prime Minister Brian Mulroney of Canada said Sunday that his country was alose to ending diplomatic and economic ties with South Africa, Agence France-Presse reported from Senegal. Ending a weeklong African tour, he said at a news conference that violence would increase in South Africa if new economic sanction were not imposed on the country's white minority government.

He said Canada would take new measures, which he did not detail, if there was no progress in the near Press International that had earlier

duce losses, the agency announced layoffs and a transfer of some of its foreign-language services from France to other parts of the world, prompting two journalists' strikes. When Mr. Guilland's candidacy for the post was finally announced

it was done so by Mr. Chirac him-self. Several heads of regional

In a restructuring effort to reserved AFP.

non-U.S. photo network of United to six on Jan. 22. The government's influence over the media extends to radio. Apart from state-owned Radio France, a number of commercial stations serve Paris and the provinces.

A publicly owned company, So-firad, is the principal shareholder in several of these stations, including Radio Monte Carlo, which al-though it operates mainly from was set up under Monaco newspaper chains, represented on the AFP board of directors, object-The station, while prominent in ed that the obvious blessing of the France, has a respected Arab-lan- state to influence broadcasting, prime minister would compromise guage service that broadcasts to the journalists at radio and television

photo service. In 1985, the London-based Reuters agency took over the was finally elected by seven votes tial voice in the Arab world.

hold allegiances to political parties, the state has no direct role in news-own radio experience began in London during World War II when he talked to his comparious under

While many French newspapers

nance operations or content. AFP. owever, is heavily subsidized by The French state's involvement in broadcasting can be dated to President Charles de Ganlle, whose Nazi occupation over the British Broadcasting Corp. To head off new moves by the journalists' societies" independent of the trade unions to protect But, with a new round of elections little more than a year away and with Mr. Chirac expected to challenge the Socialist president. François Mitterrand, for the Elysee Palace, many expect the battle to be tough.

Mr. Elkabbach, of Europe 1, has warned against "butchery."
"If there is no dialogue," he said, "if decisions are taken haphazardly, as is happening, if sacrifices are offered up to those who demand could draw criticism or interpretation of a shift in U.S. policy away from criticizing rights violations in countries ruled by rightist authori-

Mr. Wallach also said the United States planned to try to draw new attention to the plight of minorities in Romania and Bulgaria, as well as the continuing problem of rights violations in Afghanistan.

tarian regimes.

U.S. to Target 3 Leftist Nations on Rights Issues

By Thomas Netter

in the program by witnesses who said they had seen the beating take GENEVA - The United States The incident was the most serisaid Monday that it intended to take a more aggressive stance against rights violations in Cuba, Romania and Bulgaria, placing them in the "glare of public view" Chirac government until mid-Januat the UN Commission on Human Rights that opened its annual sixthe task of dismissing him will fall week session here.

In what appears to mark an attempt to project a higher public profile than usual at the 43-nation According to French press resession, the new U.S. ambassador, ports, at least three other well-E. Robert Wallach, said he hoped known journalists turned down the to bring prominent witner iob, fearing that their first obligasuch as recently freed Soviet dissidents, to testify on human rights. At AFP, several possible candi-Mr. Wallach also said he would dates also refused to be considered question Soviet delegates on recent for the chairman's job, mainly be-Soviet human rights activities, incause turning the agency's finances chiding the release of Andrei D. around will be a gargantuan task.

According to AFP, the agency's Sakharov and other dissidents from internal exile or imprisonment.

ntstanding debt by the end of last "Human rights has finally come Much of increase in this debt is of age in a most ironic way," Mr. ascribed to the enormous cost of Wallach said at a news conference. setting up and running a foreign "The Soviets have acknowledged States will remain as interested in human rights in the Soviet Union as it has been in the past." U.S. officials have provided a number of indications of a new higher profile, including plans for Vernon E. Walters, the chief U.S.

delegate to the United Nations in

New York, to appear before the nission later this month to formally inaugurate the U.S. initiative against Cuba.

"The U.S. delegation will try to make the human rights commission a commission of accomplishments," Mr. Wallach said. Washington, he added, planned to introduce a "temperate, but not mild" resolution making Cube a separate agenda item to focus debate on its human rights record. The UN commission meets here annually to discuss homan rights violations, review human rights developments worldwide, and pass resolutions calling for change and that human rights are a fundamental right, and we welcome that."

"But," he added, "the United icized, it is nevertheless regarded as a premier world forum for discussions in the criticizing on Human Rights. Often criticized in move consideration of rights violations in Chile from a separate agenticized, it is nevertheless regarded as a item to a more general category, while harshly criticizing Cuba, sions on human rights. Although some Western dele> against Cuba, several voiced concern that an outright attack could further politicize the often stormy debates here. One Western delegate said that during a preliminary U.S.-Cuban gates said privately that they welcomed the American initiative confrontation over human rights at the UN General Assembly in New York last year, Havana responded to reports of a new initiative by circulating counter-resolutions on U.S. persecution of Puerto Ricans, blacks and American indians.

Mr. Wellach acknowledged that he expected the recent killing of a black man in New York's Howard Beach section, and anti-black demonstrations in Georgie, to come up during the course of the debates. compliance with the UN Charter

Nevertheless, Mr. Wallach appears undaunted. He has already held several briefings for Western journalists, and arrived with a press spokesman, unlike his predecessor, Richard D. Schifter, an undersecretary of state for human rights af-

Mr. Wallach has already proworked some controversy by insist-ing that his name be spelled without capital letters on all formal At the same time, he also acdocuments, and daily wearing a knowledged that a U.S. attempt to yellow rose in his lapel.

صكرًا من الأصل

ted to Soviet Form

tejert (ambodia)

1 < 10g / Raid on h Office

ame ben bangenen fich

 $L_{(\mathcal{S}^{k_{p,1},k_{p}})} = 1 \quad \text{ is } \quad \mathcal{S}^{k_{p,1},k_{p}}$

In New York City, a Would-Be Crazy Turns Out to Be a Parking Garage Visionary By William E. Geist

people who sometimes seem totally crazy so often are in New York City. It is a compassionate city in that way.

Mr. Proasky had the idea of trying to sell percels of cement in Brooklyn's Park Slope section for thousands of dollars. They are spaces in a parking garage, which Mr. Pronsky is marketing as the city's first "car condomini-

The 40-year-old developer said people had called him crazy — and a lot worse — but then a strange thing happened: People began buying the spaces. Some of the people do not own cars, purchasing the spaces as investment properties, albeit very small ones.

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — Howard Property tax fee of $147, and an optional $45 fee for transportation to and from the garage.

To feet (2.3 meters) by 16.5 feet; a monthly maintenance and the $45 himself was selling the neighborhood's first condominium, in 1977 for $23,000.

They York Times Service

And property tax fee of $147, and an optional $45 fee for transportation the garage.

That comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

That comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

That comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

That comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

That comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

That comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

The comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

The comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

The comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

The comes to about $409 a month "he said "which "It blows people's minds."

Mr. Pronsky walks prospects over to his six-floor, 145spot parking garage — steam cleaned, de-greased and freshly painted inside and out with decorative murals and designs - at Union Street and Seventh Avenue, where he shows them a selection of spaces on various floors, with various views, in various proximity to the elevators.

A parking spot owner recalled this scene of a comple who were considering buying: "Oh, this is nice," said a woman looking down at a space between two freshly painted yellow lines. "Don't you think this is nice, Harry?" she asked a male companion, who stared silently at

"That comes to about $409 a month," he said, "which was more than the rent on my apartment before I moved to New York, plus the $12,000 down. I often think it's nuts to be working to support a parking space. But I was convinced that thieves and alternate side of the street parking and parking tickets would do me in."

Buyers ask Mr. Prousky if they may decorate their spaces, sleep in their cars or hold parties there. They may not. It is against condominium bylaws. Nor may they keep motorcycles or boats or trucks there. These and other issues will no doubt be subject to debate at condominium board meetings.

Even more, they are paying from $30,000 to $34,000 for the spaces, depending on the size — the average is about half of the spots are sold. One buyer said he put to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said a local resident passing by, referring to car condominiums. "Disgusting," said another. "This is

"It blows people's minds," Mr. Pronsky said. "For the

"These people are very shortsighted," he said of his detractors. "As Will Rogers once said: They aren't makmg any more parking spaces' - or words to that effect." house.

"Some buyers," he said, "say their friends laugh at them for paying so much, but I don't think it's so much. These spaces will be worth $100,000 someday, someday soon."

The first spots were sold to renters in the garage last number for $25,000, then the price went to $29,000, and this month Mr. Prousky raised the prices to $30,000 to

"Garage owners in Manhattan are calling me about this parking place.

Not only are they not making any more parking spaces price of a house they are getting a piece of concrete the size in Park Slope, several garages there have been converted into apartments. Mr. Pronsky recently bought a second home because it was one of the rare ones in the neighborhood with a garage. He uses the garage and rents out the > Residents of Park Slope say the parking situation there worsens as more people move into the neighborhood.

> They say that after 6 P.M. it can take more than an hour to find a space.

> "After 10," said one owner, "forget it." The car-condo owners say one of their favorite sights is watching other cars go round and round in search of a

Suriname Insurrection Adds to Economic Ills

Tribesmen Seek to Oust Military Ruler

By Bradley Graham

Washington Post Service MOENGO, Surmane — In the most dramatic moment of a guernila war that has lasted more than six months, rebels took control of Moengo, Suriname's main mining center, for more than a week late last year before the army swept them back into the rain forest.

The insurrection pits a disaffect-ed former soldier, Ronny Brenswijk, and a group of jungle tribesmen against the unpopular forces of the self-proclaimed leftist revohitionary, Desi Bouterse, who is Suriname's military ruler.

me's government since the coup that brought Commander Bouterse

the remote village of Moengo remains shut, choking Suriname's Commander Bouterse estimated primary source of foreign ex-direct war damage to the economy change. In his quest for interna- at 95 million Surinamese guilders, tional assistance, Commander or about $53 million at the official Bouterse has found little sympathy.

Dutch of turning the world against them. The Netherlands, the former colonial power in this small com-try on the northeast shoulder of South America, cut off develop- than 70 percent of Suriname's for-ment aid four years ago.

More recently, Dutch officials publicized evidence of indiscriminate killing by army soldiers in the capital, Paramaribo, and in eastern villages. Last month Commander Bouterse asked the Dutch ambessador to leave. The United States and France had offered him a haven and "severai million dollars" to abandon Suriname. But he said he had no intention of doing so.

Commander Bouterse, who rose from sergeant to lieutenant colonel after taking power in 1980, and now prefers the title of commander, is promising democratic elections by early next year.

Many Surmanese are skeptical, recalling unfulfilled past pledges. A new constitution, due in draft form in March, is expected to preserve a dominant role for the armed forces. Commander Bouterse said that, at the urging of supporters, b- was "seriously considering" running for The 1980 coup displaced the civilian democratic government that assumed control upon Surmame's independence in 1975. Hopes for an early return to democracy were undermined in December 1982 when 15 prominent opposition fig-ures were killed without trial.

Now Maroon tribesmen, descended from slaves who fled Por-tuguese and Dutch plantation owners centuries ago, have rallied behind Mr. Brunswijk, a 24-year-old former sergeam, in seeking to force Commander Bouterse out.

The rebellion appears to present ationary, Desi Bouterse, who is utile military threat, but diplomats and local people say it promotes.

The guerrilla war has posed the political turnoil and further darkmost disruptive threat to Surina- ens Suriname's prospects for economic recovery.

Guerrilla activity has caused to power in 1980. thousands of villagers to flee to Paramaribo and neighboring French Guiana. In December, exchange rate.

The bauxite mine at Mocago,

His government has been accused often of human rights abuses.

Sumnamese officials accuse the burgh-based Aluminum Co. of America, has been idle since Nov. 20, when gnerrillas seized Moengo.

Commander Bouterse, 41, said 600, experts on Suriname's varied the prison system, officials say.

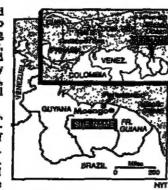

In an interview that some foreign and disunited Maroon class say Governor Bob Martinez call many in the tribal population of roughly 50,000 support the revolt.

Since independence, Marcon tribal elders have vainly sought reaffirmation of regional autonomy that the Dutch allowed for more than 200 years. After the 1980 coup, Commander Bouterse set up local "people's committees" as par-allel structures to villagers' traditional political units.

The Maroons also blame Colonel Bouterse for the economic hardships that resulted when the Dutch cut off aid following the 1982 killings.

It is unclear what kind of government Mr. Brunswijk would install. In interviews, he has spoken generally in favor of free elections and most as much attention in political races as do taxes, parking space shortages and burglaries. The candidates, for the most part, wish that Refore allowing the Moengo operation to reopen, the government wants to secure the site against We have to sit and wait until the military tells us it's O.K." said Wally Kowsolcea, spokesman for Suralco, the Alcoa subsidiary. Mr. Brusswilk the said location of the state of the said location o estimated to number fewer than quickly to relieve overcrowding in Governor Bob Martinez called week to consider an emergency appropriation of $34.3 million for the corrections system.

Desi Bouterse

A state law, enacted after settlement of a federal lawsuit charging that Florida's overcrowded prisons constituted cruel and unusual punishment, requires the release of prisoners if the system reaches 99 percent of capacity. On Friday, there were 32,544 inmates, 106 short of the limit.

including 15 convicted of sex of- overcrowded conditions.

fenses against children, 30 inmates TALLAHASSEE, Florida — convicted of offenses involving
The state will probably have to firearms and 153 inmates convicted have warned Commander Bouterse

Mr. Brunswijk, the rebel leader, not to seek aid from Libya, which is suspected of trying to establish a about 12 miles (19 kilometers) east of Moengo. While his forces are cells unless something is done

TALLAHASSEE, Florida — convicted of offenses involving firearms and 153 inmates convicted of offenses involving the sale of dangerous drugs."

Those prisoners would ordinarily be eligible for release this month. but Mr. Martinez said he opposed early release, even if it was only one

The state's booming population is cited as a key factor in straining the capacity of the corrections system, along with tougher sentencing and a reluctance to spend money

Hundreds of inmates are living in olive drab tents at many of the state's 32 prisons.

Other states have found them-Mr. Martinez warned that this selves in a similar predicament. A could mean the release of more federal judge held Texas in conthan 200 prisoners "within a matter tempt of court last month for failof weeks, if not days."

He said they would include "22 ments the court had ordered immates convicted of murder, 32 Several states, particularly in the inmates convicted of sex offenses, South, are under court order to ease

In Palm Beach, It's Russian Nobility Opposing French Royalty for Mayor

cestors were."

By Nick Madigan New York Times Service

PALM BEACH, Florida - No one can say it is not an even match.

Both candidates running for mayor of Palm Beach were born in England. Both speak French flu-ently. Both have noble beritages stretching back centuries.

In Palm Beach, such credentials

nean someunng. Yvelyne de Marcellus Marix, the two-term incumbent, is related to both Charlemagne, the ninth-cen-tary emperor of Western Europe, and Louis IX, who assumed the French throne in 1226,

The challenger in Tuesday's election, Paul Romanoff Ilyinsky, is the son of Grand Duke Dmitri of Russia and a direct descendant of

by her friends, said: "I once sug-gested, jokingly, that we should see all the battles my ancestors won, and see all the battles his ancestors won, and let the public decide who's best. He was furious, because I think my ancestors won more than his did."

In Palm Beach, where social standing and heredity are para-mount, such concerns receive al-

"There are issues, you know." land communities in Palm Beach said Mr. Ilyinsky, 59, a six-year County, such as West Palm Beach town councilman. "The only thing that's not an issue is who Charle-"We are in the fastest-growing choicest plum," said Mr. Ilyinsky,

'I once suggested, jokingly, that we should see all the battles my ancestors won, and see all the battles his Mrs. Marix, who was the first woman elected both to the council ancestors won, and let the public

-Yvelyne Marix, Mayor of Palm Beach

paign.
Until a few days ago the race had been conducted in the traditional fashion—that is, gentle persuasion over cocktails, leaving the arm twisting to loyal friends.

But as election day draws near, both Mrs. Marix, 61, and Mr. Byinsky have gone on the offen-sive, even though both acknowledge that they agree on most issues.

"The gloves are off," said Mr. Ilyinsky. "I don't care if it rebounds or not Every once in a while you've got to have the courage of your convictions." Mr. Ilyinsky's premise is that Palm Beach, a 12-mile (20-kilometer) peninsula reachable by bridge

magne was and who anybody's an- county in the U.S. and we are its Mr. llyinsky and Mrs. Marix are who was taking telephone calls old friends, but their friendship from constituents the other day aboard his 72-foot (22-meter) "Palm Beach can no longer have a mayor who floats above us like a Michelangelo," he said. "We can't sit over here and smirk at West Palm Beach. We're victims of our own success. If we don't start talking to elected officials in other towns, we're going to be in a lot of trouble."

and the mayor's post, shares her den of county taxes on town residents, but criticizes Mr. Ilyinsky's sometimes acerbic language and his irreverent humor.

"I believe one must be in control and always keep one's cool," said Mrs. Marix. "I have a terrific sense of humor, but where town business is concerned it's no time to make light of it."

Tuesday's election will also decide three of the council's five seats. But it is the race for mayor, an unsalaried, two-year post, that continues to hold everyone's attention. Mrs. Marix won re-election two years ago by a landslide over Jesse Newman, president of the Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Marix's husband, Nigel, is a former Royal Air Force pilot who fought in the Battle of Britain. The couple owned a travel agency in Palm Beach for 35 years. She is fond of saying that when Mr. Byinsky was first elected to the town council in 1980, he squeaked or boat, can no longer afford to in by seven votes. Since then, he has isolate itself from the other main-had little trouble getting re-elected.

We've captured the flair of Rodeo Drive.

A Mox Bouil Hotel

THE BEVERLY RODEO HOTEL

Sharp, precisive r-sterile surgical blades from Shanghai, China.

These surgical blades are tightly sealed under sterilization. They come in 100 pieces per box and are very convenient to

Our corporation also export various medical instruments and supplies. Business inquiries from world economic and trading circles are most welcome.

China National Medicines & Health Products Imp. & Exp. Corp., Shanghai Branch. 27 Zhongshan Road (E1), Shanghai, China Cable: "MEHECOS" Shanghai

. Telex: 33556 MHIEC CN

Donald Lowitz, U.S. Disarmament Delegate, Dies

57, the U.S. representative at the other U.S. government posts, both in Chicago and Washington. ment died here Saturday, apparently of a heart attack. His death occurred on the eve of the resumption of talks by the 40 nations of the conference, which meets at United Nations headquar-primarily on a U.S. draft treaty for banning the production, storage and use of chemicals weapons. The Geneva talks on chemical weapons have made steady pro-other nations. The disarguament conference is separate from the U.S.-Soviet ne- as part of a treaty with Iraq. Mns-gotiations here on nuclear and tafa Barzani died in 1979.

space weapons. Mr. Lowitz was born and edu. Alessandro Blasetti, 86, cated in Chicago, receiving his legal Italian Movie Director degrees from Northwestern. He worked as an assistant U.S. attor-

Donald S. Lowitz

GENEVA — Donald S. Lowitz, nois from 1954 to 1959 and held Representative in Kurdish Rebel Leader TEHRAN (Reuters) - Idris Barzani, 44, a Kurdish guerrilla leader opposed to the Iraqi govern-ment of President Saddam Hus-sein, died Sunday of heart failure, Mr. Lowitz, a Chicago attorney, had headed the U.S. delegation to the conference since 1984, focusing ed.

Mr. Barzani, with his brother Massoud, led the Kurdish Democratic Party in a rebellion demanding autonomy (or Iraq's 2.5 million gress during Mr. Lowitz's tenure.

Over the past three weeks he had been involved in intensive negotiation, and their father, Mustafa Barzani, led the insurgency against the tions with the Soviet Union and Baghdad government from the 1930s until 1975, when the Iranian government withdrew its support

ROME (Reuters) --- Alessandro Blasetti, 86, an Italian film director who made his name with a series of historical films in the 1930s and 1940s, died Sunday. He had a circulatory illness for several years.

Mr. Blasetti, who began making movies in 1928 after working as a journalist and film critic, rose to prominence with the 1934 movie 1860," a view of Garibaldi's conquest of Sicily seen through the eyes of two peasants. In 1934, his "Vecchia Guardia," ("Old Guard") put him at odds with Mussolini's

Representative in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Representative Sala Burton, 61, Demobeing elected on her own, died here vote in 1976, died in 1983 at 56.

election in June 1983, outdistance ing 10 other candidates. Her hus-band, Phillip Burton, a liberal crat of California, who succeeded band, Phillip Burton, a liberal her late husband, Representative strategist who missed being elected Phillip Burton, in Congress before House Democratic leader by one

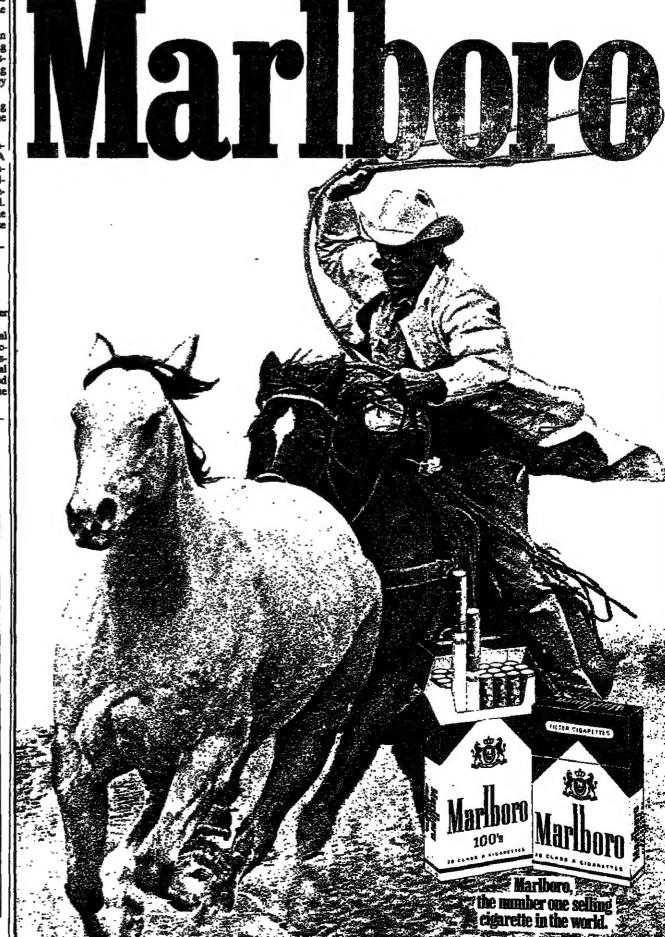

> In London the utmost in luxury is waiting at Hyde Park Corner.

HOTEL INTER • CONTINENTAL LONDON

THE ADVANTAGE IS INTER-CONTINENTAL

• INTER-CONTINENTAL HOTELS

Herald Tribune.

Communism at Issue

20th century's two greatest experiments in much of his energy just trying to rouse a government are consumed by inward struggle. Soviet and Chinese leaders decided that their nations could not move forward without moving in some ways toward the capitalist economies rejected by their revolutions and without embracing some elements of freedom. But how much and what sort of movement can their Communist systems take without revolution or reaction?

The Soviet system that Mikhail Gorbachev hopes to reform has been around almost twice as long as the Chinese brand. Stalin implanted it more brutally and firmly than did the Chinese, who worried over their grafted version almost from the start. Also, China has a tradition of activism among students and other elites.

Russian-style dissent seems more individual. The experience of the rehabilitated Deng Xiaoping and others in the Cultural Revolution taught them firsthand the evils of arbitrary authority. Russians with such memories have not made it back to power. Mr. Deng began his reforms in 1978. The centrality of agriculture in China gave him a natural starting point. Dramatic success in that sector launched him well into reform - and its attendant problems. When economic movement began to jar the system. talk turned to reforming the bureaucracy. When this debate went public, the reformers soured to grander goals - free speech, a free press, more open elections. Then, last month, the students took to the streets, and

Mr. Deng cracked down. Mr. Gorbachev, meanwhile, has been in

It is a spectacle of rare proportions. The office less than two years and has spent torpid society to the severity of Soviet prob-lems. His forays against the KGB and now against sluggishness in the party itself demonstrate the extremes to which he feels it necessary to go to ignite reforms.

The reform impetus in both cases comes almost exclusively from the top. Workers cherish security, managers the simplicity of the old controls, bureaucrais and party members their power. Can reforms prevai against these entrenched groups, or without them? For now, Mr. Gorbachev finds allies among intellectuals. Mr. Deng did, too. until they leaped ahead of him. His response and that of Zhao Ziyang, the new party leader, is to try the path of reforms with limited purges of radicals.

At the age of 82, Mr. Deng nears the end of his rule, and experts ask whether reforms can outlast him. Mr. Gorbachev at 56 has barely begun. He seems to have all of Mr. Deng's energy and vision, but perhaps not his guile. And perhaps Russian society will prove more resistant to change than China's. Certainly its multi-ethnic nature makes decentralization look even riskier.

Mr. Deng, confronted by demands for more freedoms more quickly, has just pulled back. Mr. Gorbachev, confronted by inertia, pushes boldly forward. The general loosening of controls that each has chosen elicits sympathy in the West. Beyond that, outsiders can do little to influence these remarkable endeavors which, win or lose, will do so much to shape the world.

- THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Now Filipinos Decide

For the benefit of the producers of inscribed T-shirts and coffee mugs and comparable message-bearing wares, someone a while back revised the famous saying to read: "When the going gets tough, the tough go shopping." No one has done more to give life to this revised maxim over the years than Imelda Marcos, wife of the deposed Philippine president, Ferdinand Marcos. Last week it became plain that she is still working at it, when news of her forzy into the unaccustomed world of army surplus became known. Was Mrs. Marcos making her $2,000 worth of purchases to suit up an I-shall-return landing force plan-ning to recapture the Philippines for her husband? Or was she, as Mr. Marcos said, merely seeking to outfit their Hawaii-based security guard properly? We don't know. Before we could settle down to address the question seriously, our attention was distracted by the ineffable spectacle of a barechested Mr. Marcos punching and kicking and otherwise cavorting in his gym clothes in a televised videotape apparently meant to reassure his supporters that he is lit as a fiddle and ready (no one has doubted that he was willing) to reassume the burdens of

The trouble with all this, of course, is that it is half-pitiful, half-comic, so that you that the true Philippines lies elsewhere. Evidently the tion is accepted, then Cory Aquino, al-Marcoses have been stirring around in the though still facing enormous threats and military politics that produced bursts of insurgency in the armed forces last week, although certainly the far more consequential instigators of insurgency and the far more serious threats to Corazon Aquino's is hardly an accident that the attempted hold on office are in Manila.

From the day she took office as a result of a turnult of events that were neither quite properly an election nor a revolution although both are cited as the basis of her claim to office - Mrs. Aquino has been under assault: by the Communist insurg cy, by the Moslem insurgency, by the Mar-cos remnant and by the faction of her former defense minister Juan Ponce Enrile, who quite clearly believed that she would stand aside for him after a period of figurehead leadership had passed. To date Mrs. Aquino has surprised everyone, most notably Mr. Enrile, who was unable, while defense minister, to push her out of office.

But it is hard to think of any leader of a country more pressed and endangered from more quarters than Mrs. Aquino is today. To a very considerable extent her survival so far has been a result of her strong will and political intuition and, no less important, her ability to hold the loyalty of the key professional soldier in the Philippines. General Fidel V. Ramos.

One reason she has been in such great peril is that, in large part as a result of her own early choices, she has been operating in a kind of institutional free float. She abolished the old constitution and the old legislature and cleaned out local offices much too sweepingly after her ascent to power, and so she has been without any but the most intangible mandate for the past year.

Filipinos are now voting on the new constitution proposed by a commission she set up. There may be much violence, or the vote still in charge of a country with murderous problems, will have taken a step toward legitimacy that will bolster her claim on office and undergird her popular support. It overthrow, comic opera-style or not, came on the eve of this voting. In that sense the insurgency was very serious: Everyone knows that the voting could change the odds in Mrs. Aquino's favor.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

A Korean Way Forward

South Korean government does not deserve much benefit of doubt. But Mr. Chun has cause now to be more reasonable. He desperately seeks success for the Olympics next year and the legitimacy the games will confer. This gives the democratic opposition real leverage. There could be an opportunity here for opposition leaders to find an accommodation, to establish democracy without a mutually destructive showdown.

The obstacles loom large. Compromise is not prominent in the Korean political tradition; a winner-take-all attitude seems inprivately profess flexibility. Public flexibility is constrained on the right by the military and on the left by the students. To suggest compromise is to risk loss of power, as one opposition leader has discovered. Trust remains the critical missing ingredient.

Recently the atmosphere has become even more difficult because of the death. under police torture, of a young political detainee. But under pressure the government took the highly unusual steps of accepting responsibility for the tragedy and dismissing the interior minister and the national police chief for their roles.

The central political debate is over the conflicting proposals for restructuring the constitution before President Chun steps down in 1988. He wants an indirect parliamentary system; the opposition wants a continued presidential system but with di-

President Chun Doo Hwan's repressive rect elections. In theory there is room here for advancing democracy by compromise, but so far that has not happened.

Power is at stake as well as philosophy. Articulate and well known opposition leaders like Kim Dae Jung and Kim Young Sam would fare well in a direct democratic presidential election. The ruling party, with no equally appealing personalities, figures that its best bet is an indirect parliamentary system that maximizes the advantages of organization and incumbency. The govern-ment could force its plan through, but it hesitates for fear of tainting the credibility of the resulting regime both in South Korea and in the United States.

Lee Min Woo, an opposition leader, re-cently proposed a middle ground. The opposition would consider parliamentary rule in exchange for guarantees of broader poli:ical freedoms and truly free elections. His own party quickly repudiated him. Nonetheless, his plan focuses properly on the substance of democratization, freedoms and fair elections, rather than the form of government. Perhaps the opposition could reformulate this in some way that would test the Chun government's real intentions.

If a solution is not worked out this year. in time for orderly elections, 1988 could bring disorder and worse. That is a distinct possibility that moderates on both sides should now be doing their utmost to avoid.

Let them find courage and take a chance. - THE NEW YORK TIMES.

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE JOHN HAY WHITNEY, Chairman 1958-1982

KATHARINE GRAHAM, WILLIAM S. PALEY, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER

LEE W. HIJEBNER, Publisher

JOHN VINOCUR, Engraine Editor & WALTER WELLS, Editor & SAMUEL ABT, KATHERINE KNORR and CHARLES MITCHELMORE. Deputy Editors & CARL GEWIRTZ, Associate Editor & ROBERT J. DONAHUE, Editor of the Editoral Pages

RENÉ BONDY, Deputy Publisher * ALAIN LECOUR and RICHARD H. MORGAN, Associate Publisher * FRANCOIS DESMALSONS, Circulation Director * ROLF D. KRANEPUHL, Atheritaing Salas Director International Herald Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92200 Nemily-sur-Seine, France, Tel.: (1) 46,37,93.00. Telen: Advertising, 613595; Circulation, 612832; Editorial, 612718; Production, 630698.

Directeur de la publication: Walter N. Thayer.

Editor for Asia: Michael Richardson, 5 Cantachusy Rd, Singapore 0511. Tel. 472-7768. Tix. RSS628
Managing Div. Asia: Malcolm Glom, 50 Glocuster Road, Hong Kong, Tel. 5-810616. Telec: 61170
Managing Div. U.K.: Robin MacKichan, 63 Long Arre, Landon WC2. Tel. 836-4802. Telex: 262009
Gen. Mys. W. Germeyr: W. Lauterhark, Friedrichter. 15, 6000 Frindfurt! M. Tel. (00) 726735. Tix. 416721
Pres. U.S.: Michael Couray, 850 Third Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. Tel. (212) 752-3890. Telex: 427175
S.A. au capital de 1.200.000 F. RCS Naneare B 73:021126. Cammission Parasine No. 61337

© 1987, International Herald Tribume. All rights reserved. ISSN: 0294-8052.

OPINION

An Anti-Stalinist Tide Is Flowing Again

D RINCETON, New Jersey - For the first I time in more than 20 years, anti-Stalinism is becoming a major factor in official Soviet poli-tics. Explicit criticism of Stalin's long, often murderous rule was banned after the 1964 ouster of Nikita Khrushchev, who had made it a driving force of his reform campaigns. A glorification of the country's historical achievements, imposed by his conservative successor Leonid Brezhnev. prevailed for the next two decades. But since 1985, as Mikhail Gorbachev's own reform proposals have grown bolder, so, too, have sanctioned voices critical of the Stalinist era.

This year, the 50th anniversary of Stalin's bloody purge of the Communist Party, may bring a stronger form of official anti-Stalinism, with results beyond those promoted by Khrushchev.

The signs are both symbolic and tangible.

Many figures in Khrushchev's de-Stalinization
"thaw" are playing leading roles in Mr. Gorbachev's liberalization of cultural and intellectual life. Among them, to list a few, are writers Yevgeni Yevtushenko, Andrei Voznesensky, Vladimir Lakshin, Bulat Okudzhava, Chingiz Aitmatov, Kamil Ikramov and Mikhail Shatrov. Well known anti-Stalinists have assumed influential posts under Mr. Gorbachev, among them Sergei Zalygin and Grigori Baklanov, the new editors of the journals Novy Mir and Znamya. In December, in rare public reference to the unfinished de-Stalinization of the Khrushchev years, Mr. Shatrov revealed the official attitude: "Today, history is giving us one more chance."

A growing number of literary works already published or scheduled for publication this year indicate that discussion of the crimes of the Stalinist past is no longer taboo. The works include three novels, banned for 20 years, by major, established writers: Anatoli Rybakov's By Stephen F. Cohen

"Children of the Arbat." a remembrance of the terror of the 1930s; Vladimir Dudintsev's 'White Robes." an account of the repressions in science in the late 1940s; and Alexander Bek's "The New Appointment," a portrayal of moral cor-ruption in the Stalinist bureaucracy.

Among the newer works on long-forbidden biects are Anatoli Pristavkin's novella about Stalin's wartime deportation of small nationalities, and stories by other writers about individual victims of the terror. A Soviet critic recently welcomed this wave of "postponed books" as a "rehabilitation of artistic memory."

The same trend is evident in the theater and the same trend is evident in the theater and the cinema. Enormously popular plays, such as Mr. Shatrov's "Dictatorship of Conscience" and A. Buravaky's "Speak Out ...!" are assailing aspects of Stalin's legacy. Several anti-Stalinist films, notably Alexei German's "Roadchecks" and "My Friend Ivan Lapshin," have been related and Touris Abulators. "Persentence." leased, and Tengiz Abuladze's "Repentance," the first Soviet film to give a full-scale portrayal of Stalin's terror, is showing in Soviet Georgia and soon will be released nationally.

Much of this cultural anti-Stalinism remains elliptical, not even mentioning the former dicta-tor by name, but its collective impact should not be underestimated. "Repentence," for example is couched as an allegorical tale of universal tyranny, but it powerfully evokes in Soviet view-ers, as Mr. Lakshin has written, "the cruel memory of errors and crimes." Moreover, if such works continue to appear they will be widely reviewed and thus provoke a larger and more explicit discussion of the Stalin era.

al. The same trends are reflected in the work of economists, sociologists, political scientists and even historians, who form one of the Soviet Union's most censored and timid professions.

Anti-Stalinism had been dismissed by some Western scholars as a spent force. How is this resurgence to be explained? Part of the answer is the magnitude of Stalinist crimes, which claimed tens of millions of victims. Until those atrocities are fully acknowledged and discussed, they will remain an intensely contemporary issue for many Soviet citizens. As a result, Mr. Gorbachev's campaign for glaman, or "openness," cannot easily be limited to current problems. A society that wants truth and openness, as Mr. Rybakov and other intellectuals have said. must be truthful and open about its past. Above all, anti-Stalinism is the unavoidable corollary of Mr. Gorbachev's increasingly radical calls for reform. Despite important changes under Khrushchev, the underpinning institutions and procedures of the Soviet system are still those created by Stalin in the traumatic 1930s. Therefore, Mr. Gorbachev's various proposals to reduce the state's economic monopoly in favor of partial privatization and to curtail central bureaucratic control in favor of individual initiative in other areas of life bring him into fundamental conflict with Stalin's legacy.

In recent months. Gorbachev supporters have been remarkably explicit in linking the failures of the existing system to the Stalinist experience. Their complaints focus on a "bureaucratic labyrinth" that imposes a "complex of prohibitions on society and treats everyone like a "cog."

Recalling that the bureaucratic system took shape in the 1930s amid, as one critic wrote, "bloody terror and mute submission," they call for the abolition of "obsolete forms and methods that emerged 50 years ago." Not surprisingly, many also find a relevant alternative in the far more liberal, marketized Soviet system of the 1920s, the New Economic Policy, known as

NEP. They argue that by destroying it in 1929, Stalin betrayed Lenin's legacy.

As the struggle over reform intensifies, this kind of anti-Stalinism offers Mr. Gorbachev imrind of anti-statinism offers Mr. Gorbachev important advantages. It can help him undermine dogmas, legitimize change and attract idealistic supporters. But it is dangerous, because it calls into question Stalinist pillars of the Soviet system, such as the collectivized agriculture imposed from 1929 to 1933, and because, as Mr. Gorbachev and other officials admit, it still arouses deep divisions in society.

Although Mr. Gorbachev clearly stands behind the new anti-Stalinism, he has remained aloofly silent about the Stalinist past. When he finally speaks on this crucial subject, it will reveal much about his commitment to far-reaching change and about the forces that oppose it.

The writer, professor of politics at Princeton Uni-

In the Gulag before Gorbachev. In the Gulag after Gorbachev. versity, is a frequent commentator on Soviet affairs.

By Pierre Lellouche

PARIS — If they retained only 1,000 nuclear warheads between them — as Robert McNamara, the former U.S. socretary of defense, advantage of this page 24 vocated on this page on Jan. 24 — neither the Soviet Union nor the United States could mount a credible first strike, although there would be enough weapons on each aide to con-template a destructive second strike.

United States and the Soviet Union, which would each be reasonably assured that the other would not attack it out of the blue. However, assuming that a reduc-tion to such low levels can be verified (which is by no means obvious), the what is by no ineans covously, the central question this plan raises is: What would be its consequences for Europe? The logic of minimal determine, as French experience shows, excludes any extension of one's minimal determined.

clear umbrella to anyone else. In order to credibly extend its deterrent over Europe, the United States has constantly striven to acquire more weapons and greater acthan conceding defeat on the ground or escalating to all-out nuclear war. Hence the decision in 1979 to deploy

Pershing and cruise missiles.
Under a regime of minimal deterrence, however, there would not be enough weapons to ensure adequate options. Each superpower, as France and Britain do today, would reserve the use of its small nuclear arsenal for

This is the second of two articles.

arsenals considerably enhanced. The trouble with all this is that, rightly or wrongly, the NATO alli-ance was built on the notion that the farmer in Bavaria and the farmer in Iowa are equal in the face of nuclear danger. Withdrawal of American deterrence would inevitably signify the end of the Atlantic affiance as we have known it.

To make things worse, contrary to what Mr. McNamara has been arguresource in the West, in part because fact adopt a posture of nuclear isola-tionism consistent with the trend of its public opinion but tragic for non-nuclear Europe, for this would be the ica, too. As to the "modest cost" of conventional arms, Mr. McNamara, as a former Pentagon chief, should know better. Nuclear arms are much per than conventional forces. (In the United States as in France, the nuclear argenal accounts for only 20 percent of total arms expenditures.)

THE interests of nonnuclear countries in Western Europe in no way differ from those of nuclear have-nots in Eastern Europe. They are: arms limitation to stabilize armaments at a rough balance; total elimination of medium-range missiles in Europe, accompanied by a freeze in stocks of abort-range nuclear weapons and a joint declaration of intent to negotiate soon on their extension. programs accordingly; approximate numerical parity in conventional forces.

Europe lacks leadership. In the early 1960s, President de Gaulle was willing and able to take the lead. Germany would have done well to accept his leadership; Italy and the Benelux countries would have followed suit. The last-resort deterrence of an attack directed at its own territory.

Thus, by adopting a minimalist strategy, the United States would in Europe Needs Leadership From France

their reduction in number; pressure on both sides to abide by the provisions of the anti-ballistic missile treaty and to limit Strategic Defense Initiative

Indian Ocean: A Meeting, Minus One

C OLOMBO, Sri Lanka — Some years ago, a young marine scientist named Hiran W. Jayawardene and a handful of his Sri Lankan colleagues came up with the idea of enumerating the marine, mineral and economic resources of the 38 countries on three continents bordering the Indian Ocean and adjacent seas. Nearly 2 billion people — or more than one-third the world's population — lived in these countries, the scientists noted, but their govern-ments had never cooperated in cataloging the wealth of the 74 millionsquare-kilometer ocean area.

Such cooperation, Mr. Jayawar dene thought, would allow Indian Ocean countries to better plan their economic development and would advance science in such matters as deep-sea mining. Moreover, it would enable the Indian Ocean countries to deal with fleets from Japan, South Korea, the Soviet Union, France and Spain, which habitually plundered fishing zones in the Indian Ocean.

Mr. Jayawardene, a nephew of President Junius R. Javawardene. found leaders of the Indian Ocean nations receptive. The late Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India seemed enthusiastic, as did leading scientists in the region and the West He obtained support from the United Nations Development Program, the ference. "New Delhi possibly has got World Bank, and the UN Fund for its nose out of joint." said a well Population Activities.

Mr. Jayawardene's long-planned conference ran for a week and ended on Jan. 28 with results beyond his expectations. Seventeen countries of the 36 that attended formed a perma-the region that New Delhi somehow endorsed President Jayawardene's handling of the Tamil ethnic conflict By Pranay Gupte

nent standing committee to initiate scientific and information exchanges. In addition, 19 international scientific agencies pledged to participate.
Conspicuous by its absence was the Indian delegation, India, despite its initial receptivity, also tried to persuade other Indian Ocean countries not to attend, according to Sri Lankan officials. These officials also charged that India had unsuccessfully urged the conference sponsors to withdraw their support.

"We are puzzled by India's refusal to participate," said Foreign Minister A.C.S. Hameed of Sri Lanka, in a recent interview in Colombo. Why did India stay out? Few explanations have been forthcom Indian officials suggested privately that Mr. Jayawardene's effort duplicated the endeavors of other regional bodies. Another suggestion was that the conference may have been seen as diverting attention from the Indian Ocean "zone of peace" proposal, un-der which the ocean would be free from military maneuvers by the superpowers. (Sri Lanka, ironically, is the current chairman of this effort.) The Indians may also have resent-informed Indian diplomat. This diplomat and other analysts raise another possible explanation: India's participation would have sent misleading signals to the countries of ed Sri Lanka's leadership of the con-

in this island nation of 16 million.

Militants, operating out of the southern Indian state of Tamil Nadu, are fighting for a separate Tamil homeland in the northern and eastern provinces of Sri Lanka. President Jayawardene has promised the Tamils more autonomy but has rejected their calls for a separate state. He has urged India to intervene militarily to stop the traffic of arms and rebels from southern India to Sri Lanka. Hiran Jayawardene seems pleased with the conference's outcome. "What we are talking about here is better control over our own resources," he said, noting that the Indian Ocean provides 30 percent of the world's salt production for domestic and industrial use and that the region last year accounted for 80 percent of the world's oil production.

The annual lishing potential for the region is almost 10 million tons. but less than a third of that is captured by the Indian Ocean countries themselves. Mr. Jayawardene said. "We aren't talking about setting up yet another bureaucracy here," said. "We are calling for a multidisciplinary effort to establish just what our wealth is, how we can exploit it, and how we preserve it. "This isn't politics for us. This is a first step in charting a course of action."

The writer, author of books on globalpopulation problems and India, is com-pleting a book on development in the Third World. He contributed this to the International Herald Tribune,

Europe: But What About the Farmer in Bavaria? of demographic trends (in the Federal Republic in particular), in part because there is no conscription in the United States and Britain, and finally because the United States is unlikely to keep 300,000 troops in Western Europe forever.

A third reason is that there is no end of the U.S. nuclear guarantee. in a position to increase its defense such thing as "conventional deter-irenceally, France and Britain would spending, indeed the reverse is hapled eventually to war. The Iran-Iraq war is only the latest in a series of 250 conventional conflicts since the end of World War II in regions not povered by nuclear deterrence.

The Europeana know this from their own history, and that is why, despite the painful controversy of the past few years over the deployment of Pershing and croise missiles, no lucid European today regards Reykjavík as a positive breakthrough. Withdrawing intermediate-range missiles, as was agreed to in Reykjavík, or moving to minimal strategic arsenals, as proposed by Mr. McNamara, while leaving the Soviets with their conventional and nuclear dominance in Europe, is a sure recipe for trouble.

It is a sad reflection of the confusion of Western strategic think-ing that senior U.S. figures, whether in charge, like Mr. Reagan, or out of office, like Mr. McNamara, see fit to fuel a dangerous anti-nuclear campaign, hand in hand with Mr. Gorbachev's propaganda machine, rather than address the real threats and the real remedies. Contrary to what Mr. McNamara and Mr. Reagan believe, the main threat is not of a surprise, out-of-theblue, all-out nuclear war. And the answer is not nuclear isolationism that leaves Europe ripe for a conventional war. The real threat is Soviet conventional superiority in Europe. Rather than focus public attention on nuclear arms only and on nuclear arms control, Mr. McNamara and Western diplomacy as a whole should focus on the means to establish lower levels of conventional arms in Europe while preserving nuclear deterrence. thus reducing the risk of surprise at-tack and the chances of blackmail during a crisis. This would be the condition for a reduction of the levels of nuclear arms in a follow-up stage.

The writer is associate director of the Institut Français des Relations Interales and a columnist for the agazines Le Point and Newsweek. He contributed this comment to tional Herald Tribune

Providing An Example 🦸 By Talking

By Anthony Lewis HARARE, Zimbabwe — As'
South Africa hardens in its determination to maintain white supremacy, what can the United States do? Has it any useful role to play in this region? The questions are urgent: For it is ever clearer that apartheid threatens the peace of the whole area.

with potentially dangerous conse-quences for the West as well. On the surface, the possibilities of influence look dim. The Reagan administration's attempt to wheedle Pretoria toward change has antago-

The next time Pretoria ... attacks a neighbor, Washington should act.

nized the black majority and made the governing whites contemptuous of Washington. In the black-ruled neighboring states, too, there is deep skepticism about U.S. intentions. But after several weeks in the area I am convinced that recent policy blunders and the inherent intractabil ity of the situation do not exclude a helpful American role. To the con-trary, I believe that if reason is to have a chance in South Africa, the United States roust play a part.

And there are things to be done.

First, America can show the Afrikaners that there is an alternative to rule by force: negotiating the future.

That was the importance, the great importance, of Secretary of State George Shultz's meeting last Wednesday with Oliver Tambo, pres-ident of the African National Congress. For years the Reagan administration has urged Pretoria to talk with credible opposition leaders, but the advice lacked conviction because top Resean officials did not themselves talk with the ANC. Now, to the acministration's credit, it has started. Of course the Tambo-Shultz meeting or more like it cannot produce a settlement. It is not for the United States to decide South Africa's hiture. The fact of talking is the point: to show South Africans that it is possible to deal with the ANC. The other significance of the meeting is that the ANC wanted it. Establishing a relationship with the U.S. government had not formerly been a high priority for the ANC. Now there is evidently an understanding that America is an essential player. Washington also can make far clearer its disapproval of South African aggression, military and economic, against neighboring countries.

Consider Botswana, an entirely unthreatening neighbor. On June 14, 1985, South African forces supposed-ly looking for terrorists blew up houses in Gaborone and killed many innocent citizens. Now, through its toria is trying to obstruct Botswana's external transportation routes.

The next time Pretoria engages in such aggression, Washington should act. It could order the closure of one of South Africa's U.S. consulates in the United States. Or it could call on European allies to join in cutting all airline links to South Africa.

America also can act affirmatively to strengthen neighboring countries that are under such pressure from South Africa, The Reagan adminis tration has talked a good deal about this, but it has done so little that governments in the region do not feel that they can count on U.S. support The critical need is help in building alternative transportation route in order to reduce dependence on South African railroads and ports Substantial U.S. aid would not only advance those projects but send message of commitment and warning to South Africa: Hands off.

More broadly, America can help stimulate economic development. All of the front-line states, including those that call themselves Marrist now look to the United States economically. That is an opportunity for America, but it has been fudged by waivering policies: aid grants, thea cutoffs or withdrawals.

There is a particularly harmful example here in Zimbabwe, All U.S. aid was suspended after a government official attacked the United States at the U.S. Embassy's July 4th party last year. The attack was stupid, but the response was immature and self-defeating. The U.S. aid program went mainly to the private sector here; farms and businesses that the United States wants to build up.

Even with an active American role, is there any hope of real change in South Africa? It will not be easy. But an old American hand there said Twenty years ago virtually no whites could envisage living under majority role. Today 20 percent say they are ready for it. The figure will grow if and as the cost of white supremacy goes up. That is hope."

The New York Times

1937: Flood Emergency

NEW YORK - Proclamation of a

IN OUR PAGES, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1912: A Deadly Trial NEW YORK - Edward Throck-

morton, principal witness for the prosecution in the "millionaires" murder trial" at Fort Worth, Texas, died [on Feb. 1] from poison which, the prosecution alleges, was placed in his food to prevent him from giving evidence. The case concerns the killing of Captain A.G. Boyce Sr., a septuagenarian ranch-owner, by J.B. Socad, another millionaire ranch-owner. Mr. Snead's wife eloped with Captain Boyce's son, and, although the husband persuaded her to return home, he shot Captain Boyce because he was unable to wreak vengeance on the son. All witnesses except Mr.

state of emergency throughout the Middle West as a result of the flood was made by President Franklin D. Roosevelt [on Feb. 2]. Figures for the record disaster are 385 dead, more than one million homeless, $500 mil-tion property loss. Whether the grand total of the catastrophe mounts appreciably will be known after the muddy crest of the nation's worst flood has passed Cairo. Illinois.

Army and National Guardsmen as: waiting tensely in Cairo for the slowly moving crest of the Ohio River to join the Mississippi. Cairo is 20 feet below water level. The best barri-Throckmorton had disappeared. It seems probable the case will collapse. and children have been removed. cades are now 63 feet high. Women

ereten in a windching

At manington shoulder

OPINION

How to Make This Glass. More Interesting Than Ever By A.M. Rosenthal Section, akin I regret to say to tary domination of bordering states. He could allow one newspaper to the sublished in Moscow, or Leningrad elepton.

forture chambers that have befouled the name of Soviet medicine but take it one important step further. He could put on trial the people who jailed and exiled dissidents or stuck hypodermics in their arms that put them in unending agony.

That would be a fine move. He fired they were known to be guilty of arbitrary arrest and torture?

Then he could loosen some of the chains on the captive nations of Eastern Europe. He could tell General Wojciech

Jaruzelski in Poland to make Solidarity legal again! He could order the Roma-mans to hold one free election — one,

because it would demand wide-scale,

nationwide private farming and food distribution and would change the cen-tralized economic system that guaran-

Gorbachev himself, in his call for changes in party procedure, made it quite clear that he was trying to strengthen the control of the party, an elitist minority, not diminish it a jot. Glasnost is quite interesting. But as we cut into our nice juicy steaks let's wait a bit before we cheer the tossing of morsels. That really is not so churlish.

The New York Times.

say, for mayor of Bucharest.

N EW YORK —A certain unwonted sensation, akin I regret to say to churlishness, creeps over me from time to time these days, traceable directly to an overdose of glasnost. "Glasnost," we all know, is a Russian word that has people who have shown some skepticism of the custom and lost their jobs or been entered the Finglish language and is translatable as "opening." It is used to describe the changes Mikhail Gorbachev says he is bringing to Soviet society.

It really is not Mr. Gorbachev who troubles as he is not Mr. Gorbachev who is not make the first non-state investigation of Chemobyl?

Then he could not only glasnost all his troubles me, he may be happy to hear. It is the enthusiasm with which his every twitch is greeted in the West. When I was a correspondent in Communist Poland it struck me that Americans and other Westerners had a way of cans and other Westerners had a way of becoming enormously exhibitated at minuscule liberties that the regime granted the Bull face that the regime granted enough to mess around with a Pravda nuscule liberties that the regime granted enough to mess around with a Pravda reporter on an officially sanctioned inreporter on an officially sanctioned in-quiry ought to be fired anyway.

ON MY MIND

Still, applause there for Mr. Gorba-chev, but softly, until he puts big shots of the KGB, which is part of his own apparatus as Soviet leader, on trial. Wouldn't Western admirers of glassost, ask trials for their own police chiefs if they were known to be smilty of orbiknowing that the delighted Westerners visiting Poland feasted daily on huge steaks of freedom, were not terribly appreciative at being told by the foreigners that the natives should be real happy at being thrown a morsel or two of liberty. Obviously, something important may be taking place in the Soviet Union. But it does strike me as perhaps premature to decide, quite yet, that Mr. Gorbachev, a product and beneficiary of a totalitary. an police state, is doing much more than trying to make it more efficient by loosening up here and there, thus gain-ing some credit at home and enormous prestige abroad, at very little sacrifice to the basic reality of a police state.

He could really glasnost by pulling Soviet troops out of Eastern Europe. The very ludicrousness of the idea might be reason for withholding total approval But, everybody, keep an open mind and make sure that suspicions of the Soviet Union built in by 70 years of a tyrannical system are not blinding us to the possibility that the system is beto the possibility that the system is being changed after all.

There are a few things that Mr. Gorbachev could do that would show also are planning to put down resistance. whether he really is the reformist he is The generals would grumble but Rus-now being called in the West and is sian mothers and fathers would be hapwilling to make changes that would af-fect some essentials of the system over

And he could make all Russians hapwhich he presides - police power, gov-py by providing enough food so that transent ownership, a totally controlled they would not have to spend hours in press, a judiciary serving only state in-jine every day, often for nothing.

That indeed would be glasnost

Dizzy With Possibilities

WITH his proposal that officials of the Soviet Communist Party be elected by secret ballot, Mikhail Gorbaof the Soviet Union, Matter of fact, Mr. chev is broaching potentially the most radical change that the world's first Communist state has yet countenanced. It is almost breathtaking — the one measure which, if carried through to its conclusion, could eventually spell the end of Communist power. But that is to run ahead, to become — as Lenin might have said — dizzy with the possibilities.

- The Times (London).

Live bait.

LONDON — My Webster's dictionary says under "Germany" very precisely: "Former country in North Central Europe, divided ... "The Michelin red guide "Deutschland," though, does not even mention East Germany.

It is not unique in that. The German Democratic Republic - in German, the DDR - is virtually unknown territory in the Western media and hence in our awareness. Thanks to its odious Berlin Wall, its main image is that of a dark alleyway where one spy shoots another. "First prize, one week in East Germany, second prize, two weeks in East Germany," was a standard joke in our family. But the realities of this world are more complex. I recently traveled around in the DDR in a rented car, making a halfcircle from Berlin via Dresden to Erfurt near the western border. I found that for someone of my generation (I was a ser-geant in the British army in World War II) there is actually something soothing to a German state which still celebrater its defeat, or rather the defeat of "Fascist Germany" under Hitler, instead of blanking it out of its collective mind as the West German state chose to do. Dresden, in February 1945, suffered the most devastating air raid ever (unital Hirochima) This represents her united Hiroshima). This newspaper has written about its rebuilding. The magnitude of that event must have weighed on my mind, for I imagined the city much larg-

Out to Lunch in the Other Germany

By Hans Koning er than it is. Circling down into the Elbe it quite unexpectedly. A small town, dominated by a river with friendly grassy banks from which people were fishing (it was Sunday), cheerful in the morning sun until I came to the dark central square. Here, ruins and already rebuilt palaces and museums alike seemed to cast a somber, al-

valley along a narrow road, I came upon

MEANWHILE

most medieval spell. For the first time I wondered if the painstaking European reconstruction of destroyed historical buildings is an unmittigated good. What sort of vibes do local people get from the make-believe new structures that pre-tend to be centuries old? Do the buildings restore a lost sense of belonging and security, or do they also create confusion, a sense of noreality?

The centerpiece of that Sunday in Dresden was a confirmation luncheon. The young son of a friend of an East Berlin writer whom I know was confirmed that morning — the Lutheran Church is active and on reasonable terms with the Communist state - and I had been invited to the lunch afterward. Personal recommendations are as important to travel in Central and Eastern Europe as in a long ago past.

The lunch was set in a fine old house on the north bank of the Elbe, When I drove up I imagined it had once be-longed to a Saxon nobleman, but I was later informed that it had been built in the 1900s by the inventor of Odol mouthwash. It was a club now; on the gate a somewhat pedantic sign read "Dresdner Club der Intelligenz."

I found the family on the glassed-in veranda from which we looked down upon the wide, S-curved river flowing north. A waiter in tuxedo was pouring Sekt, the local variation of champagne. The father was an architect, the eldest son had just come home after a year and a half as a conscript in the army, and there were daughters with babies uncles and sunts. The boy who had been confirmed was 14. When the waiter poured him a glass of sekt by mistake, ne blushed scarlet.

These people were born Dresdeners of what used to be called "good family," but they had made their peace with the new dispensation. "My parents' house used to be not far from here," the mother told me. "Our gardens ran all the way from the Elbe up to the top of those hills. We used to swim all summer. Now the factories of Czechoslovakia and the DDR have spoiled the water for that." The eldest son told me be had spent his entire army service in Dessan, some 100 kilometers down river, with six home leaves and a few extra ones on the sly. He had been an army clerk, with was an engineer with a university degree. Study is free in the DDR, "But you pay the state back by many years of low pay," the brother-in-law said. "I still get is than the workmen I direct." They made much of me; the visit of a foreigner, they told me, was like making a little trip for them. The restrictions on foreign travel were their main grievance. "The more you can't go, the more you want to go." The Wall had to come down, a relationship of trust had to be established, the father said.

When he spoke, it became quiet at the table; traditional German family discipline seemed alive and well there. The Elbe valley is about the only place in the DDR where West German television cannot be received, and people actually move away from Dresden just because of that. But they did not care much for television anyway, the father told me.
They made their own chamber music evenings and that was much nicer. The children looked at me with surprised skepticism when I said I agreed.

East Germany is no longer a very poor country; the World Almanac gives it about the same per capita income as Britain. It looked not poor but curiously old-fashioned to me, in its daily routines and relationships, an impression not just based on that luncheon party but on the public life in Dresden and the other places I visited. The quiet streets, with private cars still a luxury; the early start and finish of working hours, with a lively pre-dinner hour or so downtown before everyone goes home to eat; then the still evenings, with only some young people in the streets—it recalled for me the town life of my childhood in the '30s.

The engineer had told me that he was neither friendly nor hostile toward his government. I asked him if he ever felt a kind of stranger in his own country then. He thought about that and answered, "No, because you have your friends around you." I think that some of us in America would have given that same

We talked of literature. The latest novel of my East Berlin friend was already sold out. It had been printed in a small edition; it is about a civil servant who commits suicide, a haunted and presumably controversial story. If they knew you as a good customer in a book-shop, they might still find you a copy, and the army son said it had been in stock at the shop on his base. We also talked about movies. They had recently seen "Tootsie" and "Silkwood" - the children, that is. The older people were not too fond of going. I was asked "to explain" Reagan and Thatcher.

The menu was herb bouillon, a beef and mushroom stew with fresh vegetables on the side, and a popular dessert of ice cream topped with whipped cream. There was a nice white wine, from Hungary I think, disconcerningly called Escismich (donkey's milk). No, he International Herald Tribune.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

stated that the International Herald Tri-

what I question is not only the ratio-nale for carrying such an illustration, but why a newspaper like yours devotes so much of its precious space to photos. Apart from becoming familiar with the faces of people frequently mentioned in important news and seeing the winner of the Ugliest Dog in the World Contest,

I don't really care about seeing pictures in a serious daily paper. To judge from Le Monde and other serious European

Your photo of R. Budd Dwyer with a gun in his mouth was distressing. What purpose did that photo serve?

KIRSTEN DE MOTTE.

LAURA BERISH.

papers, I am not alone in this view.

Mobutu and Good Sense

RASHID A. NUHU.

Regarding "Africa Needs Much More Aid" (Other Opinion, Jan. 22):

Africa needs much more aid, but not in the form of military aid. And the United States should be certain that its aid gets to the people. Assisting countries like Zaire, whose president is said to be one of the richest men in the

E. ERNEST GOLDSTEIN.

About a Photograph

In response to the editorial "A Cooper-ative Dictator" (Dec. 16):

I am saddened by President Reagan's remarks on President Mobutn Sese Seko of Zaire during the latter's recent visit to the United States. If the U.S. president could have the effrontery to call a leader like Mr. Mobuta "a voice of good sense opinion column "The Great Picture on Page 4 Knocks Phones Off the Hook" (Meanwhile, Jan. 29) concerning public reaction to a photo in The Washington and good will," what is one make of the government's frequent statements in favor of human rights?

Fribourg, Switzerland.

world, seems questionable at best. IAN SHAW.

Free Advice on Tap

While President Reagan is looking for a solution to the hostage problem, one wonders whether he has consulted candidate Reagan's file of speeches in which he told President Carter how to do it.

Villars-sur-Ollon, Switzerland,

'No Idea Where to Start' A year ago I stopped buying the Inter-national Herald Tribune on a daily basis because I was offended by what seemed

A dialogue between a European and the president of a mid-American manufacturers' association: an editorial policy increasingly in favor of depicting sensational violence. (I have continued to get Thursday issues, mostly for the science page.) It was therefore with interest that I read Joseph Laitin's European: "Do you export?" Manufacturer: "A bit. To the Virgins and to Puerto Rico."

European: "Why don't you try exporting to Europe?" Manufacturer: "I wouldn't know how to go about it. I just would have no idea where to start." European: "Do you know how big Post showing a spicide. An editor's note Europe is? Don't you think it would be worthwhile spending some money on market and product research?" bune had run a photo of the same person with a gun pointed into his month. What I question is not only the ratio-Manufacturer: "We have a small as-sociation budget. I don't think we could get money for that kind of thing because each manufacturer considers himself to be a competitor with his neighbor." European: "Are the members of your association working at full capacity?"

Manufacturer: "We all have spare room for expansion."

European: "Would you be interested in getting involved in a research program regarding export markets?"

Manufacturer: "We have a national association in Washington. If those people have never put the idea to us, it means there can't be much in it. Excuse me, but I've got to go."

European (10 himself): "Let's just

S.A. LEWITHIN.

only two weeks of military training at could not have a sip, the mother told the the outset. He had had much time for newly confirmed boy in a stern voice. reading but was glad to be done with it.

Investment Strategies & Opportunities on the Paris Stock Exchange

An International Conference Sponsored by International Herald Tribune & French Company Handbook Paris, February 9-10, 1987

This major conference will provide financial executives with a complete overview of the Paris Bourse's potential, including specific insights into promising industry and stock selections. It will also examine the impact of denationalization and deregulation as well as the effect of changes in the nature of the Bourse such as the introduction of new financial instruments, greater liquidity and the listings of a wide variety of new companies. To register for this timely conference, please complete and mail the registration form below.

Simultaneous translation will be provided at all times.

FEBRUARY 9
09.45 NEW TECHNIQUES OF OPERATING ON THE PARIS
BOURSE: Xavier Dupons, President, Paris Stockbrokers' Association, Pariner, Dupont-Denant stockbrokerage

10.45 FRENCH INSTITUTIONAL INVESTOR PANEL: Industry Group Selections for Stock Market Performance in

1987. Panel participants: Crédit Agricole, Crédit Lyonnals, Groupe Victoire, Société Générale. *12.15 LATEST COMPANY DEVELOPMENTS 42.45 Lunch IS THERE A MEANINGFUL CHANGE IN NATIONAL ATTITUDES TOWARDS BUSINESS IN FRANCE? Guest speaker: David de Rothschild, Chairman, Rothschild &

Associés Banque. 14.45 FRENCH INSTITUTIONAL INVESTOR STRATEGY AND

44.45 FRENCH INSTITUTIONAL INVESTOR STRATEGY AND SELECTIONS ON THE PARIS BOURSE.
Pamel participants: AXA, Crédit Commercial de France, Crédit du Nord.

46.45 LATEST COMPANY DEVELOPMENTS.

46.45 OPPORTUNITIES IN FRENCH TECHNOLOGY.

Jacques Matsonrouge, General Manager of Frances Industry Ministry, former Chairman and CEO of IBM World Trade Corp. 17.30 Cocktoils

09.00 THE ECONOMIC OUTLOOK FOR FRANCE.
Edouard Balladur, French Minister of Economy,
Planace and Privatization. 40.00 Coffee 40.30 FRENCH FRANC, INTEREST RATE AND BOND MARKET

Peterrounives. Panel participants: Banque Indosuez, Banque Nationale de Paris, Crédit Industriel et Commercial. Group des Assurances Nationales.

12.00 LATEST COMPANY DEVELOPMENTS

12.30 Lunch
14.15 THE DEREGULATION OF FRENCH INDUSTRY AND ITS IMPACT ON CORPORATE COMPETITIVENESS.
Alain Madelin, French Minister of Industry, Postal/Telecommunications and Tourism
45.45 LATEST COMPANY DEVELOPMENTS
45.45 FOREIGN INSTITUTIONAL INVESTOR SELECTIONS ON THE

PARIS BOURSE John Reinsberg, Overseas Fund Manager, General Electric Investment Corp., Hugh Priestley, Director,

Henderson Administration Pic, Steven Schaefer,
Henderson Administration Pic, Steven Schaefer,
Managing Director, Oechsle international Advisors.
Panel moderator: Roger Hometi Head, European Division, James Capel & Ca, London.

"Major French companies giving internew-buildin presentations of their latest company developments will include Béglish Say, Compagnie Générale d'Bectriché Compagnie Générale des Eaux, Compagnie Ja Hénin, Don's Dools de France Essior, Joule Wilton, Rhône-Poulenc The SEB Group SODOHO.
Thomson CSF, 1074, Compagnie Francelse des Pétroles.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

To register, please complete and return the registration form today.
The participation fee is FF 4950 (plus 15% VAT FF 742.50 applicable to all participants) or the equivalent in a convertible currency for each participant. participant. Fees are payable in advance and will be reimbursed in full for any cancellation that is postmarked on or before January 25, 1987.

Please return the registration form to: International Herald Tribune. Conference Office, 63, Long Acre. London WC2E 9JH, or telephone: (441) 836 4802 or telex: 262009.

CONFERENCE LOCATION Inter-Continental Hotel, 3 rue Castiglione, 75040 Parts, Cedex 01, France. Telephone: (331) 42.60.37.80. Telex: 220114. A block of rooms has been reserved for conference participants. Please contact the hotel directly. CONFERENCE REGISTRATION FORM Please enroll the following participant for the Paris Stock Exchange Conference. ☐ Please involce. ☐ Cheque enclosed POSITION: COMPANY: ADDRESS: CITYCOUNTRY: 3-2-87 TELEPHONE:

IS ONLY SECONDS

Cailing the States from over-seas has never been easier. With USADMECT service, all you have to do is diaf a sumber to be connected to an AT&T operator in the US. USADMECT service is a great way to use your AT&T Card or balloollect Andyou II be billed at AT&T operator-assisted rates.

IN THE UK. DIAL 0800-89-0011; FRANCE 197-0015 THE NETHERLANDS 067-022-9115 AUSTRALIA 8014-881-911.

Territores (IS const app 674 app) territoris about 654 (#F#) oppose the school before the school befor

ASHINGTON — Robert M. Gates, who elected Monday to become director of Central Intelligence Agency, is a career diagence official who is an expert on the

Mr. Gates, 43, was appointed deputy direcin March and has been acting director ling the illness of William J. Casey, whose signation was announced Monday. As deputy director, Mr. Gates has also erved as chairman of the National Intellience Council, directing the preparation of national intelligence estimates put together in .cooperation with the various national security agencies.

He took over as deputy director after the resignation of John N. McMahon, who opposed the Reagan administration's expansion of covert military operations in Third World

Mr. Gates joined the Central Intelligence Agency in 1966 as an intelligence analyst. He rose through the ranks on the analytical side as opposed to the operational or covert side.

Alistair MacLean

U.K. Author,

Is Dead at 64

FRANKFURT -- Alistair Mac-

Lean, 64, the author of "The Guns of Navarone" and one of Britain's leading postwar writers, died Mon-

In London, his publisher, William Collins Sons and Co., said the author suffered a stroke three weeks ago while visiting a friend in the Bavarian capital and died of heart failure in a hospital. Mr. MacLean, who was born in Scotland, was also the author of

"Ice Station Zebra" (1963) and

The Guns of Navarone," published in 1957, tells the tale of a World War II Allied commando raid on a Nazi-held Greek island to cluded Gregory Peck and Anthony

Mr. MacLean's works also it

cluded "HMS Ulysses" (1955), "When Eight Bells Toll" (1966),

"Force 10 From Navarone" (1968),

Puppet on a Chain" (1969), "The Golden Gate" (1976) and "San An-

He wrote motion-picture screen-

By 1973, his works had sold more

Mr. MacLean was born in Da-viot in the Scottish Highlands. He joined the British Navy in 1941 and spent five years on convoy escorts.

bonors in English from Glasgow University and became an English teacher at Gallow Flat School near spare time, and won a newspaper competition with one of them. Ian

Chapman, who worked for Collins publishers, spotted the story and couraged Mr. Maclean to write a

He also wrote, "South by Java

Head" (1958). "Night without End" (1960). "Fear is the Key (1961), and "Where Eagles Dare"

ESCORTS & GUIDES

INTERNATIONAL

ESCORT

USA & WORLDWIDE

212-765-7896

212-765-7754

He wrote short stories in his plays for several of his works.

than 24 million copies.

dress" (1984).

many other adventure novels.

MacLean,

His service at the agency was interrupted for six years, when he worked on the staff of the National Security Council from 1974 to 1980, under Presidents Richard M. Nixon, Gerald R. Ford and Jimmy Carter. Mr. Gates, who holds a doctorate in Soviet Covert action is 'an appropriate instrument of foreign policy, as long as it is taken within a broader context.

history from Georgetown University in Washington, became the CIA's intelligence officer for Soviet affairs for two years after returning to the agency.

He then was named deputy director for telligence, in charge of analytical studies. During his first years at the ClA, Mr. limitation issues, advising officials during the negotiations of the 1970s. A native of Kansas, he is married and has two children. Senator Patrick J. Leahy. Democrat of Vermont, speaking during Mr. Gates's confirmation hearings as deputy director last year, called him "an extremely professional member of our intelligence community."

During those hearings, Mr. Gates defended the agency's use of covert activities and vowed to work to curtail leaks to news

Mr. Gates said that covert action is "an appropriate instrument of foreign policy, as long as it is taken within a broader context." In the case of large-scale paramilitary activities, it is difficult to keep American involvement secret, he said. But, Mr. Gates told the committee, even when a program becomes widely known, official involvement can still be denied and that provides "a fig leaf" for the United States in

Robert M. Gates

SOVIET: For One Russian Citizen, the Struggle to Emigrate Continues

(Continued from Page 1) esting the confiscation of his farm, and he never returned. His wife's mother and brother were sent to labor camps for scavenging corn from the fields during a famine in the 1940s, he said. "I've understood since I was a > sian people," he said. "It's not just the political system, it's the whole In 1978, Mr. Yevsyukov, retired government airline Aeroflot and working as an airport radio engineer, applied to move his family out of the Soviet Union. It was an interinde when emigration was being granted with relative ease to Jews bound for Israel or the United States, but the Yevsyukovs were told that because they were not Jews and had no relatives abroad, they had no legitimate reason to leave.

Two years later, his son, also named Scrafim, turned 18 and was called into the army. He refused to go because of the family's intention to emigrate, and he served two and a half years in a labor camp as a day in Munich.

David Bell, a spokesman for the British Embassy in Bonn, said Mr.

MacLean died "after an illness." When the family persisted in seeking to emigrate, the son was charge. He is now confined to a of 1987. camp in central Siberia.

DETAIN:

ment.

blow up a military base atop a cliff House spokesman, said Monday:

battle zone. It was made into a mistake had been made and we successful film with a cast that in- remain hopeful that it will be rec-

Journalist Held

(Continued from Page 1)

ate release from detention and from Iran," he added in a state-

Marlin Fitzwater, the White

It is our feeling that perhaps a ognized and that he will be re-

Loren Jenkins of The Washington

Post reported earlier from Tehran: There was no indication in Tehran why Mr. Seib had been singled

Mr. Seib's problems began when he and other American and British journalists sought to have their five-day visas extended to make

On Thursday, he received the first of several telephone calls from a man who identified himself as

'Mr. Jalala," an immigration official. He repeated that there was a problem and promised to visit him

But Mr. Jalala did not appear and a check of the immigration department revealed that no Mr.

Jalala worked there. Iranians familiar with the situation said this indicated that the case had moved beyoud the immigration department and probably into the hands of

On Friday, Mr. Seib contacted they we the Swiss Embassy. The embassy police.

fran's secret police.

MAYEAD CUR

* GENEVA * GINGER'S

SCORT SERVICE 022/34 41 BE

GENEVA ESCORT

airline departure plans.

at his hotel.

Visa Problems

seized in a Moscow train station and committed to a clinic.

Only once during his confinement, he said, did the doctors offer an explanation for his confinement. The symptom that proved the senior Mr. Yevsyukov was clinchild that people like us would always be in conflict with the Rushim, was the label he insisted on wearing sewn to his overcoat.
The handstitched label is a father's protest. "Prisoner Yevsyukov," it says in Russian, like the after 25 years as a navigator for the one his son wears in the labor

> he lived in a ward of 42 patients, many of them so severely ill they would weep or sing through the night, and sometimes have to be restrained by male nurses from attacking each other. Once or twice a day, he said.

a strong tranquilizer often used in the treatment of psychiatric disorders. The drug kept him in a state of restless half-sleep, he said, physi-cally exhausted and disoriented. On Jan. 13, the day before his 54th birthday, Mr. Yevsyukov said, asked about the label he had worn, and about his desire to emigrate, but showed no interest in discussing his health, he said, They said, 'Maybe you should find new friends, or find a hobby. Go to the theater. Try to avoid

he was summoned by two clinic officials for an interview. They again for a final warning before he

A week later he was called in

In July, the older Yevsyukov was nurses injected him with a drug he militia could arrest me at any time excel in a Moscow train station heard them describe as haloperidol, and put me in the clinic again if I ued to wear the label." "I told them I would take off the label only when my son is free," he > resumed a weekly ritual he began when his son was arrested. With his wife and daughter, he went to the statue of the poet Pushkin in central Moscow, and stood in silent vigil for 20 minutes

Each member of the family wore the label, "Prisoner Yevsyukov." The demonstration was not interrupted by nearby militiamen, but it drew curious stares from the crowds on their way to the nearby Rossiya Theater, which is currently showing the hottest new movie in Moscow, "Repentance," an allego-"They advised me that things ry about the terrorizing of inno-could be worse," he said, "that the cents in the days of Stalin.

Soviet Reports Sharp Jump in Emigration

MOSCOW - A Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman confirmed on Monday that approximately 500 Soviet citizens, mostly Jews, were given exit visas last month, a sharp increase in the number of people ed again on the same allowed to emigrate since the start

In 1986, only 914 Soviet Jews

Gerald F. Seib

has represented U.S. interests diplomatic relations following the takeover of the U.S. Embassy in

A Swiss Embassy official accom panied Mr. Seib to the immigration department Saturday morning af-ter the journalist received a phone call, again by Mr. Jalala, asking

Once there, there was great confusion and no one, Mr. Seib said at the time, seemed to know where his passport was. After a two-hour wait, the Swiss diplomat said nothing could be done. He took Mr. Seib to the Swiss Embassy for pro-

Mr. Seib and another Swiss diplomat returned to his hotel room

but were not allowed to collect his leave the hotel Saturday afternoon

him to appear there at 10 A.M.

were given emigration visas, ac- istry spokesman, Gennadi L Geracording to figures released in the simov, "and the number for Febru-West. Although the January figures ary is likely to be higher." also include non-Jews, the number Mr. Gerasimov said the increase nonetheless shows a significant was attributed to new emigration jump because Jews make up the rules that went into effect Jan. 1. majority of Soviet emigration. He said that the process will be "in "The number for January is sev- full bloom" by next month and that cral times higher than the one for more cases may be decided posi-December," said the Foreign Min-tively.

ARMS: Private Deals Reported (Continued from Page 1) formed of the inquiry but did not prosecute. Both men denied any vrongdoing.

The colonels' activities appear to The colonels' activities appear to have been separate from the Dema-vand project. They also seem to be senarate from the S2 hillion arms were barred, sellers had to arrange separate from the $2 billion arms sales effort that was at the center of a government sting operation in New York City, in which undercover Customs agents gained 17 indict-ments in April 1986 by infiltrating formalities, arms dealers mainwhat they have described as an ille gal arms deal in progress.

The Demayand project was originally to include Harpoon and Sidewinder missiles, 39 F-4 aircraft, 50 M-48 tanks, and at least 25 attack helicopters. Iran since the two countries broke

Although accounts differ on how many weapons were delivered to Iran, evidence shows that contracts vere signed, that millions of dollars in guarantees were deposited in bank accounts by the sellers and the Iranian buyers, and that American military officials were discussing parts of the transaction as late as last August.

Several arms dealers asserted that the Demayand operation was eventually overtaken by the administration's official efforts, which were disclosed in November.

The administration has acknowledged selling 2,008 anti-tank missiles and parts for 235 Hawk missiles to Iran. Six sources families with sales of American arms to Iran said the total arms deliveries to the Tehran government went far be-belongings. When the two tried to Until the administration started they were detained by plainclothes to sell Iran limited amounts of arms from American stocks, American arms bound for Iran had to be found in third countries, which were legally bound by their Pentagon contracts to supply certificates to the United States about the ultieither for the false certification of vent this requirement.

ESCORTS & GUIDES

tained that the total American arms delivered to Iran from the Demayand sales, the limited sales the administration says it authorized beginning in mid-1985, and other efforts, included 12,000 antitank missiles as well as $150 million in military spare parts and 200 advanced Phoenix sir-to-air missiles at more than $1 million each.

Among these who provided information about the Demavand operation was Richard J. Brenneke who drew attention in late Novem ber by asserting that he had told Vice President George Bush's of-fice in February 1986 of secret details about Demayand and other arms sales to Iran and the diversion of government proceeds to the Nicaraguan rebels, known as contras.

Mr. Brenneke has been publicly identified as an Oregon real estate executive, but in recent interviews he showed The New York Times evidence that he was employed for 13 years by the Central Intel Agency. He also said he had been a e-lance consultant for more than 15 years for such organizations as Mossad, the Israeli security agency, as well as French intelligence.

Also interviewed was John H. Delaroque, a French businessman who has been indicted but not apprehended in the New York arms operation. He said the Demayand project was widely known in the government and military.

"Everybody knew about it," he said last week by telephone from France. "But the U.S. government never said to us, 'Stop.' They said, 'Just keep the information flow-

Business executives and arms dealers admitted that they had an interest in saying their dealings had been government-sanctioned. Indially, their assertions might be dismissed as self-serving, but many of the sources independently provided details and documents that setting up the sting operation, were unaware of the new drift in Ameri-

The military officials named by participants, when contacted by The New York Times, referred queries about the Demayand case to government spokesmen. The spokesmen confirmed that certain key meetings were held and documents received, but they declined to respond in detail, citing the congressional and grand jury investiga-

Future of 2 U.S. Bases in Philippines Linked to Vote on New Constitution The United States holds the two

MANILA - The plebiscite on I new constitution may drastically affect the future of the two large U.S. military bases in the Philip-

The draft charter says that after the lease on the U.S. installations expires in 1991, no foreign military ses, troops or facilities will be allowed in the country except under a bilateral treaty. Such a treaty would have to be ratified by twothirds of the Philippine Senate and approved by a majority of voters in a national referendum.

Another provision declares that "the Philippines, consistent with the national interest, adopts and pursues a policy of freedom from muclear weapons in its territory." That could rule out the state

ing of nuclear weapons at Clark Air Base or on board U.S. warships calling at Subic Bay Naval Base. The United States neither confirms nor denies the presence of nuclear weapons in the Philippines. In an interview Sunday on an American television interview pro-gram, former Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile said that if the constitution were approved, "no nuclear-powered or nuclear-armed vessels or airplanes carrying nuclear weapons will be able to enter the American military facilities in the

But Mrs. Aquino's closest adviser, Executive Secretary Joker Arroyo, said "we don't know" the effect of the provision because the United States does not disclose whether it has nuclear weapons in the country.

"Now if the United States should admit the existence of those nuclear weapons, then perhaps a problem will arise," he said.

If the United States were found to have nuclear arms on the bases, Mr. Arroyo added, then "the issue will arise whether it will be in the interest of the Philippine government" for them to remain.

A total of more than 12,000 U.S. troops are based at the two bases.

The main opposition to the U.S. hases comes from leftist groups and militant labor groups consider the bases an infringement on national the Communist Party of the Philip-Aquino's predecessor, Ferdinand E. Marcos, Washington will propines, which has been waging an 18-year rebellion. The party and vide $900 million of economic and military aid over a five-year period .

up to 1990 as rental on the bases. ... MANILA: Aquino Wins Mandate

(Continued from Page 1) ment adopted a tougher anti-Communist stand. From exile in Hawaii, Mr. Marcos alleged that the constitutional referendum was marred by widespread fraud.

There were several acts of violence before and during the plebi-scite, in Manila and in a few other parts of the country.

But most irregularities appeared to be isolated and minor. A spokesman for the National Movement for Free Elections said the plebiscite was held in conditions that were generally free, fair and orderly. The spokesman, Ding Roco, said the plebiscite was "a picnic" compared with previous voting in the

The group fielded trained volunteers to monitor nearly all aspects dynamite and 400 blasting caps from several suspects in Manila had prevented a potentially serious disruption of polling in the capital.

major bases and three small satellite installations under an executive agreement dating from Philippine.

The agreement comes up for formal review next year. Mrs. Aquino has said she will bonor the lease until the 1991 expiration but has refused to commit herself on any

Under terms negotiated by Mrs.

independence in 1946.

_

Soldiers shot and killed five Communist guerrillas who attacked polling stations at Malun-gon in the southern Philippines, where Moslem and Communist re hels are active.

The Communists also campaigned against the constitution in many parts of the country.

In Danso, in Cebu Province, in the central Philippines, soldiers confiscated shotgums and revolvers from private security guards working for Ramon Durano, a former congressman with close ties to Mr. Marcos, after the guards were seen " escorting people to voting pre-

Officials in Butig, in Lanao del of polling and counting of votes. Sur Province, said no voting could take place in the town because 50 staff of the armed forces, said the ballot boxes had been snatched by, seizure by police of 960 sticks of Moslem rebels.

Key Points of Draft Constitution

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatch

MANILA — The proposed Philippine constitution would replace a "freedom constitution" im-posed by President Cornzon C. Aquino, which in turn superseded the constitution of 1973 promul-gated under the first of President Ferdinand E. Marcoe's eight years of martial law.

The charter sharply rednoes the powers of the president, re-establishes a bicameral legislature, increases the authority of the judiciary and affirms Mrs. Aquino's six-year term

Among its provisions are: Presidential term - Six years, with no second term allowed. President Aquino would remain in power until June 30, 1992.

Dower until June 30, 1992.

Legislature — Establishes a two-house legislature similar to the U.S. Congress.

Voting — Congress is empowered to formulate a system allowing the public to directly propose and

Nuclear weapons — Calls on government to pursue muclear-free policy but gives Congress pow-er to allow nuclear arms if "consistent" with na-Land redistribution - Government will undertake "just distribution" of all agricultural lands, enact laws or approve or reject any act or law by referendum, Elections would be held May 11 followed by balloting for local and regional offices on

Aug. 24.

Military — Prohibits military involvement in Martial law - President may declare martial law for period not exceeding 60 days; the legislature

may revoke or extend it.

subject to compensation payments to landlords.

Capital purashment — Allows death penalty if approved by the new legislature but commutes the tences of prisoners now awaiting execution to

THATCHER: U.K. Politicians Refine Their Images

began in 1985, Mrs. Thatcher's personal approval rating continues to slip. In Gallup's monthly Political Index for December, she gets high marks for efficiency, dete and patriotism, but falls lowest in the categories of "caring" and honesty. Only 2 percent of Gallup's respondents said they "like her a lot," while 36 percent professed strong distike

In response, her political managers have begun to draw her away from the sniping tactics of tradi-tional British campaign politics, and are now devoting much of her energy to "soft" appearances, primanily on television.

"We have to remind people of the soft side of Margaret Thatcher," said one of the top campaign planners, who asked that his name not be used. Acknowledging that "people never expect Margaret Thatcher to break down in tears at the sight of some little lost waif and stray," he insisted that "she's a very, very feminine woman at the end of the day."

Labor's leader has the opposite roblem. His strength, said Bryan Gould, a member of Parliament who was appointed recently as Labor's campaign coordinator, "is that he is much more likable person than Mrs. Thatcher, more and trustworthy. He tends to fall short in terms of experience and

Mr. Kinnock is widely credited with pulling the party together af-ter its disastrous defeat in 1983. At the same time, polls rate Labor high above the Conservatives on domestic issues such as unemploy-ment, education and the National Health Service.

But voters seem to have strong doubts that the party, or Mr. Kin-nock, can do much about the country's problems. Labor campaign operatives in recent months have focused their attention on portraying Mr. Kinnock as a sta and a manager who is capable of leading the country. It has been an uphill battle.

While Mr. Kinnock's delivery and the content of his major speeches have been well received, he often appears wordy and waffling in in-Reviewing a recent series of im-

ago-laden party political broadcasts, a commentator, Peter Keliner, wrote that Britons were being treated to "a novel prospect for the next election: Neil Kinnock as the resolute leader versus Margaret Thatcher as the caring prime minister. Never in the field of political conflict has so much clothesstealing been done to impress so voters in so few mi

The Liberal-Social Democratic alliance, trailing third in the polls, has a recognition problem.

Margaret Thatcher demonstrates the science of cooking.

"We have a low profile on the national level," said the Liberals' press spokesman, Jim Dumsday. Although its centrist policies gain wide approval in the abstract, "people just don't know they're our The two heads of the alliance are far more popular and more highly rated as party leaders than either Mrs. Thatcher or Mr. Kinnock. But they, too, have their image prob-lems. Youthful, smiling Mr. Steel of the Liberals is widely considered "a friendly, caring person who er."

Mr. Dumsday said. While David Owen of the Social Democratic Party is viewed as suitably tough and experienced to be prime minister, Mr. Dumsday's Social Democratic counterpart, Simon Lewis, acknowledged that Mr. Owen appears a bit too standoffish for most British voters.

might not be quite up to the job."

Mr. Owen "doesn't appear to enjoy himself as much as Kinnock or even Thatcher," Mr. Lewis said.
"He's not the greatest TV perform-

Liberace Is Close to Death From Anemia, Publicist Says

PALM SPRINGS, California, was near death Monday at his Palm lisease and emphysema, a spokeswoman said.

"It appears that death is immi-nent." Denise Collier, the entertainer's publicist in New York said. "He is not expected to survive more than 24 or 48 hours."

Liberace, 67, left the Eisenhower Medical Center last week after a three-day stay, although he was reported to be in grave condition. Doctors had offered little hope that he would recover.

Togo Opens Border to Change

Acous France-Press LOME, Togo — Togo an-nounced Monday that it was re-opening its border with Ghana.

Seymour Heller, Liberace's personal manager, attributed the ane-Liberace, the flamboyant pianist, mia to a watermelon diet the showman was on last year. Mr. Heller 2005 Springs home with anemia, heart strongly denied a Las Vegas newspaper report that the entertainer had acquired immune deficiency

Friends said Liberace, whose smile, dimples, candelabra ane:+ mink cloaks helped turned his par ano playing into a multimillion + 4

DEATH NOTICE

EDMUND PENDLETON Composer, conductor, organ Born in Cincinnati, Ohio, 1899 Paris, Jan. 30, 1987. Funeral ser be held Wednesday, Feb. 4, at then at the American Church in Parithers d'Orsay, Paris 7°.

Contract

MAJOR CREAT CARDS AND CHECKS ACCEPTED Private Memberships Available LONDON Portman Escort Agency 67 Chiltom Street, Landon W1 Tel: 486 3724 or 486 1158 All major areas cards occupied LONDON KENSINGTON ESCORT SERVICE TO KENSINGTON CHURCH ST, WI TEL: 937 9136 OR 937 9133 All mojer credit cords eccepted. LONDON BELGRAVIA Escert Service. Tel: 736 5877.

ARISTOCATS

Loeden Escart Servica 128 Wigsore St., London W. All major Credit Cards Accept Tel: 437 47 41 / 4742 12 soon - midright

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

(Continued from Back Page) ESCORTS & GUIDES ESCORTS & GUIDES

ROME CLUB EUROPE ESCORT & Guide Service, Tel: 06/587 2604 or 587 1146 (from 4 pm to 9.30 pm)

DUSSELDORF - COLOGNE - EXSEN Penthouse Escort + travel service. Tel: 0211/49 97 84

ESCORT SERVICE from 5pm ROTTERDAM (0) 10-4254155 THE HAGUE (0) 70-60 79 96	BECORT SERVICE, 022/21 91
CAPRICE-NY	* GENEVA BES
CAPRICE-IN I	JESSICA ESCORT SERVICE TEL: 01/242 58 28 (4-11PM
escont service Tel: 01 727 27 67	* * Z U R I C H * * Top Secret Service. Tel 01/41 76

* * ZURICH 558720 * * * AMSTERDAM * Private Tourism Guide Service Credit Cards Accepted ESCORT SERVICE 48 11 20 * MADRID

7) Beaucharap Place, London SW3. Tel: 01 584 6513/2749 (4-12 pm) Comput Escort Service, Tel: 259 90 0 * TOKYO ZURICH - NATHALIE ESCORT/GUIDE SERVICE: 351 2278 ESCORT SERVICE, 01/47 55 82  ZURICH  ZURICH BLUE RIVER Caroline Escort Service, 01/2526174 PSCORT SERVICE, 01/462 13 31

ESCORTS & GUIDES Coroline's Espain & Travel Service.
Tol: 089/43-57-63. KOELN - D'DORF - BONN - ESSEN + area (.C.A. Scort Agency, Credit Cards, Tel: [0211] 34 00 BA. ZURICH * ROMANA ESCORT om quide service. Plus travel. Telephore 01/251 08 92. THENS, EXCLUSIVE ESCORT and Guide Service, Tel: 6527084 TOKYO MULTILINGUAL ESCORT Agency, Tel: Tokyo 586 4674

MUNICH - SECRET ESCORT & Guide Service, Tel: 0897 44 86 038. VIENNA VIP ESCORT SERVICE. Tol. 65 41 58. NEW YORK, RESECCA Escort Service Tal. (212) 684 2175 Service, Tel: 01 370 0634. ONDON SWEDISH ESCORT Seve Tel: (11-834 087). DUSSELDORF BACCARA ESCORT -Inquel service. 0211/35 69 05

CONDON ORIENTAL GUIDE and Ex cort Service. Tel. 01-243 1442

LONDON SLONDIE ESCORT Service Tel-01-584 3873

PLANSCRIET - POLAND Excer Service 069/634159 PLANKFURT "TOP TEN" ESCORT Service. 069/55-88-26 RANKRURT MUMBER ONE Esco Service. Tel: 069/844875 or 844876 OMINA AMSTERDAM ESCOR Guide Service, Tel: (020) 762842 OPENHAGEN/ Stockholm Miss Scan dinavia Escart Service. (45)01-54 17 0

BNGLISH" Cologne/Essen/Dusseldo All areas escort service. (72) 1/38314 718 777-0739 New York, THE CLASS Sourt Service Tel: 01/252 90 18. AMSTERDAM ROSITA ESCORT Service. (0) 20-362833. CHICAGO INTERFACES ESCORT Ser woo 312-642-9222. RANKRURT + AREA Ovising Esca Servica, 069/354656, Gredit Cords MILAN EXCLUSIVE multileguel Servica, Tek (392) 869 1479 WILAN AFTER SIGHT ISCORT Se wice. Tel: (3972) 461 125. MUSSELS, ANN ESCORT Service. To 02-733 88 47. Credit cords accepted

MILISSELS. MICHELE RECORT and Guide Service, Tel: 733 0798 FRANKPURT-069/23 23 80, V.L.P. GENEVA CHRISSIE ESCORT Service Tel: 430 117. ONDON / HEATHROW ESCO! Serves. Ames accepted, 01 743 835 NUNDICH - BLONDY & TANLIA Escot Service. Tet: 311 79 00 or 311 11 00 NUNCH - REMEMBER PSCORT Ser-vice, Tol: 91 23 14 TOKYO BEST MULTILENGUAL Social Agency, Tokyo 436 4598. THE Q1/242 36 57 RANKFURT AREA. Private Collect Escort & travel service. Tel: 62 88 05 HAMBURG - ROYAL ESCORT Ser WEB. Tel: 040/5534145. AADRID IMPACT escort and qui service. Multilingual. 361 4142

ONDON SCORT AGENCY. Tel: 735 5339.

LONDON EXCORT SERVICE. Tol: 937

coincided on key points. Defense lawyers in the $2 billion government sting operation argued that their clients thought their activities were sanctioned by the administration. The lawyers argued that Customs Service officials, in tions of the Iran-contra affair.

ARTS/LEISURE

onstitution

Refine their by

Benny, Not So Good

tional Herald Tribune DARIS - "To Russia Without Love," the bassist Bill Crow's inside story of life at the court of Agnine II ins Mendage the "King of Swing," portrays the late Benny Goodman as a not-sobenevolent despot

Crow's four-part series has just finished running in the monthly Jazzletter published in California. One "I had known for years that Goodman was widely distiked," said Gene Lees, the publisher of Jazzletter, "but I had no idea of the intensity of the feeling. Goodman's behavior seems to have gone well beyond gratuitous cruelty." When Goodman died, various people urged Lees not to publish.

To those who didn't know Benny." one said, "anything you say against him is like insulting Christ. And to those of us who did know him, it's like insulting Mussolini." Any doubts were dismissed when Lees heard a television newscaster say: "Mr. Goodman was a humble and kindly man."

In an appreciation written after Goodman's death last June, the jazz critic Leonard Feather noted that Goodman was often characterized as a difficult and eccentric man. "He demanded dedication and at least a measure of the artistry that he brought to his own work" from his musicians. "When it was given he appreciated it, because nobody was ever more wrapped up in

Goodman was once quoted as saying: "If you're interested in music, you can't slop around." Feather noted that, for every embittered musician who experienced Goodman's critical, steely-eyed "ray" when he muffed a note, "there would be another with whom a pattern of mutual respect emerged."

In his introduction to the series, Lees writes that Goodman called all his musicians "Pops" because he couldn't or wouldn't remember their names, and that he referred to them collectively as "my boys," even though some of them were in their 40s. As with all his female vocalists, he called Helen Forrest "my girl singer." In her autobiogra-phy, Forrest calls Goodman "the rudest man I have ever met."

Goodman told Johnny Guarnieri that he was one of the worst pianists he had ever heard, reduc-

Benny Goodman "treated everyone likes slaves."

pushed his clarinet down over Je- trumpeter Jimmy Maxwell, the piarome Richardson's music stand so nist Wilson and a few others disthat he had trouble reading the cussed quitting parts, until the saxophonist finally

Well before the found the courage to push the clari-net aside. Zoot Sims pushed Good-

Well before the last week, Maxwell telephoned his wife asking her to send a cable saying that his presman aside when the bandleader blocked his route to the microence was urgently required at home. Her cable read: "Come phone. Goodman whistled while home at once the dog died the cat died everybody died." Bud Freeman improvised. The drummer Sidney Catlett was fired shortly after bringing down the house with a solo. The king tolerat-ed no competition from his serfs. Bill Crow is an intelligent experi-

Goodman "stayed at a different hotel than the rest of us," writes Crow. "We only saw him on the job. His manner became severe the hard taskmaster."

Bill Crow is an intelligent, experi-enced, successful musician who has Crow watched Goodman "spit played with everybody, and he on stage, or stand in front of the writes more out of sorrow than bitband absently exploring the depths terness. "Whenever veterans of Goodman's bands find themselves of a nostril or the rear seam of his working together, they tell stories about him, either to marvel once trousers with a forefinger." The author had once respected the "Old Man" for having integrated his again at his paradoxical nature or to exorcise with laughter the trau-ma of having worked for him. The band in the 1930s, one of the first to do so, and for having hired some of stories may sound exaggerated to anyone who never dealt directly the best jazz players available. But there was no more respect once he came to realize that "Benny treated with Benny. Benny apparently did came to realize that "Benny treated something to insult, offend or berace, creed or national origin."

wilder nearly everyone who ever worked for him." The series ends wistfully, with a The story focuses on Goodman's story about one time, unfortunate-1962 State Department-sponsored by all too rare, when "the music was tour of the Soviet Union. During excellent, Benny sounded great and rehearsals, before leaving, the we all left smiling."

Dior Backs Lacroix's Rising Star

PARIS - Christian Lacroix, the ing a sizable number of evening Phottest designer in Paris fashion, gowns — 500 a year at an average will launch a new couture venture price of 70,000 francs. There are with the backing of Bernard Ar- four work rooms, plus a hat work nault, president and major stock-room, and 120 seamstresses. But holder of Financière Agache, the the couture is in the red —as it is at Lacroix resigned Saturday from ready-to-wear. Jean Patou, for which he has de-with Christian Dior," Arnault said at a press conference today. in an interview Sunday.

HEBE DORSEY

Arnault's move to bring Lacroix into the same group as Dior could to go ahead "because Christian is also be a shot in the arm to the one of the best, if not the best, 40th birthday this spring. Arnault excited about the whole thing. This said that when he became president of Dior in 1985, he found a healthy situation with the main revenues is no longer the house that the late Christian Dior made famous with his New Look. This was right after the war and regained for Paris its position as fashion leader.

Today Dior's couture is still sellfinancial group that owns the house most Paris houses — and Dior has not been able to produce successful

Although the new venture will be signed for the last five years. separate from Dior, Lacroix said "We're hoping to do, 40 years one reason he accepted the offer later, what Marcel Boussac did was that Dior "is truly the most elegant, the most French image in the history of couture." The an-nouncement is to be made official

Arnault said that he had never seen a Patou collection but decided older house, which celebrates its designer of his generation. I'm very is even more exciting than buying

Arnault said that "after meeting coming from licenses in the United Lacroix I felt it would be a pleasure States and Japan. But, through the to work with him." He added that years, the house of Dior has lost its he was ready to invest five million luster and its position as a trend-setter. Although the name still would go as far as 50 million francs commands wide recognition, Dior in backing the new company, which will be named for the design-

> Lacroix will be starting in style. reminiscent of the early days of Christian Dior, with a couture house installed in a town house. The house has not been picked yet, but Lacroix expects to be settled by April 1. The first couture collection is scheduled for July, and the first ready-to-wear collection for March 1988. Other products, such as accessories and perfumes, will follow.

Arnault (left) with Lacroix yesterday. Right, a bustle dress from Lacroix's current collection.

Lacroix, 35, has rocketed to fame in three seasons. He has been designing the couture line for Paton for five seasons, but it was his winning a year ago of the De d'Or (or golden thimble, an award given by the French daily Quotidien de Par-is) that crowned his rapid rise. Now the most copied designer in the world, he has radically changed the course of fashion from strict and severe to wild and wacky. He it was who brought back the fun and frivolity of the pouf skirts, bustles and petticoats which have dominated the last couple of seasons. Lacroix said he saw his future couture house as being "modern, contemporary and lighter. Why show 200 dresses when 60 is enough? But we'll remain faithful to the spirit of Paris couture, which is meant to be a dream."

Lacroix added that his next project will be new and different ready-to-wear. "We succeeded in showing that couture could be dif-ferent. We hope we can show another way to do ready-to-wear. It will have to be young and witty and not just about beautiful fabrics. Something else besides dowdy silk dresses in polka dots."

DOONESBURY

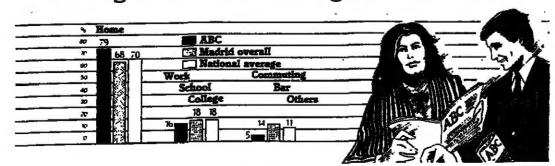

More interesting facts day by day.

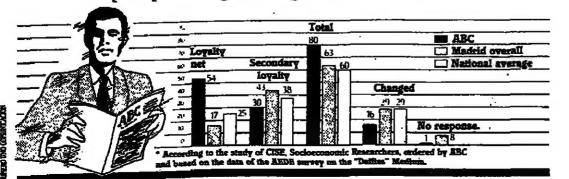

Educational level of regular ABC readers

MADRID OVERALL AND NATIONAL AVERAGE* High School and lower level.

Reading environment of regular ABC readers

Loyalty rating of regular ABC readers

ABC. Madrid's general daily morning newspaper since 1905

ABC. Prestigio de la Prensa de España.

SERRANO, 61 28006 MADRID (SPAIN)

PHONE 34-1-431 71 12

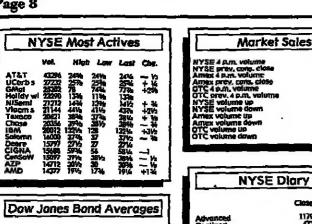

Worldwide subscription rates offer discounts of up to off the newsstand price depending on country of residence. Miami printing makes the global newspaper available day-of-publication in the Americas—just as in Europe and Asia

					-				Just as in Europe and I said.
					sive on addition- hey subscribe.
BUROPE		1 year	6 mas	3 mos.	ASIA		lyegr	3006	To: Subscription Manager
Austria	ASch.		2,600	1,450	Australia (cir mail) SycL. Mal. Periti	US.$	340	97 88	For Latin America/ Confidence (LIT Florida Inc.
Belgum	Afr.	10,700	5,800	3,200	B14-11-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1-1	USS	280	78	1000 Brickell Ave., Suite 1260, Micmi, Fl33131, USA.
Denmark	D.Kr.	2,300	1,250	690	Brunei	US.S	236	64	For North America: IHT Inc., 850 Third Ave., New York, NY 10022, USA.
Felond	F,M.	1,630	890	460	Chins	2.2U	400	105	For Europe: IHT, 181 Ave. Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly Cedex, France.
Fronce	F.F.	1,400	760	420	Guerra	US.$	250	70	For Asia: IHT,7/F Malaysia Bldg., 50 Gloucester Road, Hong Kong.
Сегтопу	DM	_560	309	170	HongKong	HXS	1,085	330	HT, 138 Cecil Street, 07-02 Cecil Court, Singapore 0104.
Great Briton) £	120	65	2	Irdia	U.S.S	250	83	in, to calculation, or the calcount, singupore (104).
Greece	Dr.	20,000	11,000	6,000	indonesa	UŞ.Ş.	314	84	Please enter my subscription for: 1 year 6 months 3 months
Naherland		634	340	190	Japan	US$	406	106	- Total - January
kebard	M£	-	. 77	- 0		U.S. $	190	50	My check is enclosed Please charge my credit card account:
boly	Lire		190,000	105,000	Malaysia	MLS	445	20
Lucentour		10,700	5,800	3200	Nepol	U5.5	195	55	Access Burocord Armex MasterCord Diners Visa
Narway	NKr.	1,650	900	500	N.Zeclord	US.$	360	97	Conformat
Portugal	Ēc.	19,000	10,400	5700		U5.5	262	75	rumber
Spain	Pros.	24,500	14,600	8,000	Philippines	U.S. S	186	54
Sweden	SK.	1,700	920	520	Singapore	SD.S	420	20
Switzerland	Ş.Fr.	490	270	148	SriLordes	U5.$	290	72	Expiry date Signature
Rest of Europ	e, Nort	Africo, for	war Franci	Africa	Toneca	U5.5	253	71.50
Micidle Fost	$	400	220	120	Theiland	U5.5	210	57	Name
Rest of Africa				ľ	Other Asign	USS	250	65	rate
Guf Street	- $	580	300	165	U.S. Terr.	US.$	350	90
AMERICA	٥	l year-	6mos.	3 mas.	AMERICAS	1 year	6 mos.	3mos.	Address
	US. S	297	164	85	Colombo U.S.$	310	155	78
	 	291	164	85	Phone U.S.S	310	155	78	3-2-87
Breezi	U5.$	372	186	94	Verezunio LLS.S	372	186	94	CIP CARLY
Calo	많음	540	270	135	Guatemala U.S.$	310	155	78	* Europe only.

ASLPic
ASLPic
ASLPic
ASLPic
Tris ASIND
T

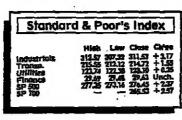

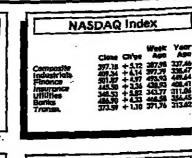

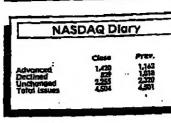

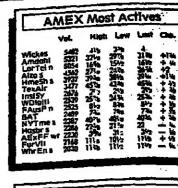

2.51 9.3 1.00 9.5 1.00 9.5 1.00 2.5 14 1.00 1.5 17 2.4 1.6 15 170 2.5 170 2.4 170 16 170 9.5 1.00 9.5

AMEX Stock Index

LongDr Lored LoGeni LoLand LaPac LaPL pi LawGs Lawes Lubras Lubras Lubras Lubras

19th AAACOM
14th 19th AAACOM
14th 19th AAACOM
14th 19th AAACOM
14th 19th AACOM
12th 19th AACOM
18th 19th AACOM
18th 19th AAACOM
18

100s High Law

YSE Higher in Active Trading

NEW YORK - Prices were sharply higher at the close of the New York Stock Exchange

The Dow Jones industrial average, which rose 56.52 last week, was up 21.38 at the close to 2,179.42, a record. Gainers led losers by an 11-5 ratio. The previous record of 2,163.39 was set

Volume was about 178.24 million shares, up from 163.36 million Friday.

Prices were higher in active trading of American Stock Exchange issues.

A depressed dollar provided much marker's impetus as companies with foreign operations, such as technology issues and autos, moved sharply higher.

A weaker dollar improves the competitiveness of many companies that do business overseas as U.S. products become cheaper to foreign buyers.

"The decline of the dollar helps out the dollar-related stocks, and that includes many of the big capitalization stocks," Dan Marciano, a trader of Prudential Bache Securities, said. That is why we are seeing so much strength in

GM's problems with sales and production. Bro-kerage house Sanford C. Bernstein raised it position on GM to "aggressive buy." Traders noted that U.S. autos companies, whose biggest competition comes from West

Germany and Japan, are natural beneficiaries of 1/2 to 241/4. of the slumping dollar. Ford Motor rose 1% to 75% and Chrysler % to 48%. Reports over the weekend that the Group of Five nations would not meet this week beloed to

77 | Chi BosE pr 274 274 Boveth 4014 274 Brisil 1114 374 Brisil 1114 375 Brisil 1114 375 Brisil 1114 77 Brisil 124 77 Brisil 124 77 Brisil 124 77 Brisil 124 27 Brisil 124 Brisil 124 Brisil 124 Brisil 124 Brisil 124 Brisil 124 Brisil 125 Brisil 126 Brisil 127 Brisil 128 Brisil 128 Brisil 128 Brisil 128 Brisil 128 Brisil 128 Brisil 129 Brisil 120 Bris

新花型有限数型

better-than-expected trade figures for December were reported.

day when the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, Paul A. Volcker, failed to state explicitly that the dollar has fallen enough Semiconductors rose sharply after reaffirmed opinions by analysts assuming increases in January orders for the entire industry, traders and

The dollar came

Texas Instruments gained 4% to 146%, Intel 3½ to 34%, Motorola 2% to 47% and National Analysts pointed to a bullish report on January economic growth by the National Association of Purchasing Management as another boost to manufacturers, including semiconductor producers. The purchasing managers reported strong gains in new orders, production and

"The report by the purchasing managers is consistent with the idea that the manufacturing component of the economy is improving, and indeed we may be beginning to take market these super from some furnish component in a share away from some foreign competition," a market analyst, Hugh Johnson, of First Albany Co. said, noting that the declining dollar may be partially responsible for that. Computers welcomed a further dollar fall.

IBM rose 31/2 to 13214, Data General 11/4 to 35, and Cray Research 2% to 114%. ATT, which for the fourth quarter, led the actives with a loss group led by movie chain magnate Summer Redstone proposed a takeover of Viacom at $44.75 in cash and securities plus stock in the surviving company.

17 kg 140 kg 7.24 kg 127 kg 130 kg 120 kg 141 kg 141 kg 142 kg 143 kg 144 kg

ESG | 54 | 17 |

P4 ESG | 54 | 18 |

P4 ESG | 54 | 18 |

P4 ESG | 61 | 10 | 93 |

P4 ESG | 61 | 10 | 93 |

P4 ESG | 10 | 10 |

P4 ESG | 10 |

P4 ESG | 10 |

P4 ESG | 10 |

P4 ESG | 10 |

P4 ESG | 10

STORES AND PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF THE PART

| The state of the

| The state of the

30% 31 + 30 15 15 - 36 25% 25% + 36 15% 55% + 46 15% 55% + 46 25% + 46 25% +

dels to Laire martin of the INTERNATION

art afte 🙀

The state of the s A DE CONTROL DE CONTRO

To see the see that the see tha

The second secon

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1987

'Sacrosanct,'

Lucrative Deal

Faces Review

By John Burns
New York Times Service
TORONTO — A ready measure of Canada's thriving anto industry can be taken from the 270-mile section of Highway 401

that links Oshawa, cast of Toron-

Curving gently for 435 kilometers across the pasturelands of southern Ontario, the four-lane

roadway is an asphalt conveyor belt, carrying to the United States some of the thousands of new vehicles that move each month from the modern assembly plants that U.S. automobile and truck manufacturers have built in Oshawa, Oakville, Windsor and other Ontario towns along the highway.

That traffic results from what many Canadians view as the best with the United States - the Canadian-U.S. Automotive

Products Trade Agreement,

signed 22 years ago.
So it caused a major flap last month, when Peter Murphy, the chief American negotiator in trade talks with Canada, said in Machineton the chief and talks with Canada.

Washington that it was "very critical" to those talks that the

His remarks stunned Canadians, whom Prime Minister Brian Mulroney and other officials had been assuring that the auto pact was "sacrosanct" and not to be renegotiated unless Washington offered more jobs and invest-ment for Canada.

After Mr. Murphy's remarks were reported, David Peterson, Ontario's premier, threatened to call an election on the issue. In Ottawa, opposition parties accused the government of prepar-ing to sacrifice the industry, with its base in central Canada, to gain concessions for resource in-

Although officials in Onawa denied that the auto pact was up for barter, an official memoran-

By Warren Getler

LONDON - A threat last month by Argyll Group PLC to sue takeover tactics during last year's battle for Distillers Co. would, if carried out, involve the two companies in litigation without precedent

in recent British corporate law, ac-

A damages suit, these experts agree, would plow such new legal ground that its outcome would more likely be determined by Parliament than on the basis of exist-

"Any such case would likely go all the way to the House of Lords ing case law.

ational Revald Tribune

ss plu ior the use of illegal dustries elsewhere.

auto pact be reviewed.

deal that Canada ever struck to, with the border at Detroit

U.S. Auto Pact Worrying Canada

from the current level of 5.5 per-

Mr. Volcker told the panel that the dollar's decline so far had been benign. But he said the inflation rate could begin to accelerate later

Aside from pressures from a weakening dollar, which will increase the price of imported goods, he noted, declines in oil prices had been reversed, which will add to inflationary pressures this year.

At the same time, Mr. Volcker said the United States needed to continue efforts to reduce the merchandise-trade and federal budget

come even more difficult, com-

Last week the government re-ported that the U.S. trade deficit was a record $169,8 billion in 1986.

U.S. Spending

On Construction

Down in Month

WASHINGTON - U.S.

spending on construction dropped 0.5 percent in December, for the second consecutive monthly decline, the govern-

The Commerce Department said building activity totaled $376 billion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate in December.

down from a November rate of $377.9 billion. The November activity represented a 1.7 percent drop from October.

ment reported Monday.

pounding the risks for the future,

"If we delay, the adjustments be-cent until the spring.

in the year.

INTERNATIONAL STOCK MARKETS

New Head of Madrid Bourse Acts to Lure Foreign Funds

By JULES STEWART

ADRID - The new chairman of the Madrid ADRID — The new chairman of the Madrid Bourse, Enrique José Benito, says he will push ahead with market reforms aimed at attracting more foreign investment. "We have to speed up reforms such as opening the stock exchange to foreign companies and speeding up the settlement system." Mr. Benito said in an interview.

These reforms, he continued, would help attract more foreign investment to the Bolsa de Madrid — as the bourse is formally called. It experienced a record rise last year, largely fueled by European institutional investors.

"We expect these changes to take place in a context of expansion for the economy and hence for the stock ex-"We are looking change," he said.

Mr. Benito took over as head of the exchange last month from Manuel de la Concha, who had proposed a two-year timetable to allow foreign companies to quote their shares in Madrid.

Mr. Benito said. Both men are partners in the CMB stockbroker firm. Mr. Benito, 52, has been a broker on the Madrid Bourse since 1968. He was elected chairman of the

for a year of expansion aided by

low interest rates,"

exchange for a two-year term. The Madrid index rose by a record 108 percent last year compared with 30 percent in the previous year.

Until this year, the index was reset at 100 at the start of each year, so in 1986 it finished at 208. But now, the Madrid Bourse has decided to use the same system as other major markets - to

Starting at 208 on Jan. 1, the index had risen to 245.91 at the close of trading on Monday.

The index is made up of 72 Spanish securities. Trading is dominated by a handful of concerns, mainly the telephone company Telefonica, big banks such as Banesto and Central and electrical utilities such as Iberduero and Hidrola.

The original two-stage plan called for granting clearance first to fixed-income securities, instruments of international agencies and straight debentures of European Community firms with Spanish affiliates, which would be listed this year.

Final deregulation was to come next year, when foreign companies would be allowed to quote in Madrid.

HE NEW chairman said he wanted to move faster to internationalize the Bourse and provide more securities to meet rising demand. He noted that foreign companies, attracted by Spain's buoyant economy, had expressed interest in placing their shares in Madrid.

"We are looking to a year of expansion sided by low interest He added that the Madrid index would probably show more moderate growth this year, but that foreigners would remain net buyers.

Market analysts said foreign investment and improved corporate performance were the key factors in last year's record index

Foreign turnover in the Madrid Bourse topped $4.2 billion last year, compared with $930 million the previous year. With $777 million, Britain was the top investor country, followed by West

Currency Rates

Corramor per U.S.I Mez. peso 977.80 N. Zeolead 5 1262 Nils. point 2,1441 Norw. krene 7.012 Phil. peso 20,36 port. escuelo 130,55 Sing. 5 2,127 S. Afr. resti 2,054

Interest Rates

Steriles 11 H-11 H

11-11 W

Asian Bellar Deposits

Telerate taterest Rate lades: 5,989

Gold

Lusenbours, Paris and London official Bu-lass; than Kens and Zurich appains and choins prices: New York soot market cless, All prices in U.S. Sper puncs.

405.15 407.24 406.25 406.75 497.85

Source: Merrill Lynch, Telerate.

Hamp Kons 40.25 Lucustibeurs 40.25 Paris (12.5 kile) 407.55 Zurich 406.45 London 406.45 New York

Feb. 2

5.87

Chips

Germany and Switzerland. Total turnover on the Bourse last year was $37.6 billion.

Other Bellar Values

Correscy war U.S.1
Pin. marridia 4./98
Greek drec. 130.09
Hotos Korni 5 7.775
Loddon rurose 12.97
Indo, rurose 12.97
Indo, rurose 12.975
Loddon rurose 12.976
Loddon rurose 12.976
Loddon rurose 12.977
Assanz, rise. 2.533

D-Mark
4 No-4 No

11 1/14 19 43/44

874 874 87/16 874 87/18

Key Money Rates Fd. 2

West Certain'

New Offer Made for Viacom

Theater Chain Tops Buyout Bid

NEW YORK — National Amusements Inc. offered Monday to acquire Viacom International Inc. for cash and preferred stock it valued at $44.75 a share. The offer tops a $44-a-share offer for the en-tertainment and communications giant made by a management-led group. National Amusements, a closely held theater-chain operator based in Dedham, Massachusetts, already holds about 6.9 million, or 19.6 percent, of Viacom's 32,3 million common shares outstanding. Including Viacom's other securities that can be converted into common stock. Viacom has a total of 53.4 million common shares and cuivalents outstanding.

Under National Amusement's offer, the cost of buying those re-maining shares would be $2.08 bil-

Directors of Viacom already have accepted the manage group's offer of $37 a share in cash and $7 face value of preferred stock, or $2.35 billion.

They had rejected two previous buyout proposals by the management group.

Under its latest offer, the management group, which includes Terrence A. Elkes, Viacom's president and chief executive, also would assume about $550 million in Viacom debt, lifting the total value of that agreement to $2.9 bil-

The buyout group also reportedly includes Viacom's three financial advisers. Donaldson, Lufkin & Jefrette Securities Corp., Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc. and First Boston Cosp.

offer called for Viacom stockholders to receive $37.50 in cash and $7.25 in preferred stock for each of

After National Amusements' announcement, Viscom's common stock jumped $2.50 a share to close at $43,875 on the New York Stock Exchange on Monday.

Viacom operates several television and radio stations and distributes syndicated TV programs.

The company also operates ca-ble-TV systems that serve about 850,000 subscribers and owns such cable programmers as Showtime-The Movie Channel and MTV mu-

Ammirrdom 2,875 1.114 1229 2.151 1.184 - 2.467 12.14 12.151 2.165 - 2.467 12.14 12.151 12.165 - 2.467 12.14 12.151 12.165 - 2.467 12.14 12.165 - 2.467 12.14 12.165 - 2.467 12.165 1 BofA to Sell Schwab Unit To Founder

Clostings in Lundon and Zurich, fixings in other European centers, New York rotes of 4 P.M. (a) Commercial fram: (b) Amounts needed to buy one point (c) Amounts needed to buy one point (c) Amounts needed to buy one coller (*) Units of 186 x, Units of 186 x, C, not quoted; H,A.; not available.
(d) 79 bay one power! sU.S.1.21 SAN FRANCISCO - The financially troubled BankAmerica Corp., the second largest U.S. banking company, said Monday that it had agreed to sell the profitable Charles Schwab discount brokerage to a group of investors led by the unit's founder and name-

> Bank America said it was selling Schwab to CL Acquisition Corp. for $175 million in cash, $55 million in securities and the right to receive 15 percent of the appreciation in value of common stock issued by the new company over eight years.

The sale was expected to result in a pretax gain of about $130 million. the company said. It lost $855 million in the past two years. The discount brokerage, which carned $66 million last year, was purchased by the banking company in 1983 for $57 million in Ban-kAmerica common stock. In November, after a merger offer from First Interstate Bancorp, BankAmerica said it would sell the Schwab subsidiary as part of a restructuring aimed mainly at avoiding a takeover.

Another Sale

Bank of Ireland said Monday it Mr. Balladur said that French had signed a letter of intent with investors might get as many as nine BankAmerica for a British subsid-shares, but that the figure would million ($37.75 million) in cash, Renters reported from London.

BankAmerica Finance, a British home-mortgage subsidiary, is estimated to have earned pretax profits of £5.4 million in 1986. Net assets would get one free share, he said are estimated at £7 million.

Mulroney. In May, Canadian and U.S. Ontario, where 90 percent of Canadian auto production is con-Argyll vs. Guinness: Plowing New Legal Ground on easing the agreement's safe-guards for Canadian production.

nadian anto plants duty-free access to the U.S. market in return for reciprocal rights in Canada for U.S. plants has been one of the biggest spurs to Canada's development since the Canadian Pacific Railroad was completed

As a result of the pact Canada

Output in 1985 was I.9 million

vahicles, double the figure for 1965 and nearly 45 percent larger

130,000 workers and provide one in three manufacturing jobs in Canada's automakers employ then Britain's auto output.

has become one of the world's

The agreement that gave Ca-

Canadian cars near the Ambassador Bridge into Detroit.

dum leaked to the press implied to $3.5 billion (4.6 billion Canathal negotiators might be flexible dian dollars).

ness bettered Argyll in a £2.7 bil- against Guinness, which also have a claim on grounds of common

Restructuring of production by the major U.S. manufacturers that operate plants on both sides of the border - General Motors

Ford, Chrysler and Renault-

AMC -- has brought economic seemed to lie with the Canadians, who have gone from a defi-cit in the early 1970s in trade with the United States in vehicles and parts to a $3.6 billion stuplus to Canada's overall merchandise-trade surplus with the Unit-ed States, $12.8 billion in 1985.

New pressure to change the pact developed after a major trading initiative taken by Mr.

See CANADA, Page 13

This has contributed heavily

But lately the advantages have benefits to both countries.

offer more attractive to Distillers come from Distiller's over a period stockholders. The share-support operation, which has been linked to a host of cording to legal experts and market prominent merchant banks and investors both in Britain and abroad, reportedly boosted the value of Guinness's final share offer by 25 After the disclosures, Argyll, a supermarket chain, said it would press a claim for damages for hav-ing been "unfairly denied" victory by Guinness, Britain's biggest brewing and distilling concern. It for resolution] because it will be such a novel action," said Lord Wedderburn, a prominent legal scholar at the London School of A senior Argyll official, who spoke on the condition that he not be named, suggested last week that any suit would follow government The potential for an action stems from recent disclosures that Guin- charges of criminal wrongdoing has yet to file such an action, how-to make Guinness's cash-and-stock estimates for a lost stream of inof years into the future," the official said. But, he added, the company still had not fully assessed the scope of any potential claim against Guinness.

The basis for considering such a suit, legal experts indicate, is sec-tion 151 of Britain's 1985 Companies Act. The statute prohibits companies from providing financial assistance to third parties for the buying of its own shares, except under the most limited circum-The Theft Act, governing fraud broadly defined, may also apply in the Guinness case, they said.

But because of its very novelty, lawyers say, any damages claim by Argyll would be inherently weak. On the other hand, they speculate, lion ($3.8 billion) takeover fight for not been filed. The part by artificially buoying its own stock price. A higher stock price would have acted to £300 million, reflecting, in part, "Distillers shareholders" fraud by Distillers shareholders "Our claim will run into some would present a much stronger Distiller shareholders mav a claim that holds up better than any posed by Argyll," said Colin nford, a corporate law attorney with Oppenheimers.

"I would guess the basis for Argyll's case is pretty weak from the start—the claim of the sort they're talking about [being defrauded of victory in a takeover battle by illegal share manipulation] would be

Mr. Bamford pointed out that it does not "follow logically" from any conspiracy charge against Guinness that Argyll would have got Distillers in the end.

"Guinness is a lot bigger than Argyll, and it would seem reasonable that Guinness may have topped Argyll's final cash offer

See ARGYLL, Page 13

Volcker Warns The Dollar Has Fallen Enough

WASHINGTON - The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board. Paul A. Volcker, said Monday that the dollar had fallen to a point where further declines could be Asked whether the dollar was at a point where it could generate inflationary pressures, Mr. Volcker told the Joint Economic Committee of Congress: "Yes, we are at that point."

Although Mr. Volcker has often warned about the inflationary dangers of too fast a decline in the dollar, his testimony Monday was the first time he has said that the dollar has fallen far enough. He said that problems over the dollar could tie the hands of the Federal Reserve, the central bank, in directing the economy. "Clearly, renewed inflationary pressures and weakness in the dol lar externally would be factors limiting our flexibility," he said.

The dollar fades in Europe and in New York. Page 13.

The dollar has declined about 45 percent against the Deutsche mark in the past 18 months.

That decline had been constructive in helping the United States improve its trade balance, Mr. Volcker said, but it had its dangers.

"Uncertainties about the future direction of currency values could dampen the willingness of others to place or maintain funds in the United States," he said.

If foreign investors start to shy away from dollars, the U.S. central bank could be forced to raise interest rates to maintain the flow of foreign capital.

Many financial analysts had expected a reduction in the discount rate, which the Fed charges to

Analysts had been forecasting that construction spending would weaken under high va-cancy rates as well as the impact banks, early this year. Many now expect the Fed to delay another cut of the new tax law.

In another report Monday the government said that U.S. productivity of goods and services fell sharply the last three months of 1986 to limit the annual gain to less than I percent for the second consecutive year. Nonfarm business productivity dropped at an annual rate of 1.7 percent in the fourth quarter, giving a total productivity the Labor Department said.

ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

EXTERNAL U.S. $ BONDS BONOS NOMINATIVOS

THE WESTON

GROUP

Enquiries to: CH-1003 LAUSANNE 2 Rue de la Paix. Telex: 25869. Tel.: 021/20 17 41.

Response to Paribas Offering Forces a Cut in Allocation

PARIS - Overwhelming demand for Compagnie Financière de Paribas has forced the government to scale down its allocation to small investors, Finance Minister Edonard Ballador said.

Speaking on television Sunday, he said that three million investors had put in bids for the denationalization offering, forcing the gov-ernment to back down from a pledge to meet in full all bids for up to 10 shares.

Ten percent of a 6.3 million share offering to foreign investors will be pulled back and redirected to the domestic market, he said.

iary to purchase the share capital of not be known until Feb. 12, when Bank America Finance Ltd. for £25 shares in the government-owned banking group will be quoted on the Paris stock exchange.

Asked about the government's promise that small investors holding the 10 shares for 18 months this would be maintained in pro-

A total of 14.7 million shares. representing 32 percent of Paribas's equity, were offered to the public for 405 francs ($67) a share.

Mr. Balladur rejected criticism that Paribas, nationalized by the former Socialist government, had been "given away" at a share price far below the level at which shares

On Monday, French investment banks and stockbrokers quoted gray-market prices ranging from 485 to 498 francs for Paribas

The Paribas sale was part of a five-year plan by the rightist government to return 24 government-owned groups worth an estimated 300 billion francs to the private

(Reuters, AP, AFP)

portion to the final issue as a "frac-

have been quoted on the "gray market," which trades new issues before their official listing.

> Mr. Balladur said the offer price was fixed by an independent commission. Share ownership involved risks, he said, and risks merited

Special People, serving Special People-Fly with Jet Aviation, the leading international aviation organization, with more than 60 strerest and thirteen beses worldwide. We have a variety of Business Jets to precisely match your mission and budget, and also offer a complete range of services, including ground handling, fuel, crew support, maintenance, completion, returbishment, aircraft management, con-sulting, technical assistance, as well as leasing and financing. Our executive charter fleet – available around-the-clock: Citation //II, Citation III – Learjet 35, Learjet 36 – BA 125 – Falcon 10, Falcon 20, Falcon 50 Jetstar II – Challenger 800 – Guifstream II/III – Boeing 727 – Boeing 707 – DC-8/72

iet aviation

THE AUDEMARS PIGUET PERPETUAL CALENDAR Nothing can equal THE ORIGINAL.

The first automatic ultra-thin Perpetual Calendar in the world.

Audemars Piguet

La plus prestigieuse des signatures.

For information, please write to Audemars Piguet Cr Cie S.A. 1348 Le Brassus, Switzerland

Markets Closed

Markets were closed Monday in Malaysia and Taiwan for the New

| 14th Printley | 16 | 25 | 16 | 15 | 19 | 18th | 1

| Fig. | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 144 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 | 156 20 869 16's 15's 16t's 16 17 1780 48 47 47'12 + 56 800 38 17 368 264 264 2644 18 180 48 15' 348 264 264 2644 18 180 47 15 15 15 374 25's + 56 370 9 10 147 362's 36 36 4 19

US. Futures

NYSE Highs-Lows

Alrah Fri Americas pri Americas pri Asperitalis de la constanta de la constant Amerites Amisc pi
AVEMCO s
AVEMCO s
Selicas s Carptech
Chevron
Chevro
Chevron
Chevro
Chevron
Chevro

West German Bank Asks To Open Office in East

DUSSELDORF — Westdeutsche Landes-bank Girozentrale said Monday that it hoped to become the first West German bank to open an office in East Berlin.

A spokesman for the commercial bank linked the project to plans to expand activities in financing trade between East and West Germany. He declined to comment on the political implications of a move into East Berlin and sources said the plan might be rejected by officials in Bonn.

Britain, France and the United States, which Britain, France and the Onice States, which administer West Berlin, do not recognize East Berlin as being part of East Germany.

To open an office in East Berlin, WestLB requires approval from the central bank of North Rhine-Westphalia, where it is based; from the Bundesbank, the central bank, and

First ECU Coins Will Be Issued By Belgium for EC Anniversary

from the Economics Ministry in Bonn.

The Associated Press BRUSSELS — To symbolize European mon-etary integration. Belgium will issue the first European currency unit coins.

Officials said Monday that the national bank planned to issue the gold and silver coins in denominations of 20 ($22.80) and 100 ECU for the 30th anniversary of the European Community on March 25. The ECU is the joint currency for the community.

The Daily Source for International Investors.

+014; +014; +004; +01 +01; +01;

11.07 61.07 87.08 87.08 87.08 87.08 87.08

U.S. Economy Soared In Month, Buyers Say

New York Times Service NEW YORK - The economy's rate of growth increased sharply in January, according to a report of U.S. purchasing managers.

Forty percent of the responding managers reported gains in new orders, and only 15 percent reported declines from the previous month, the highest positive response since April 1984. Thirty-seven percent reported increased production, while only 12 percent reported reductions, the National Association of Purchasing Management said Sunday.

The purchasing managers' composite index jumped to 55.8 percent, the highest since July 1984, from 50.4 percent the previous month. Generally, a reading above 50 percent indicates that the economy is expanding. The survey is based on replies from purchasing managers in 250 industrial companies.

Robert J. Bretz, chairman of the association's business survey committee, said: "The substan-tial increase in new orders suggests healthy production levels for the first quarter." London Paris Commodities 1,235 1,242 1,290 1,310 1,345 1,490 10 tons 1,245 1,366 1,254 1,325 1,365 1,400 1,240 1,266 1,300 1,335 NLT. 1,410

1,185 1,235 1,240 1,260 1,262 1,300

1,480 1,495 1,530 1,540 1,570

Bid 193.60 New, New, New, New,

Asian Commodities

SINGAPORE GOLD FUTURES U.S.S per omes

High Low High Low N.T. Volume: 8 lots of 100 or. SINGAPORE RUBBER Singapore cents per kilo Case RSS 1 Mar 172.00 192.50 182.50 RSS 2 Mar 182.00 187.00 RSS 2 Mar 182.50 182.50 RSS 3 Mar 182.50 182.50 RSS 5 Mar 172.00 172.00 RSS 5 Mar 17

Japanese Wages Rise 3.1%

TOKYO - The average monthly wage of a Japanese worker rose by 3.1 percent in 1986, the Labor Ministry reported Monday. It put the average monthly wage at $2,135

Commodities

COCOA Sterling May Jily Sap Dec Mar Volum A per metric form 1.22 1.306 1.311 1.312 1.306 1.311 1.312 1.346 1.341 1.352 1.366 1.376 1.376 1.376 1.376 1.376 1.376 1.377 1.401 1.402 1.405 1.407 1.407 1.408 1.405 1.407 1.407 1.408 1 1,317 1,321 1,351 1,352 1,382 1,383 1,411 1,412 1,435 1,440 1,465 1,466 1,485 1,488 Index Options 1,410 1,615 1,435 1,440 1,650 1,655 1,670 1,770 1,670 1,770 1,770 1,720

Volume: 2,972 lots of 16 loss.

COFFEE Serting per ametric fon Mary 1,620 1,585 1,415 1,429 1,449 1,425 1,44

London Metals

Feb. 2

Prev. Day Open Inf. 46,725 Up 3,177
In V.B. TREASURY (CBT)
SIBLOD prin- pix 8 32nds of 100 pct
105-1 10-1 10-1 100-5 100-6
100-1 100-1 100-5 100-6
100-1 100-1 100-5 100-6
100-1 100-1 100-5 100-6
Est. Seles
Prev. Day Open Inf. 57,500 of 13,225 Moody's: base 100: Dec. 31, 1931. s-preliminary; f-final Reuters: base 100: Sep. 18, 1931. Daw Jones: base 100: Dec. 31, 1974. Market Guide Dividends

Spot Commodities 51.55 1.25 1.25 20.00 0.27 0.27 0.27 0.47 0.47 0.41 S&P_100

Commodity Indexes

US.Treasuries Prev. Yleid . 5,76 5,85 5,93 5.51 5.60 5.60 .27 5.94 5.9. Offer 17 20/32 Cource: Saloman Brattmes. Marrill Lyach Treesury lode: Dongs for the day: — 6.10 Average yield: 6.98 %

DM Futures

Options

Workers at Deere End 163-Day Labor Dispute Strike Price Feb 13 2.40 54 1.45 55 0.46 56 0.70 57 0.06 58 0.01

United Press International MOLINE, Illinois — Thousands of employees of Detre & Co., the maker of farm equipment, began returning to work Monday after a 163-day labor dispute.

More than 85 percent of the 12,000 active and 10,000 laid-off Deere workers at 14 United Auto

Workers locals in six states voted Sunday to end the strike-lockout by ratifying a 20-month contract offering job security, improved pensions and higher pay. The work stoppage was the longest in the company's history. no responsibility whatsoever for any twentents for offerings of any kind.

ः उद्गयसम्ब بالإعاشان (ंं े दे इस्ति केंद्र Acres (Sec.) the forest Part Burbus Stranger and aranga Mga ter alter - Marie gradings. innicence), The general section of the Control o Submit and a combination A. 31 Sept. 1. 1888 Company of a reed Same as we need up. Sale was the sale of the late. The second second second second

 $\sim 1.77\,\mathrm{geomet}$

 $S(k) \approx (\lambda_{ij})$

22112 G

 $\mathbb{R}^{n}_{+}(\mathcal{Z}_{t-1}, \mathcal{Z}_{t-1})$

2 in .

 $\cong 4 (\operatorname{Ree}_{A})$

The state of the s district the The Contract of the Contract o And the second of the Boundary Section of the late Charles Coldenibe Course Confiden The state of the s Same

REILL: Wegal Ground

Salues (15 (15 than beth) 55,781,5 Title Bar . 4 4:41 13 11 14 149 5

100

. : 4

Feb Apr Mor 021 5.79 0.22 0.56 0.64 0.44 0.27 0.97 0.77 0.11 1.46 1.33 1.67 — 2.03 Apr 3,04 2,31 1,67 1,18 0,80 0,53 2.58 1.80 1.10 0.72 0.42 0.24 Estimated total vol. 13.612 Catis: Fri. vol. 8.674 come in Parts: Fri. vol. 8,745 copen i Certain offennes of securities, financial services or interests in real entage published in this newspaper are not authorized in orrain jurisdenees in which the International Harald Tribune is distributed, including the United States of America, and do not constitute offenness of securities, services or interests in these jurisdictions. The International Herald Tribute assumes no responsibility when the formation of the services or interests in these jurisdictions.

11.6 7 --- " Ereist

time Wins Manager

Shamrock Strengthens Bid Defense

over bid by T. Boone Pickens, in- and chief executive. William H. gin in about 90 days. cluding its own tender offer for 20 Bricker, said. million common shares, the spinoff of a new public company and executive changes.

Diamond Shamrock's $17-ashare offer overtakes the $15 cash offered for 20 million Diamond Shamrock shares on Jan. 7 by Lucky Partners, which is made up of Mr. Pickens's Mesa Limite Partnership of Amarillo, Texas, and Harbert Corp., the company of the construction magnate John Lucky now owns 5 million shares, or 4.5 percent, of the energy company. It said the bid for up to 20 million shares, which would give it 22.5 percent of Diamond Shamrock, was a step toward acquiring the entire equity interest.

Lucky Partners had set Wednesday as the deadline for its offer.
Diamond Shamrock closed at $14.625 Monday on the New York Stock Exchange, up 12.5 cents. in other defensive measures, Prudential Insurance Co. of Ameri-

AIRBUS:

tive trade sauctions.

Dispute Persists

(Continued from Page 1)

the talks said that Washington did not want the issue to lead to puni-

"We want the issue to be handled on an industry level," said Bruce

Smart, undersecretary for international trade at the Commerce Department. "We don't want this to be the source of a trade action."

The United States, prompted by complaints of unfair practices from

Boeing Co. and McDonnell Doug-sufficient concern about profit.

view to commercial return, the argument goes, enables Airbus to sell its planes at sharp discounts and puts U.S. manufacturers at an unfair disadvantage. Mr. Smith said the Reagan administration had requested the dis-cussions with the Airbus government sponsors to make them aware that such subsidization was viewed at the highest levels in Washington as a violation of the GATT Agreement on Trade in Civil Aircraft.

But Mr. Pattie said he and his European colleagues had rejected allegations of unfair subsidies, asserting that Airbus governments actions were "totally compatible of West Germany, has placed a firm order for the A-340, totaling McDonnell has received nearly 60 firm orders for its MD-11 from

Mr. Smith and he told the Euro peans of U.S. concern that Airbus reportedly was trying to undercut tentative agreements between Mc-

Donnell and various airlines interested in the MD-11 by making when, as he asserted, the U.S. civil aviation industry has benefited indirectly from more than $47.5 bil-lion in government defense contracts over the past 15 years. There is a widespread perception in the European capitals that the an Community was compelled again last week, as in a series of trade disputes in recent years, to accode to U.S. pressure. So observers here say that on the counteroffers at large discounts. As far as Britain is concerned, Mr. Pattie said, "we take some ex-ception at being lectured to" by the Americans on aircraft subs

15 planes. Air France has signaled

13 airlines of different nations.

with our GATT obligations. Only one carrier, Lufthansa AG

nents have spent billions of

ca has purchased $300 million of a and marketing company to its new issue of preferred stock carry-shareholders as a new public com-DALLAS - Diamond Sham- new issue of preferred stock carryrock Corp. on Monday announced ing an annual dividend of $9.75, pany.

Several measures to fend off a takeDiamond Shamrock's chairman The > Prudential will have the right to elect up to three directors to the company would be distributed for Diamond Shamrock board, Prodential will remain an investor and has agreed not to acquire addition-

Diamond Shamrock, based in Dalias, also will spin off its refining

LONDON — Morgan Grenfell Group, parent of the British invest-ment bank, announced Monday

The amouncement follows the resignations of several officers over Morgan Grenfell's involvement in the Guinness PLC share-trading case. The executive committee will be chaired by Sir Peter Carey, who

COMPANY NOTES

The tax-free distribution will be-

Mr. Bricker said he anticipated that one common share of the new every four common shares outstanding of Diamond Shamrock. The new company, which expects to pay annual dividends of 40 cents a share, will include Diamond Shamrock's existing refineries,

Mr. Bricker also said that, effective immediately, Charles L. Blackburn would become president and chief executive officer of the com-

Mr. Bricker will remain as chairoff, when Mr. Blackborn will assume the additional title of Diamod Shamrock said share holders who may have already ten-dered to Mr. Pickens's $15 offer could withdraw before midnight

Wednesday.

France Sets Price Of 500 Million Francs for CGCT

PARIS - The Finance Minstry set a price of 500 million francs ($82.87 million) on Mon-day on the public telephone business of Cie. Générale de Constructions Téléphoniques, the government-owned maker of telephone equipment.
Unlike previous offerings under the government's denationalization program, CGCT, which holds 16 percent of France's public telephoneswitching market, will be sold to a single buyer rather than offered to the public.

CGCT, formerly a subsidiary of ITT Corp., was nationalized in 1982. Groups reported to be interested in buying CGCT in-clude American Telephone & Telegraph, Siemens AG of West Germany, LM Ericsson of Sweden and Northern Telecoms of Canada.

CGCT reported a loss of 200 million francs for 1985.

Kuwait Petroleum Reports Profits Fell 74% in Year

KUWAIT - Kuwait Petroleum Corp. said Sunday that its profit fell 74 percent in the year that ended June 30, and it blamed lower oil prices and severe competition on world markets for refined prod-

KPC, a government-run corporation, controls oil production and processing in Kuwait.

The annual report showed that profits dropped from 209 million dinars ($750 million) in fiscal 1984-85 to 54 million dinars the following year, The Kuwaiti oil minister, Sheikh Ali Khalifa al-Sabah, who is chairman of the KLC board, attributed the drop to "the all-out chaos which dominated the world oil market in the year."

Sheikh Ali, writing in the report, said he was satisfied that the corporation had been able to "accommodate rapidly to the new circum-

has been pursuing since its founda-tion in 1980."

He said KPC had eased the impact of lower prices by operating its refineries in Europe at maximum capacity and by the optimum use of distribution outlets there. The corporation, which has a capital of $2.5 billion, owns a refinery in Rotterdam and another in Copenhagen, with a total capacity of 125,000 barrels a day. It also owns 2,700 service stations in the Scandinavian and Benelux coun-Sheikh Ali said the corporation had taken "good strides toward boosting its refining and marketing activities in Europe through the modernization of productive units and development of transport and stockpiling facilities, particularly in KPC has eight subsidiaries operating in various sectors of the oil industry in many countries.

Sheikh Ali said exploration ac tivities had been reduced because stances, thanks to the strategy of of the sluggishness on the world oil

4 Unions at Pan Am Propose To Cut Costs for More Equity

NEW YORK - Leaders of four of Pan Am's unions are offering to help the airline solve its financial problems if their members can get noce equity in the company and are protected in the event of a merger or acquisition.

As part of that effort, union leaders met last Thursday with C. Edward Acker, chairman and chief executive of Pan American World Airways Inc., according to a union statement issued to employees on

Wilbur L. Ross, a managing director of Rothschild Inc., the investment firm that represents the unions, said Sunday that the proposal contained wage reductions and changes in work rules that would lead to "a significant reduction in labor costs."

The proposals also call for varius ways to increase productivity. In return, Mr. Ross said, the

YELLOW PAGES IN USA Need a List or Mailing Labels for any Yellow Page Category in U.S.A.? Yo Receive our Complete Catelog by Air Mail, Please Band $10 U.S. Yo: ricen Business Lists, Inc. PO Box 27347 Days #1087 Contra Newson 95127 Life

detailed description of the propos-als is being mailed to the directors. A tunion source said that the pro-posals could lead to savings of hundreds of millions of dollars in labor

The airline's losses in 1986 are expected to reach $345 million. Pan Am employees already own about 6 percent of the common shares outstanding in return for concessions that began in

FOREIGN & COLONIAL RESERVE ASSET FUND RICES AT 27.187, 1U.S. DOLLAR "CASI" $10.32 MULTICURRENCY "CASI" $13.53 DOLLAR BONDS MULTICUREBNCY BONDS STERLING BONDS $16.87 DELITSCHWARK BONDS DMIGAT YEN BONDS BOU BONDS STEELING EQUITY £10.64 M. U.S. EQUITIES
N.: JAPANESE EQUITIES
O.: GLOBAL EQUITIES
X.: STEELING "CASH" GOLD KORSIGN & COLOMAL MANAGEMENT (JESSE) LIMITED 14 MULCASTE STREET, STJELEF, ERREY, L

Chemical Bank Home Loans

The Best Mortgages for the Best Properties * higher-value London property ★ consistently competitive rates

Phone Barrie Lewis-Ranwell on 01-380 5186

Have all the advantages of a bank account in LUXEMBOURG, without actually being there. To discover the advantages of banking in Luxembourg with BCC, all you have to do is to simply mail the attached coupon. We will promptly despatch to you by airmail our booklet containing detailed information about banking in Luxembourg.

The BCC Group has offices in 72 countries, its Capital Funds exceed US$1,510 million and total assets US$16,500 million. The Head Office and branch of the Bank of Credit & Commerce International S.A., in Luxembourg enable you to make full use of the unique advantages offered in uxembourg which include:-1. Total confidentiality of INTERNATIONAL AND investor's affairs by the laws PERSONAL BANKING IN LUXEMBOURG of Luxembourg. 2. The benefits of being able to open and operate an account in Luxembourg without actually going 3. Investments and deposits made by non-residents are totally tax-free and there is no withholding tax on interest or dividends.

4. Luxembourg is a stable. centre in the heart of European Economic

Meil this coupon for your FREE

BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL S.A. MARMEOURG, TELES: 2287 ROCG LU

- ADVERTISEMENT INTERNATIONAL FUNDS (Quotations Supplied by Funds Listed)

2 Feb. 1987

| Thornton Fig. | The Committee | The Committe Deliar Pund $ Europe Fund $
Europe Fund $
Europe Fund $
Global Technology 54

ion Dollars; PF - Franch France; FL - Dotch Flerin; LF - Luxembeurs France; 2CV - European Currency Unit; p-pence; SF hones IN.A. Net Available; N.C. - Not Communicated; a - New; S - suspended; S/3 - Stock Spilt; " - Ex-Olvidend; » - Ex-Rts;  >= Ex-Coupp.; @ - Otter Price Incl. 3% presum. charge. Be sure that your fund is listed in this space daily. Telex Matthew GREENE at 613595F for further information.

which process about 135,000 bar-Morgan Grenfell Names rels of crude oil a day, and around 2,000 branded retail outlets. Last Executive Committee year it had sales of $1.6 billion.

> that it had established an executive committee to manage the compa-

also led an interim committee.

Air Algerie, the government-owned airline, will suspend its weekly flights to Kuwait, Malta, Marseille Hitachi Lad. will increase the capital of its U.S. and the Angolan capital, Luanda, reduce flights to Nice, and cut domestic services because of the "world economic crisis. Ford Motor Co. plans to equip up to 1 million passenger cars with driver-side air bags by 1990, and cut the cost of the safety devices to about $300 from $800. Ford, which has already sold about 11,000 air bag-equipped cars, is the first U.S. producer to make them widely available.

General Electric Co. of Britain has been appointed by the government to lead a consortium of British companies in an international tender for the second stage of a coal-fired power plant at Rihand, northern India. Analysts estimate that the contract is worth around £300 million ($454.05 million).

las, has asserted that the Airbus Hapag-Lloyd AG, a shipping and charter flight dollars on development without company, has finalized orders for three Airbus A-310-200s valued at a total of $180 million and has Subsidization, without a firm taken options on two more.

Hill Samuel Group PLC said FAI Insurances Ltd. of Australia had increased its stake in Hill Samuel to 12.8 percent and said FAI's involvement in the company was unwelcome. It said it believed a holding of more than 10 percent was not in the best interests of the investment banking, said the operation was a step in numpany.

subsidiary, Hitschi America Ltd., to $35.3 million from $4.3 million as of April 1 as part of a plan to strengthen its U.S. operations,

Hofly Sagar Corp. of Colorado will invite Shamrock Holdings Inc. and Brookehill Equities Inc., which have both acquired equity positions in Holly, to make offers to acquire Holly. Holly said last month that Arcanum I Partners and senior officers of Holly had made an acquisition offer.

Universal Moines of North America, a new company based in Las Vegas, plans to import into the United States and Canada off-road vehicles from Mahindra & Mahindra Ltd. of India, Metalo Mecanica of Portugal and Ligero of Spain.

Wardair International of Canada signed a contract for 12 European Airbus A-310-300 long-range aircraft valued at more than $670 million. It is the first Canadian order for new Airbuses. Wardair currently operates three secondhand Airbus A-300s. The sale brings Airbus A-310 and A-300-600 twin engine widebody sales to 423.

Westpac Banking Corp. of Australia will establish an investment banking arm in London to control the bank's worldwide capital market and treasury activities. Adrian Fletcher, Westpac's new general manager,

Salomon Brothers Inc is pleased to announce that it has opened a subsidiary in Germany

Salomon Brothers AG

Große Gallusstraße 10-14 Frankfurt am Main 1

Telephone (69) 20241

Telex 412626 414248

Facsimile (69) 282006

Salomon Brothers Inc

al bahrain arab african bank (e.c.)

"ALBAAB" US$ 75,000,000

Floating Rate Certificates of Deposit due 1989

Arranged and Lead Managed

Kuwait Foreign Trading Contracting and Investment Company S.A.K.

Co-Managers

Al Ahli Bank of Kuwait K.S.C. The Bank of Kuwait and the Middle East K.S.C. Burgan Bank S.A.K. The Commercial Bank of Kuwait S.A.K. The Industrial Bank of Kuwait K.S.C. Kuwait Real Estate Bank K.S.C. The National Bank of Kuwait S.A.K.

ALBAAB is a member of the Arab African International Bank Group with US$ 138 million fully paid capital. AAIB Group capital amounts to US$ 500 million of which 87% is equally owned by Central Bank of Egypt and Ministry of Finance of Kuwait.

PACHEL: gar Norman in a م الاستواد جو Self-radion

mstitution

Refine Their line

250000 and the second

ARGYLL: New Legal Ground

sure can only suffer.

(Continued from first finance page) with a bigger cash offer of its own,"

Airbus, an example of European cooperation in high technology, Europe's resolve to resist U.S. pres-

While Argyll will have to prove that in the "balance of probabil-ties" its bid for Distiller's would have been successful had Guinness not allegedly resorted to share ma-nipulation, Mr. Bamford said, Distillers shareholders can make a more direct claim. They can claim they were misled, in allegedly having been in-duced to sell their shares in exchange for Guinness shares, whose market value at the time" may have been inflated 25 percent above ac-tual value, he explained.

Whatever the outcome of litigation, should it materialize, the result is likely to be costly for Guin-

"It might take a year for the government to issue its report on the Guinness case, then Argyll would start its proceedings," said Mr. Bamford. "But Argyll's case wouldn't come to court for three

Such a delay "could stifle Guin-ness activity and dampen its share price for five years' because the company would have to carry the claim as a contingent liability until resolved, he pointed out.

Meanwhile, a source at Argyll said that the government may not issue a full report of its investiga-tion if individuals are indicted.

According to this source, the re-port's finding would, in the case of criminal proceedings, be placed un-der the jurisdiction of a court.

			4 1/40	71330	Little		33		الب
2 Ma Algan 1		Stock_	Dhv.	YM. P	Sig. E You	. High I		Cittle Qual C	iritae
	_			A
14% 14% 17%	694 1094	ACI HI ACI PI AL LO	ld 1,20	8.5	143	14% 14% 11%	14% 14% 11%	14% 14% 11%
160	1126	L AMC 6	.10	3.3 12	19		9	•
344 414	247	AM In	ri st2.00	44		71/2 301/2 21/2 40	29%	301/2	+ 4
4114	30	AOI F	ds 34	ا و	7 110	4Q	· 对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对对	9 76 30 20 20 30 50 50 50 12 14 14 14 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17	+ 4
67% 157% 157% 157% 157% 157% 157% 157% 15	74 74	Acme	J	37 17 15	2 2	5. 新教教育 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1.	854	87/L	+ %
314	145	Action			145	*	2	274	- 14
774	144	AdmR AdRus	Į.	- 3	5 10 7 11 9 150	716	21%	21%
134	770	AirEx	á		119	1493	3	X	T
40	7%	Alpha Alpha Alpha Alpha Alpha	_	1	7 150 119 4 24 4 32 3 38	2	纽	914	+ %
议	434	AlpinG		4	3 14	9	17	9	+ 1/1
4917 2417	3570	Alcoo	pt 3.75	77 ,	1400 5 4562	2 機	48.44 247	45%	‡,%
4% T(2	254	Amer	49	14	9 5397	514 3714	54s. 294	5% 31%	+134
151/2	121/2	AmBli	1 ,15 n	1.0	125	豫	174	深	+1 46
51/2 15/4 15/4 17/4 17/4 17/4 17/4	34	Altex of Alcoo Alcoo Amedia Amedia Amedia Amedia Amedia Amedia Amedia Africa Af	P wt		125 493 133 2230 1 3100 44 44	大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないのでは、大きないでは、大きないのでは、これでは、これでは、これでは、これでは、これでは、これでは、これでは、これ	14% 174 486 383 10% 284 22	9 % 48 4 26 4 26 4 26 4 26 4 26 4 26 4 26 4	+ %
17	74	AFruc	A	1	3100	2 1676 11	10%	1044 1044	- 16
7% 2114	7%	Aliston Aliston	W .30		4 12	274	22	234	+24
15% 23%	137			3 2	116	1016	10%	1874	+ #
27/4	1370	AMBIG	.52	2,9 6	, soi	179A	414	2	F %
2	35%	APelf	2 118 7 2184	47.	, ig	420	Q.L	4	+ 4
1	V.	AMZEE AMZEE AMZEE AMZEE AMZEE APTEC AMZEE AMZEE	y 230	اقلع	1	7/2	72	794	+ 14
134	4	ASCE ASC W			2 🛪	176	TOWN THE PERSON NAMED IN
215/2/24/4 47/4/9/4 113/2 10/4 113/2 10/4 10/4 10/4 10/4 10/4 10/4 10/4 10/4	.2	A Tech	Ċ Ar,#24,	1.2	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	416	444	4424	+ 14 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20
1944	73	A dd p	r_		111	754	16%	174 754 254	- %
쐆	21%			44	139	2514	24 V2 83 V2	251/4 831/2 571/4	12%
51 24%	AHU.	A xon a A xon a A xon a Ampel Andel	× 136	43	1774	57% 26%	57\6 24\4	粱.	+126
271	156	Ampoi Andal AndJd	.06	3.4	#	17h	144	10 mg	+ 16
21/2 15%	14	AndJd	.72	55 2	, 30 5	13	13	13 -	- 46
474	1/2	Angel v	4f		2	14	.12	9.77	إيرا
177	15%	AngliFr Ang En	1.87e	11.0	298	17	4644 4644 1677 2617 2617 2617 2617 2617 2617 2617	12	Ş
10	54	Armei	n		114	突	43
12/4 204	1946	Arundi	. 20	2314		22	24	巡.
27 4 20 15 14 19 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	4	Andal Andici Andrea Angelo Angelo Angelo Arzem Armei Armei Arundi Astrea Astrea Astrea	100	22 (A)	274 245 205 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	464年17525日744年11月16日17日18年18日17525日744年11月16日17日18日18日18日18日18日18日18日18日18日18日18日18日18日	77	17 年 234 74 74 74 74 74 74 74 74 74 74 74 74 74	7	-
376	78	-an uic			रका	70	74		- 10

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED BUSINESS MESSAGE CENTER

The International Herald Tribune's Business Message Center appears in the Classified Section every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

It carries ads for a wide variety of products and services (see recent sample selection above). If you have a product or service with international appeal, you can get your ad into the IHT within 48 hours and you have 16 headings to choose from, including: Business Services, Financial Services, Financial Investments, Commercial Premises, Office Services, etc. Just call, write, telex or fax us in Paris before the close of business and your ad can be running within two days.

Rate is $12.00 per line with attractive discounts for multiple insertions.

text takes a maximum of 25 letters, symbols or spaces. Subsequent lines take up to 36. No abbreviations. Minimum space: 2 lines. Please include complete and verifiable billing address.

Max Ferrero International Herald Tribune 181 Ave. Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly Cedex. Tel.: (33-1) 46 37 93 85. Tix.: (HERALD) 613 595. Fox: (33-1) 46 37 93 70 or your necrest i.H.T. offices. See our Classified for listing.

Herald Eribune.

In preparing your ad, note that the first line of the

In the Trib.

Floating-Rate Notes

				П
	.Fá.2	terms/Med.	Courses Next 204 Askel	ŀ
De	liars]	en 1342 M.IJ M.25	ı
		Cition II	7.005 · 1/42 74.77 74.20	1
		CHESTS IN CHESTS II CHESTS II CHESTS II CHESTS II CHESTS III CHEST	## 1742 M.H 9.38 7.235 * M.17 M.B 7 ## 2748 71.7 M.B 7 ## 2748 71.7 M.B 7 ## 1758 71.8 M.B 7.15 ## 1758 71.8 M.B 7.8 ## 1758 71.8 ## 1758 71.8 ## 1758 71.8 ## 1758 71.8 ## 1758 71.8 ## 1758 71.8 ## 1758 71	ļ
Mark.	Coupus Next Wil Ashi	Cificare Plan 17	- 99.74 99.24	ì
Telephone Judit	4.30 15.07 钟后 开后	CIT Federal Austra	41% 2541 MW 46W	ı
	4341 1346 77,75 188,00	CHICAGO SHL MATTE	33 10-40 77.86 77.76	î.
EM 75 III Empress 97	430 15-07 PF PFS 430 13-06 PFF PFS 66 13-06 PFS PFS 66 30-03 106.123-06.2 66 16-06 NGESTOR.2	Comprise El	43 UNIT 99 44 99 44	П
an extended and an	65 16-0a NGL62300-13	Committee with Novel	6% 25-25 99,96 109.86	ı
	7.30'S 00-84 19 39 19.37	Cerramerzak Aug93	49. 11-02 99.54 99.64	ſ
LOwers 17	AL BE 1897A	CONTINUED ANGESTREA Y		н
STOR Justill	497 344 419 388	Castie Fig (3e 97(Altra)	a 13-05 9634 9634	ш
igring Justice Igring 72	46. 27-05 19.01 77.37	Council Of Europe 93	6 21-04 97.76 97.RE	ш
24/R/20/96	66 PG 181,01701.25	COT 97 (ANIBITY)	64 31-43 98.91 99.81	•
2 21/Reps/86 to Spirits 92 tidlig 92 at 63 (AMP/1Co at 63	100 MINION TO THE PARTY OF THE	Contractific Navier Contractific Augist 91 Contractific Augist 91 Contractific August 91 Co	6 22-04 97.75 97.85 66 22-04 97.75 97.85 66 22-04 97.94 100.95 67 22-04 97.94 100.95 67 22-04 97.94 100.95 67 22-05 97.95 67 22-05 97.95 97.95 67 22-05 97.95 97.95 67 22-05 97.95 97.95 67 22-05 97.9	Į.
E ETANIVACO	A 124 WAS 97.78	Cr Fur Experi 17	67 HT-97 100,00100,20	1
OT	企 13位外期 95%	Cr Lygranets 92/96	6 14-04, 161,36108.48	1
FT 7% Q009	의자 불짝 열선 연주		AR. 29-05 199.5E190.66	•
22 13/10°	89, 13-02 17-50 18:50 170 17:00 At	Cr Lypraeds ## Cr Lypraeds Jac#24%	44 7147 100 4570 SI
TEX! 16		Cr Lywrob 17 (Cm)	6 14-4 103,9780,41 6 14-4 103,9780,41 60, 19-6 103,9790,41 60, 19-6 103,9790,41 60, 19-6 103,9790,41 60, 19-6 103,9790,41 60, 19-6 103,9790,11	П
TEGI TI	Set 101.2(101.28	Cr Lyounds 93	4. 30 100100.11	П
Scatle 88/50 Scatle 94	65s 30-04 99.95 100.05	Cr Lyannais 80	65. 13-87 108.32300.62	Ł
Scarling 94	6m 1447 1902510036	Cr Lygranais Jours 16	45. 12-47 108.27100.02 45. 12-47 108.27100.02 45. 14-06 100.407400.70 4.730 20-42 100.407400.18	1
Scotis 45 and Perp		Creditars 00	4% 14-97 100-4F200-5E
/01/ HE	60 304 10.27 10.35 60 304 10.27 10.35 60 14-7 10.25 10.35 60 14-5 10.0 7.38 60 14-5 10.0 7.38 60 14-5 10.0 7.38	Creditmetel %	4.230 38-82 700.07100.18 634 14-97 100.48790.58 6 77-92 160.16780.20	П
Trust 60	6% 11-03 99,92 100,81	Cr (Italiana 12 Dal Ichi 16 Rudeemad	4. 经战界外间期	П
/01/ED Trust 60 Trust 94	40. 394 18.270.48 40. 394 19.510.55 40. 394 99.510.55 40. 14.07 19.5510.55 40. 14.07 19.510.55 40. 14.07 19.2 19.8 40. 14.07 19.2 19.8 40. 14.07 19.2 19.8 40. 14.07 19.2 19.8 40. 14.07 19.2 19.8 40. 14.07 19.2 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.3 40. 14.07 19.3 19.8 40. 14.07 19.3 19.3 40. 14.07 19.3 40. 14.07 19.3 40. 14.07 19.3 40. 14.07 19.3 40. 14.07 1	Dol tohi % Rudeemail	44. 45-04 97-99 180-00 - 19-91 160-00 67: 19-01 160-29 160-29
wil 36	SAT MASS LOCALISATION	Denthork 99/84	94 2742 77.0 77.0	П
		Dentogrit Aug/N	674. 21-04 T81,00181.TB	П
Litter (v)	50 74 75 75 75 75 75 75 75 75 75 75 75 75 75	Ortiginer Fin 19 Ortiginer Fin 19	27-82 79.57 TOLOR	П
	6.3 10-66 700:07 100.11	Dresiner Fla 72 Oresiner Fin Ex 1919	6 27-42 140,69100,70	П
URC 17 Major	GB 345 17.25 17.65	Oceadoer Fin Ex 1979	5% 04-65 17-27 17-37 6-37-5 27-62 98.36 98.34 5% 27-62 97-30 77-55 6% 27-62 180-25762-40
900 FF 2007 74	6% 24-03 77-75 TRANS	East River Augis Eldorada Nuc III	9. 742 92 95	П
-	SUPIR 19-45 TE-50 TH. III	I 3F(M) 190	4% 27-02 100.25702.00
PER 17 (Cup)	26 节位外近外五	Cout some / medical	A 29-05 100-03100.13
	SE SEE WILTHIOLD	End (8) Elb Nov % Fortovic % (nathbr)	3% 02-03 79.54 TOUR
(MP)	44. 23-04 Pt.25 Pt.65	Elb Noy %	520 67-05 91.15 91.25
	6% 15-04 10E-410E-8	Fartovie 75 (name)	74 31-07 97-02 97-52 60 18-65 97-94 186.04 6 78-02 100-05100.15
	4138 7745 7748 FALTO 576 6445 180,5715120	Ferrovie May 17 Ferrovie 14	4 24-02 108,05109.15	П
Althoys	6 174 N.D 97.0	Finiand 98 (Althir)	63 38-94 99.00 99.25	П
DE Pero 2	Ann. 178 BM 005 00 M4 00	Fixehish Paper 7975	78 31-0 77.2 77.52 60 18-65 77.9 165 04 6 78-05 100.05 100.15 63 28-05 77.25 64 27.00 100.05
15 B)/M	65th DI-02 97 90 10838	Pirst Boston 71/74	# 1940 TY40 TY31	П
Person Person 2 0/5 Person 0/504	44. 85.67 M.55 97.30 48. 17-42 M.35 M.55	First Bk 5795 % First Bk 5795 97	6% 1342 77.37 77.87 6% 27-42 77.35 78.35	П
Perposw2	44 17-12 94.00 94.25	First Sk Syst W	740 97.75 98.75	В
OVER THE P	60 254 755 10520 31 940 755 10065 60 1547 953 750	First Chicago 97	6% W-02 TF-03 TF-01	П
178	Sh 15.87 98.90 79.00	First Chicago 97 First Chicago 92 First Chicago 94	4345 17-02 99.25 99.40
July	4 25-67 95.44 79.74	First Chicage 94	Ch. 21-62 99-50 99.66	П
Perp	4年 13-汉 99-90 100.35	(A S) NME 12	5% 00-03 97.75 100.06 6% 18-66 97.44 97.51	П
D9(37/8)	은 과상교문교환	Ford 91	45. 9544 9070 9080	В
Julius Perip Decity/bi SO/Astany) SO/ES/Assany)	种。 15位 外的 1005 种。 19位 开起 开耳 四。 25位 开起 开耳 66 25位 开发 开展	Portune SHL 72 Radeemed 15/61/67 Gentlements 72/74	5% 0940 97.7 100.00 65. 14-6 97.4 93.4 65. 28-6 97.4 93.9 65. 28-6 97.9 97.8 65. 14-6 97.9 100.6 65. 28-0 90.89100.8 65. 28-0 90.89100.8 65. 28-0 90.89100.8 65. 28-0 90.89100.8 65. 28-0 90.89100.8 65. 28-0 90.89100.8 66. 28-0 90.8910.8 66. 17-6 90.8910.8 66. 18-6 90.8910.8 66. 18-6 90.8910.8 66. 18-6 90.8910.8
Julos	- 994 97.54	Senformer SI/14	49L - 99.96 100.86
Jules N (A) 1) (B)		4,225.97	444 T443 HDL25T80275	1
1) (B)	A 218 99-07 97-94 1-01-08	Gzb Perp Gzb %	6% 14-05 77.59 190.60
21	65 19-02 HELISTON	GE %	AN THE STATE OF TH
Marie .	39. 30-04 75.00 76.70 60. 60-07 300 06700 15	GI Wastern 97/95	95. 69.80 97.55 97.75	1
Cictos NA/Ga Cictotros	4 44 9,5 ROE	GI Ather It 15t Sev 72 GI Western 72/75 GI Western 23/74	45 93. 1014 46. 145 17.9 1810 56. 145 17.9 1810 56. 245 181810.18 57. 445 17.9 17.9 56. 245 17.0 17.9 57. 45 17.0 17.9 58. 145 17.0 17.9 68. 145 17.0 17.0	1
O Ampill	AUT 0540 WAD 9950	THE PERSON OF LITTLE	8 27-92 101,00101,50	1
	60 28-02 100.05109.39 60 28-02 17.95 100.08	PRODE KANS PROP 1	. S. 170 M. 1.00	1
	64 28-02 99.96 100.88	Hone Kone Soc Pers 2		1

Alesker A Aleske

CURRENCY MARKETS

" and time Prefuria

the a neighbor.

drive ten shoulder

and the second of the

The state of the s

Action to the second of the se

1 - 11 M2 6

100 mg

100 to 600

The second second

Water to 人名伊德克克

1. 1. 1. 1. 1.

Land than the Co

27 To 100

50

... Sta Ve (

ng namas ng taun

್ಷ ಘಟ A - 1 1 5 2

رو در اور الجواهد اور

100 mm

10 (10 m) (10 m)

man my lands

to the state of the land

Dollar Fades on Volcker Testimony Intervention Group of Five Calls Off Meeting Now on Dollar

Dollar Fade

Compiled by Our Stell From Duspatches

NEW YORK — The dollar faded Monday when traders who had bought dollars ahead of the Treasury's refunding anction this week sold following testimony to Congress by Paul A. Volcker, the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

The dollar closed in New York at man of the Federal Reserve Board.

The dollar closed in New York at 1,2080 Dentsche marks, down from

1.8340 Friday; at 6.0280 French francs, down from 6.1145; at 100

-It was also lower against the pound, which closed at $1.5210. against $1.5140 Friday.

"The market had positioned for a higher dollar on trade figures Fri- 1986. day and on anticipation that Volcker's remarks would be more avorable," said Linda McLaughlin, vice president in charge of Shearson Lehman Brothers International's foreign-exchange desk The December trade deficit of $10.66 billion was well below the expected $14 billion to $15 billion, pushing the dollar sharply higher briday. But Mr. Volcker, in remarks before the Joint Economic Commit-15240 Swiss francs, down from lar against major foreign currencies in the past year, "is so large it's tee, said the devaluation of the dol- in the first-quarter refunding. in the past year, "is so large it's billion of three-year notes on Tuestrade deficit.

London Dollar Rates Closing Fri. Dearsche merk Pound sterting Japanese yen Setes trans French franc Sparce: Reviers

He warned that exchange rates alone could not reverse a trade deficit that reached $170 billion in

"Economic history is littered with examples of countries that acted as if currency depreciation alone could substitute for other action to resture balance and competitiveness to their economies," Mr. Volcker said.

"That's basically echoing Baker's stand and traders saw it as bearish for the dollar," Mr. McLaughlin said, referring to the Treasury secretary, James A. Baker and Baker has done nothing to stop erated dollar selling Monday was an announcement by West Germany that it would sell a competitively priced 10-year government note on

In earlier European trading, the dollar was fixed at midday in Frankfurt at 1.8182 DM, up from 1.8085 Friday, and at 6.0680 French francs in Paris, up from 6.0335. It closed at 1.5310 Swiss francs in Zurich, up from 1.5465.

Fiders U.K. PLC, guaranteed by Elders DKL Ltd., issued its expect-ed DM convertible issue Monday after its recent sterling, U.S. dollar

The 10-year transaction has an indicated coupon of 21/2 percent Keihan Electric Railway Co. and and is priced at par. It features a Toyoda Tsusho Kaisha Ltd. both put option after six years at an issued $70 million offerines, and indicated price of 121.

fectenbank, which also launched a and Singapore when the Tokyo

3d. "We've had a really precipitous fall in the dollar since early January By Japan Put Another development that gen- At $9 Billion

TOKYO - The Bank of Japan bought nearly $9 billion in foreign-Wednesday, in direct competition exchange markets in January in an with the 10-year U.S. note offering attempt to stop the year's rise against the dollar, Finance Minis-The Treasury is to auction $10 try sources said Monday."

Dealers and analysts said the bound to have an impact" on the trade deficit.

day: $9.75 billion of 10-year notes dollar-buying intervention was the con Wednesday, and $9.25 billion of largest the central bank had ever largest the central bank had ever undertaken in a single month, sur-30-year bonds Thursday.

The dollar closed in London at passing the previous record of 1.8073 DM, down from 1.8320 at about $7 billion in August 1971.

Friday's close, and at 152.55 yen.

But the aggressive intervention by the bank had limited effect in The dollar was lower against the pound, which closed at $1.5245, against $1.5135 Friday.

by the bank had limited effect in reversing bearish sentiment on the dollar, they noted.

The bank began intervening ear-

The bank began intervening early in January, dealers said, when the dollar fell to about 158 yen. But it still dropped to a postwar record of 149.98 year on Jan. 19 before finishing the month at 152.3 yea.

In a related announcement, the Finance Ministry said Monday that Japan's external reserves grew to a record $51.46 billion at the end of January, up $9.22 billion from the end of December.

The rise was the largest on record, exceeding the previous peak of $5.02 billion set in March 1978.

Discussing the intervention in January, a chief dealer at a major bank in Tokyo said the Bank of Japan reflected fears among offi-cials of the governing Liberal Demmanaged the two other bonds. The ocratic Party about the strong yen's impact on the economy. Finance Minister Kiichi

Miyazawa, who usually declines to make any reference to market intervention, has said that the dollar buying would continue at any cost. But many analysts predict that the bank will not continue to intervene as aggressively as it did in Official determination to bring about currency stability led the Bank of Japan to intervene last trade deal.

The auto pact permits either nation to pull out on 12 months' no-tice. While most Canadians doubt month in London and New York as well as in Tokyo, the analysts said. that the United States would contemplate such a body blow to their economy, even those most resistant

12 Month
Scies In High Law Stock Div. Ytd. 185s High Law 2 P.M. Circa

37% 22% June 82 27% 32% 22% + Va 29% 13% Junter 40 27 5 14% 14% 14%

ister. Gerhard Stoltenberg, were reluctant to hold an early meeting on currency stabilization because they did not believe there was enough time to prepare it properly. Apparently they do not want to be rushed into an attempt to fix exchange rates when it is unclear whether the U.S. balance of payments is starting to respond to the huge devaluation the dollar has undergone in the past year.

Instead, they believe a meeting should be postponed until spring, when it will be clearer whether the improved U.S. figures for December are an exception or whether the U.S. trade performance is finally starting to improve.

Officials in Washington said the decision against a meeting now was final. They declined to say when it might be held. Beyond scheduling problems, pressure for a meeting appears to have abated because selling pressure on the dollar may have stopped.

The accelerated fall of the dollar began at the beginning of the new year with the administration's report of a record monthly trade deficit for November of $19.2 billion.

But on Friday the administration reported a sharp contraction of the trade deficit for December, to $10.6 billion. The dollar instantly rose on the news. A smaller trade deficit means less pressure on the dollar because other countries are receiving fewer dollars for the goods they sell to the United States and therefore do not have to sell as many.

The Reagan administration has encouraged the dollar's decline from its peak almost two years ago because a cheaper dollar slows imports into the United States, by pushing their prices up, and dampens the momentum in Congress to pass protectionist laws to restrict im-

Appearing Sunday on a U.S. television program, Treasury Secretary James A. Baker 3d and the head of West Germany's central bank, Karl Otto Pohl, indicated that the dollar had moved to a level that both considered about satisfactory for now.

A Trade Gain

THE EUROMARKETS

Dollar Sectors Lower Before U.S. Auctions

By Christopher Pizzey Renters

LONDON - Dollar sectors of the Eurobond market ended slightly easier Monday after a day of subdued trading with investors keeping to the sidelines ahead of this week's U.S. Treasury refunding auctions, dealers said.

They added that with the dollar coming under pressure in Europe during the afternoon there was little reason for investors to commit funds to the secondary market.

However, a new issue for the European Community met quite steady demand and ended within its total fees. Traders said it was nightly, but fairly, priced.

Otherwise, new-issue activity in the dollar sector was restricted Monday to equity warrant bonds for Japanese borrowers. The DeutThe Keihan Electric offering, straight bond for Westland Hysche mark sector also registered a lead-managed by Nikko Securities potheckbank.

couple of transactions, one a Co. (Europe), was quoted at a substraight and one the expected DM stantial premium of about 6 per-convertible for Elders U.K. PLC.

The six-year issue for the European Community pays 74 percent and was priced at 101. A trader at 2 house that was involved said, "It's not generous but it is reasonably

It was quoted on the when-issued market at a discount of 1.85 per-cent bid, just inside the total fees of 1% percent.

Three equity-warrant bonds were issued, reflecting continued interest in this sector. All the issues had five maturities, par pricing and indicated coupons of 314 percent.

issued $70 million offerings, and Tokyn Department Store Co. launched an $80 million bond.

Nomura International Ltd. lead-Tokyu Department Store issue, which had been trading on the gray market for several days before its formal launch, was quoted at a premirm of about 5 percent.

and Swiss franc convertibles.

The lead manager was CSFB-Ef- It also intervened in Hong Kong

CANADA: Worried by Possible Review of Auto Pact

negotiators began talks on freeing trade that Mr. Mulroney, Canada's most pro-American leader in de-cades, described as the key to Canadian prosperity.

By Peter T. Kilborn

New York Times Service

ing industrial nations have decided to put off a meeting they were considering to negotiate a

Officials in Washington who insisted on no further identification said the top financial officials of the group - the United States, Japan,

West Germany, Britain and France — had abandoned tentative plans to meet in Paris on Saturday or Sunday because some of the officials could not make arrangements on such

"There is not going to be a G-5 meeting this weekend, and the reason is scheduling problems for several of the ministers," a monetary

There were reports from Europe, however, that Britain's chancellor of the Exchequer, Nigel Lawson, and West Germany's finance min-solution for the fallen dollar.

WASHINGTON —The Group of Five lead-

He hoped to lower tariffs and obtain exemption for Canadian exports from the countervailing duties Washington has been imposing on unfairly subsidized imports. But instead of the quick progress Mr. Mulroney hoped for, he has seen his initiative bog down in the quagmire of growing U.S. protection-

What is worse for a leader who says he has staked his political neck on the trade talks, U.S. demands for Canadian concessions have begun to involve the auto pact, which Canada had sought to exclude from the talks.

Thomas Niles, the U.S. ambassador to Canada, has pledged that the Reagan administration will not seek to scrap the pact as part of a

Canada has taken most of the benefits, at least in recent years. | loan of $160 million from the Ottafits, at least in recent years.

— indeed, in this country — in terms of generating wealth."

The figures are stark. While auto multaneously closing 11 plants in plants in the United States have been closing or cutting back sharp29,000 jobs, has not escaped notice ly on production, investments here have spiraled upward — nearly $9 cent of all jobs in Canadian assembly plants.

Overall employment in assembly and parts manufacturing is up 45 percent, with the biggest jump at General Motors of Canada Ltd., whose 46,600 employees account for more than half of all car plant workers.

The impact on U.S. workers can be measured from GM of Canada figures that showed the company shipping 260,000 more vehicles into the United States in 1985 than it imported for sale - the equiva- a high level of Canadian content in lent of a year's production at some of the larger plants in the United States.

In the kind of transaction that

12 Mentin High Low Stack

Mr. Peterson, the Ontario pre-mier, called it "the most important turn for not closing its only Quebec document we have in this province plant, at Ste. Therese, north of Montreal, in 1989.

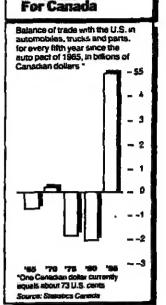

The fact that the company is sibere.

John Crispo, an economies probillion in the past six years, most of fessor at the University of Toronto it from the "Big Four" U.S. manu-who has condemned Canadian defacturers who account for 96 per- mands that the pact not be touched, told readers of The Globe and Mail, a Toronto newspaper, that Americans had a right to be indignant.

> "Imagine the hue and cry if the situation were reversed," he said. *Discrimination and nationalism would be among the milder charges that would be raised."

Canadian concerns about the pact center on provisions that require U.S. manufacturers to produce one car in Canada for each one sold in Canada and to maintain each vehicle made in Canada - 50 percent for trucks, 60 percent for

Although the industry here has in 1985 was 78 percent — there is a widespread fear that any weakening of the content provisions would threaten Canadian jobs.

A greater worry is that the Reagan administration will pressure Canada for an upward revaluation economy, even those most resistant could provoke protests of unfair surpassed the content levels by a of the Canadian dollar, which curto renegotiating the pact admit that subsidization, the company recent-wide margin — for cars, the figure rently trades at about 73 U.S. cents.

13 March Spick Shock Div. Yiel 18th High Love 3 P.M. Chyse

| 15 | ADC | 152 | 152 | 164 | 9 | ADC | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 154 | 1

274. 13th Avralet 456

274. 474 881 459

2714. 13th 881 intec 21

2714. 13th 881 inter 21

2715. 13th 881 inter 21

2715. 13th 881 inter 21

2715. 13th 881 inter 21

2716. 13th 881 inter 21

2717.

Scies in Hot Low 3 P.M. Chies High Low Stock | 1894 1374 DBA | 15 | 15 | 174 | 114 | DBA | 17 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 | 178 |

| The control of the Boles in Net Div. Yid. 100s High Low 3 P.M. Chips

| March | Low | 3 P.M. Cross | 12 March | 14 7717 5274 Led By 2774 5274 Led By 2774 578 Led By

| 15/2 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 15/4 | 2144 131/2 SCI SV
2774 1514 SEI SV
2775 3541 SIF AB 1,19e 24 313
2777 1514 SEI SV
2775 3541 SIF AB 1,19e 24 313
2777 1514 SEI SV
2777 1514 SEI

Sistes in Net 12 Month
Div. Ytd. 1886 High Low 2 P.M. Chys. High Law Stock

Sales figures are unofficial. Yearly night and rows reflect the previous $2 weeks plus the current week, but not the kinest trading day. Where a split or slock dividend amounting to $5 percent or mere has been pold, the year's high-low range and dividend are shown for the new stock only. Unless atherwise nated, rates of dividends are entrucis.../

b.— chief declaration.

c.— dividend glas extracis...//

b.— annual rate of dividend plus stock dividend./?

c.— liquidating dividend./?

d.— new year's low.//

e.— dividend declared or pold in preceding 12 months.//

g.— dividend declared or pold in preceding 12 months.//

g.— dividend declared ofter split-to or stock dividend.

l.— dividend declared ofter split-to or stock dividend.

l.— dividend pold this year, antified deterred, or no action taken at totest dividend meeting.

k.— dividend declared or pold this year, on accumulative issue with dividend declared or pold this year, on accumulative issue with dividend declared or pold this year, on accumulative issue with dividend declared or pold the year, on accumulative issue with dividend declared or pold in preceding 12 months, plus with the start of trading.

n.— new issue in the post $2 weeks. The high-low range begins with date of split, et alvidend declared or split in preceding 12 months, plus stock dividend.

s.— stock split, Dividend begins with date of split,

the — stock split, Dividend begins with date of split,

the — ween't high.

v.— trading herind.

v.— trading herind.

v.— trading herind.

v.— whon distributed.

vi.— when issued.

v.— when distributed.

vi.— when distribute

ACROSS 1 Smelting 5 Apartments in

19 Sacred bull of 66 French ancient Egypt 14 Use a dish Lowel refugee 15 --- the

68 Early Icelandic Riveter 16 Custom literary work 69 "Mack the 17 Middle East 18 Chamber-70 Leningrad's music group 19 Ore vein river 71 Musical pause

20 Men's 72 Religious underwear 23 Be left on base 73 "Martin --24 Winery 25 Laic 27 Career or calling 32 Facility 33 Wood for bats or skis 34 Kind of chair 36 Summarize 39 Gin flavoring 41 Decorated again 43 Hornswoggle sisters 46 Strength 48 Draw even with 49 Does a garder

51 Avenger's 53 Linen storage New York Times, edited by Eugene Malesha. DENNIS THE MENACE

$6 Chinese author - Yutang 57 U.S. sports org.

denominations

DOWN

1 Ship's mod

4 League of Nations seat unfriendly 6 Lomond or

7 Concerning

8 Children's pinalores

9 Bench for two

10 Shoemaker's

11 Women's short hair styles

"PHOOEY! I THOUGHT A CYCLOPEDIA WAS SOME KINDA BIKE!"

HINSY

TALVE

YASQUE

UMSCAP

EUROPE

Antore Seirut Cetro Demosco Islanbut Jerusole Tel Aviv

OCEANIA

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME
by Henri Arnold and Bob Lee

WHAT DO YOU GET PLENTY OF WHEN

KING KONG WALKS THROUGH YOUR

vegetable garden?

BOUND ABOVE GIGOLO MANIAC When a business is started on a shoestr owner sometimes ends up taking this --A GOOD LACING

WEATHER

resort

3 Summit

5 More

subcontinent 13 Beef source 58 Front runners 21 False 64 Small Thames 22 Identifying mark 26 Secondhand 67 Dust Bowl 27 Enormous 28 The former

12 Asian

Christiania 29 Gluttons: Slang 30 Canzoni 31 Lowest point 35 Casey and Mudville mates

37 Western capital 38 Strip bark from 40 A son of Seth

42 Gradually uses up resources 45 Percolate 47 Court order 50 Arranges in piles 52 Chant 53 Bank heist, e.g.

55 Flat, round cake 59 Viking explorer 60 Easily swayed

61 Made do, with 'out' 62 Tear apart 63 Actor Connery 65 Make lace

PEANUTS

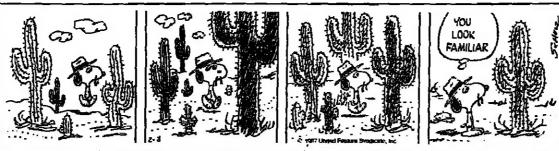

BEETLE BAILEY

DID YOU JUST

LET OUT

THAT

BURP

BLONDIE I REALLY DON'T FEEL MAYBE MY HAIR HAS GOTTEN THINNER, BUT THAT'S ALL

YEAH

DON'T YOU HAVE ANY RESPECT FOR A LADY? COVER YOUR @MMM. MOUTH!

DON'T

GIVE UP

THE ARMY JOB,

ANDY CAPP I WISH HE WAS AS LOYAL TO ME AS HE IS TO THAT FLIPPIN' HORSE

WIZARD of ID WHAT DO YOU CALL THE LITTLE POUND WINDOWS ON I GET IT... AND IN THE OTHER SIDE THEY RE CALLED THE SIDE OF THE SHIP? STARBOARD HOLES

Tote and Lvie 454
Tresco Emi 535
Thorn Emi 537
Th. Group 527
TH. Group 72
TH. Group 185
United Blacuits 262
Victors 450
Mor Loon 37 t 25 31/32
Mool worth

BOOKS

THE SPELL

By Hermann Broch. Translated by H.F. Broch de Rothermann. 391 pages. $22.50. Farrar, Straus & Giroux, 19 Union Square West, New York, N. Y. 10003.

Reviewed by John Gross

HERMANN BROCH is one of the great names of 20th-century German literature. Born in Vienna in 1886, he went into the family textile business and did not become a full-time writer until he was over 40; his best known novels, "The Sleepwalkers" and "The Death of Virgil," were published in 1931 and 1945 respectively. When the Nazis took over in 1938 he was briefly imprisoned, and later that year he went to the United States, where he died in 1951.

In 1935 Broch wrote a novel that he referred to as "the mountain novel." The following year he began to revise and expand it, but broke off halfway through; he started work on a more drastic revision in 1950, but had completed only about a third of it at the time of his death. The translation that has now appeared, "The Spell," is based on the earliest version, the only complete one, but also incorporates a substantial episode from the second, 1936, version. The Spell" was written in response to the coming to power of Hitler. Set in a secluded alpine village, it centers on the baleful activities of a stranger called Marius Ratti who shows one day and starts preaching his homeman gospel. He advocates a new communion with the earth, the rejection of "unnatural" mordern inventions, the reassertion of male supreand a bundle of crackpot doctrines.

Solution to Previous Puzzle

The villagers mistrust him, but stradually succumb to his influence. His more militant followers abandon their threshing machines and throw away their radios; where 2 dwarfish Ratti disciple called Wenzel applears on the scene, he teaches the local boys/military drill and a folkish marching song, a tradesman and his family, outsiders who have settled in the region, are persecuted and forced to leave. Finally the whole village is; caught up in a frenzied reversion to paganism that culminates in human sacrifice. "The Spell" may sound like a fairly straightforward fable about the spread of the Nazi infection, but the novel is anything but simple. There is a narrator, a middle-aged doctor who disapproves of Ratti But whose own position has its irones: He originally settled in the village because life there was bound to be more harmonious, more deeply rooted, than it had been in the city. The political parallels in the story are over-shadowed by Broch's mythic and philosophic concerns. The most important figure apart from Ratti is Mother Gisson, a peasant matriarch who is still in tune with ancient ways. She opposes Ratti in vain, and the sacrificial victim who embraces her fate rapturously - is in fact her granddaughter. The village, with the sacrifice behind it, has resumed its daily round, though without ridding itself of Ratti's spell;

he is now a member of the municipal council.

"The Spell" is a more approachable book than "The Sleepwalkers" or "The Death of Virgil," but it still bristles with difficulties. Fortunately, a short explanatory commentary by Broch appears as an appendix, and "Her-mann Broch," an illuminating study by Ernes-tine Schlant, has recently been reissued as ... paperback by Chicago University Press.

Broch's commentary makes it clear that he saw the novel primarily as a study of mass-psychological forces surfacing from the archaic depths.

John Gross is on the staff of The New York Times

CHESS

By Robert Byrne

TOTHING new is neglected these days. As soon as someone constructs a successful plan, everyone jumps to try

This is what is currently happening to a key variation of the Yugoslav Attack in the Dragon Sicillian, which had previously presented Black with such success that it appeared to be bullet-proof. That it really wasn't became recognized only after Anatoly Karpov incisively deleated it in his encounter with Aleksander Sznapik in the last round of the Olympiad in Du-bai, United Arab Emirates.

The ripples of that game have appeared so far in West Germany, where Nigel Short of defeat another team member, Jonathan Mestel, in the Kleinwort-Grieveson British Chamwort-Grieveson British Championship Playoff.

Here is the theoretically important Chandler-Mestel game.

The problem of the variation arises after 12. . P-KR4, the Soltis Defense, which impedes White's attempt to open a file against the black king by P-KR5. The idea of sacrificing several pawns for this objective by P-N4 was known, but not in conjunction with White's first securing his own king with 14 K-N1?, until Karpov-Sznapik.

On 17 N-Q5, a retreat with 17. . N-KB3 could have encountered 18 Q-R2, R-K1; 19 of 20 R-R2, 21 QR-R1 and 22 Q-R&ch!, forcing mate.

Chandler was following Karpov in giving up the exchange with 18 RxNI, PxR, which was the new justification for 15 P-N4! However, after 19 Q-R2, Sznapik had returned the exchange with 19. . R-B5; 20 BzR, PxB, thus eliminating the powerful white knight at Q5.

Mestei was thus able to unpin his KP with 20...Q-N3, 21. . .P-K3.

The only way to keep the pressure on against a stubborn Mestel, after 24. . . N-N3, was N-B5! Of course, 31 P-B3!, Q-K6? met with a ... PxN?; 26 QxP, Chendler fine refutation — 32 B-B2! 25 25. the English Olympiad team had recovered his pawn and used it to win a game in the Bundesliga, and in London, where Murray Chandler, also of the English team, used it to be a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 DxNs in the bay 33 R-KB! Thus, 33. B-capture with 27. Px? would k1; 34 N-B6ch, K-N2; 35 have lost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 38 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the cost a piece to 28 P-B51 BxN, PxB; 36 Q-KR4, PxB; 37 Q-KR5 in the co because 28. . .PxP7 permits 29 QxNch.

Chandler had a difficult decision to make after 27. . . Q-K6: Should he have won a pawn by 28 N-R5, B-KR1; 29 PxP, PxP; 29 BxP, BxB; 30 RxB, aware that such a counter as 30. . . Q-KR6 would not work against 31. . . Q-Q1, Q-R5; 32 B-N5, Q-B7; 33 R-Q8, or, with 28 F-K5!?, continue to play for attack or, with 28 P-K5!?, continue to play for attack, as he did?

The answer depends on whether, after his 28 P-K5!?.

BxP!: 29 PxB, QxB: 30 N-R5, he could have overcome the best defense — 30. . K-B1!

After 31 Q-N4ch, R-K2; 32 N-B6, Q-B5 (32. . . NxP?; 33 and after 21 QxP, to cut the QxRch!, KxQ; 34 N-N8ch diagonal of the white KB with costs Black a rook); 33 Q-B5, QxP; 34 QxB, QxN; 35 BxP, Q-K4, Black should be safe from all harm with a pawn more.

Jan. 30

But Mestel's 30. . .R-QB!?;

31 P-B3!, Q-K6? met with a Q-R7ch, K-B1; 38 N-Q7ch is too horrible to contemplate. After 32. . K-B1; 33 BxN,

PxB; 34 R-Blch, K-K2; 35 Q-N4ch, K-Q1; 36 Q-Q6ch, Mestel interrupted the course of 36. B-Q2; 37 R-B8mate by

Black
P-000
P-17
P-KR0
P

High Low Class Chas

World Stock Markets Via Agence France-Presse Feb. 2

5100 5100 530 36.35 640 3500 1575 5910 1025 3650 21.89 21.89 21.70 47.85 77.86 78.75 77.86 78.75 77.89 Deutsche St.
Dreschier Bitarzener Hentiol
Hochillet
Hoch ACF Heidir Acean Aktro Aktro Aktro Aktro Aktro Ahold Arnes Bonk Bole Heidir Acean Ac AMP-CBS Gen1 Index : 263.56 Provious : 262.50 Bit East Asia Carbov Pacifits Cheuns Kong China Light Green Island Hone Sens Be Handerson Handerson Hit Electric Hit Resirve Hit Shares Can Hit Shares Can Hit What Hit Hit Hit Hit What Hit Hit Hit Hit What Hit 1580 9110 137 5140 546 3799 3299 6020 7700 5985 4720 12100 6150 9880 6150 9880 6250 7725 5725 5725

Frankfurt

AA Corp s

AA Corp s

Alfed Lyans

Sa.59

Alfed Lyans

Ass. Alfed Lyans

Ass. Alfed Lyans

Bass Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass

Bass ## Asia 22.30 1

of Pacific 25.55 56

of Kenny 12.90 12

light 19.90 13

light ong Sang Ladez : revious : 2551.25

Cerebos
Caid Starage
DBS
Fraser Neave
Maw Pai
Nam Pai
Namina
Lum Chane
National Bank
OCBC USE Shemtorida
Shemtorida
Shore Lam
Shore Lam
Shore Press
Store Lam
Store Press
Store Can
UoB
Uallad Overspe
UoB
Uallad Overspe 5760 525 3450 560 5350 1600 5875 1010 3425 F.T.30 index : 1441,90 Previous : 1441,50 F.T.S.E.106 index : 1622,50 Previous : 1805,30 25190 25000 25190 AGA
Aita Laval
Astra
Ast MIB Current lades : 978 Previous : 974 Park Sydney Air Lioulde Ashan Av Dossaul Barcolire Bi C Bengrain Borraus Bi C Bengrain Borraus Bi C Brain Bi C All Ordinaries Index : 1434.70 Province : 1494.40 370 770 1370 1430 899 946 1300 822 1830 1790 2460 5360

Addra Adusultase
Autorhon
Bonk Leu
Bonk Leu
Brown Bown
Claa Gefav
Cradif Sulsa
Electroweri
Interdiscoun
Jocob Sucha
Josob Sucha
Seminis Genneu
Schindler
Survefisance
Swissol
Swissol
Swissol
Swissol
Swissol
Swissol
Winterthur
Surrech Ins

Assence of Occasion of Assence of Occasion of Occasion

412 Marfitme I
4855 Melson A I
2868 Melson B I
2867 Mercanda
13532 Mercanda
13532 Mercanda
13532 Mercanda
12714 Avvist se A
151001 Omnibus A I
12714 Avvist se A
151001 Omnibus A I
12715 Melson B I
12715 Melson B I
12716 Melson B I
12717 Melson B I
12718 Melson B I
1 TSE 300 Index:

Previous 3,350.70 Jan. 30 Ciose 1,319.40

BIG CROSSWORD

IN THE INTERNET SATURDAY, THE FAMED

ARWYOR TIMES SARRAY CROSSWORD BYOUGHTOREP TOURLEY ALL WEEN

Sengitok Selling Hens Kong Mem Delhi Seoul Skongnal Skongnal Takyo Takyo AFRICA Algiers Cope Town Cosoblence Harere Legos Noirobi Tugis 18 04 6 43 22 72 17 63 18 64 12 54 29 84 17 63 32 90 26 77 29 84 9 48 17 63 8 46 LATIN AMERICA 28 82 18 64 16 61 — — 29 84 19 66 26 79 5 41 34 93 23 73 NORTH AMERICA Ancherept Atterfa Boston Chicogo Denver Detroit Hoosialu Houston Las Anjoh Attami Micherapsi Nosspor New York Sen Franc Sentile Torpeto Westhlants circles are the person of the

صكذامن الأصل

SPORTS

Sept by

And including

and Man

A ME

Without and the mad Heat

· ~ 64 16

See Louising

or hear or tag

್- ೧೯೮೨ ರ

to make its

or the fall profession

20.1

1.5 N. W. 18 622

n di disting

· · · ·

化多人性电影

100.55%基

17 2 2 2 2 3 4 4

37.7524

N 122

10 July 27

To After (MY) LINE

aid on its Office

to wer iet Form

Stars & Stripes (US-55) tacked in close quarters en route to a 15-second lead on Monday's first leg.

The most overtimes in NBA

history was six, on Jan. 6, 1951,

when Indianapolis beat Rochester, 75-73. The last time an NBA game went to a fourth overtime was March 16, 1984 when Chicago beat Portland, 156-155.

their victory margin.

150-147 and 4 Overtimes:

Warriors Win All-Nighter

OAKLAND, California -

Eric Floyd, nicknamed Sleepy, had every reason to be tired. Golden State's all-star guard played 64 minutes, tying an all-time record, in Sunday's 150-

147 victory over the New Jersey

Nets. It was the first four-overtime National Baskteball Associstion game in three years. Floyd had 29 points and 13

essists while equaling Norm

Nixon's mark for most minutes

(Nixon played 64 minutes in a four-overtime game for the Los Angeles Lakers against Cleve-land on Jan. 29, 1980).

"It was a great one to win," Floyd said. "I wouldn't went to be on the other side after a 21 ties, the game nearly had a lith overtime as Leon Wood's at the final buzzer hit the rim.

The game was 108-108 at the end of regulation, 118-118 after one overtime, 127-127 after the second and 138-138 after the third.

Featuring 26 lead changes and

Stars & Stripes on the Brink of a Cup Sweep

FREMANTLE, Australia -Stars & Stripes dominated Kookaburra III in moderate winds Monday, winning by 1 minute, 46 seconds to take a 3-0 lead and move within one victory of bringing the America's Cup back to the United Conner's triumph was achieved after a report of a bomb aboard Kookaburra III.

Chief Inspector John Watts of Perth central police confirmed that an anonymous call had been made to a police station in Sydney claiming a bomb was aboard the Austraian 12-meter.

"You've got a bomb on board," a race official, dispatched in a chase boat, told skipper Iain Murray, who at that point was trying to catch the flying Conner.
"We checked our options list,"

Murray said afterwards. "Our immediate response was, What's the bad news? We decided to continne. We didn't figure a bomb going off would affect the race outcome Kevin Parry, head of the Kookaburra syndicate, gave the crew the option of canceling the race and evacuating when Kookaburra was on the final leg of the eight-leg race. The 11 crewmen said they would stay aboard and finish. After the race, the boat was thoroughly searched at the dock. No bomb was found.

"Our crew will fight the whole way," said Mucray, "They're still in very high spirits. The boat we're racing appears to be faster than us. But we haven't lost it yet." Yachting's biggest prize had lead.

been in America for 132 years, ever since the competition began in 1851. But Australia won it in 1983, and now Dennis Conner, the 44year-old skipper who lost it, is on the verge of regaining it.

The fourth, and potentially deci-sive, race is scheduled for Wednesday. The next race had been scheduled for Tuesday, but Stars & Stripes requested a day off because of a forecast for light winds, conditions that make luck a factor in sailboat racing.

Conner won the first race Saturday in heavy winds by 1:41 and the second race, Sunday, in light winds in 1:10. He won Monday in winds of 12 to 20 knots out of the south-

In Monday's race, Kookaburra III got off to its best start in the series. The boats crossed the starting line evenly, and then engaged in the most aggressive competition of The defender was slightly in front when the yachts crossed each other four minutes into the race. Seventeen minutes later, they crossed again — and this time Con-ner had Stars & Stripes ahead by about two boat lengths. Conner never trailed again. Moments after the start, and again late in the second leg, Kooka-burra III bowman Doo McCracken went up the mast, apparently to work on a mainsail zipper that controls the sail's shape and area. Stars & Stripes led by 15 seconds at the first mark and pulled away on the second leg, a downwind run on which it added 42 seconds to its The advantages at the next five eight buoys on the 24.1-mile course boat back in the running. The overmarks were 1:21, 1:31, 1:29, 1:49 three lengths ahead. and 1:41, respectively.

The U.S. crew was relaxed and confident throughout. Conner, in fact, so enjoyed the day's outing that at one point he surrendered the wheel to tactician Tom Whidden. "Let's go back to work," said Conner, as he took over again.

Said Whidden of Conner: "He's sailing as well as I've ever seen him sail." Whidden was the tactitian the day Conner became the first American ever to lose the cup.

But Conner refrained from premature celebrating. "We remain scared to death," he said, "until we get one more victory."

The vachts broke evenly after Conner fought off Peter Gilmour, the Australians' combative starting beimsman, to take the left end of the line, his preferred position. Murray took the wheel and had Kookaburra III a length ahead five minutes into the race. Ten minutes later Conner had to veer away to avoid hitting Kookaburra as they crossed tacks. Murray tacked right on his bow — in sailing vernacular, a "slam dunk."

Stars & Stripes then moved into high gear, sailing faster to leeward. Conner was masterful, sailing into and off the wind in a scalloping motion to finally force Murray to tack away. Then he gave his blue yacht her head to use her not-so-secret weapon: straight-line speed.

Australian hopes nonetheless rose along with the wind, 12-14 knots at the start increasing to 19. night prediction had been for mild

The ensuing spinnaker run, supposedly a weak point of Stars & Stripes, was where Conner beat Murray by adding a whopping 42 seconds to his lead. The Americans took a flier at the beginning of the leg. Instead of setting the big red, white and blue parachute on a jibe, they raised it on the same tack, to utilize the favorable winds on the ray saw another firmly held belief left side of the course.

Safely in front, Conner sailed conservatively the rest of the way. Murray's only hope was for gear failure to befall the Americans, as happened when Stars & Stripes lost her only race against New Zealand in the challenger finals.

That didn't happen.

smashed Sunday, with Conner strong downwind, gaining 17 seconds on the first leeward leg. Monday's moderate breezes were the 28-year-old skipper's last winds and smooth seas.

in from the Indian Ocean.

That didn't happen either. The "Fremantle Doctor" made its regular afternoon call, blowing freshly

The theory that Stars & Stripes was vulnerable in light air was exploded in Conner's 1:41 romp over

Kookaburra III on Saturday. Mur-

In 135 years of America's Cup competition, no skipper has ever overcome an 0-3 deficit to win.

That didn't happen.

Murray had opted to race Monday instead of asking for a lay day to regroup based on a forecast for light winds he hoped would put his

"We've done a good job to get here," said Parry, all but conceding defeat, "but we will have to do that much better over the next three years."

(AP, UPI)

Zurbriggen Takes Super-Giant Slalom

By Steve Kettle

CRANS-MONTANA, Switzerland - Pirmin Zurbriggen of Switzerland skied aggressively to win the men's super-giant slalom at the world Alpine ski championships

A second-place finisher in both the downhill and combined event, Zurbriggen made sure of becoming the super-giant's first-ever world

19.93 seconds. He won Switzerland's fourth gold medal out of five events so far at the championships. Marc Girardelli of Luxembourg, winner of the combined, took the silver medal in 1:20.80 and Markus Wasmeier of West Germany the bronze in 1:21.08.

Girardelli was first to race on the sep and hard 1,553-meter (4,931foot) course, which had 43 gates and a drop of 514 meters. He had a good run, but Zurbriggen, who started fifth, was more powerful.

Wild and wide at some of the first gates, Zurbriggen touched the snow with his hand at a difficult, low turn on the upper part of the course. But be recovered his balance and continued.

"I was very motivated, I had nothing to lose," Zurbriggen said. This gold medal means much more than two silvers. Now I am a happy man. I no longer feel pressure on me."

Wasmeier, winner of both of this season's World Cup super-giants, lost his chance of the gold when he nearly skidded out at a left-hand turn and lost valuable time. "The course was in a catastroph state — it was almost a downhill," Wasmeier said. 'I was not concentrating enough when I made my mistake — I was three or four meters from the gate."

Austria's Leonhard Stock was fourth in 1:21.28, with teammate Hubert Strok fifth in 1:21,44 and Italian Robert Erlacher sixth with 1:21.83.

15 skiers feiled to finish. Liechtenstein's Andreas Wenzel did a split and tumbled over on the icy slope; Switzerland's Martin Han feil, and teammate Peter Müller missed a gate and skied out

Miller, 39, a Surprised Victor in Pebble Beach Golf

By Gordon S. White Jr.

PEBBLE BEACH, California -Johnny Miller, who said he had thought his winning years on the golf tour were over, surprised himself and just about everyone else here Sunday with his tirst triumph in nearly foor years.

"I'm drained, just physically and mentally beat," New Jersey The 39-year-old star of a decade ago won his favorite tournament on forward Buck Williams said afhis favorite course by sinking a 15ter his 18-point, 27-rebound foot (4.5-meter) birdie putt on the 60-minute performance was not final hole to beat Payne Stewart by enough to stop the Nets from losing their fifth straight game a shot and win the Pebble Beach National Pro-Am. and their 21st in 23 road games. "It's furmy to win a tournament Center Joe Barry Carroll bad you had no idea you were going to win," said Miller. "There was no 43 points and 24 rebounds in 55 minutes for the Warriors. real point in the round when I Carroll scored six points in the thought much about winning. I was fourth overtime as the Warriors just trying to have a good time and opened a 149-144 lead with nine check out the scenery." seconds left. Wood's three-Miller shot only par for the first-pointer with four seconds to go two rounds, at Cypress Point and Spyglass Hill. But the blond Califorpulled the Nets to within two. It was the only field goel in nine nian closed with a 6-under-par 66 to finish with 10-under 278. That made Golden State's Chris Mullin, him 10-under for the last two rounds who scored 25 points, made one - both on Pebble Beach. of two free throws with three seconds left to give the Warriors

He sank the birdie putt at the seaside 18th hole as Stewart, the third-round leader, was parring out on 16; the two were then tied for a bogey. Stewart, who has not won gan, gained a check for $108,000 the lead. About 15 minutes later since the fall of 1983, finished at only a day after he almost gave up Stewart lost another chance at vic- 279 after closing with a 72. tory when he drove into the right bunker at No. 17, a par 3, and took behind Stewart when the day be-

Johnny Miller, watching his birdie putt fall on No. 18: "I was

Thus Miller, who was five shots
Thus Miller, who was five shots a week-old pulled muscle. The triumph was his first since the Honda Classic in March 1983. "If this was any other tourna> played," said Miller, who in 1974 won what was then called The Crosby to start his big year of eight victories. "But this is my favorite tournament. I was going to try no matter how much it hart." On the eighth fairway in Satur-day's third round, Miller told his caddie he was going to finish out the hole and withdraw; the pain was too much, he said. But he holed out a on one of the world's strongest par-4 holes. That changed his mind. "This does a lot for me," Miller said: "Now the other guys on the tour won't look at me like, 'He used to be good until his putting went south, but more like, 'Hey, he can still make a putt and can still win.

Miller's best years were in the mid-70s. In 1973, he won the U.S. just trying to have a good time and check out the scenery." he was the British Open champion.

WALES CONFERENCE

"I had nothing to lose. . . . "

Hockey

SCOREBOARD

Holbert Team Retains Daytona Title

SPORTS BRIEFS

DAYTONA BEACH, Florida (AP) - Al Holbert made a surprise appearance Sunday to help his team repeat as champions of the Daytona 24-Hours sports our endurance race. Holbert combined with Derek Bell and Al Unser Jr. — his partners a year ago — and Chip Robinson to outduct AJ. Foyt, Al Unser and Danny Sullivan in what was, until the Foyt car quit about 55 minutes from the end, the closest race in the twent's 21-year history.

The two Porsche 962 Prototypes had exchanged the top spot several times through the night. The winners took the lead for good on lap 569 (during the 19th hour); Foyt, pushing to catch up after a routine pit stop, had gearbox and engine problems in the waning hours and, trailing Holbert by about a lap and a half, finally blew the engine.

Policy the state of the ball of the pith 20 minutes to go and cruised to Bell took over from Holbert with 30 minutes to go and cruised to

The 962 of Oscar Larrauri, Massimo Sigala and Gianfranco Brancatelli inherited second, finishing eight laps and 32 seconds behind the winners. They were followed by another 962 (Rob Dyson, Price Cobb and Vern uppen); the Foyt team wound up fourth.

The winners completed 753 laps and covering 2,680.68 miles (4,314 kilometers) at an average speed of 111.599 mph. The tense race had sapped Holbert's three designated drivers, and he took over for the first time during a pit stop in the 22d hour. "We just needed a fresh body in there," said Holbert.

Koch, E. German Track Star, Retires

ROSTOCK, East Germany (UPI) — Marita Koth of East Germany, one of the greatest female runners ever, amnounced her retirement on Koch, who will turn 30 on Feb. 18, said she was quitting because of recurring trouble with an Achilles tendon. "It is no help now to be optimistic," she said. "One has to be realistic." With the 200- and 400-meters her specialities, Koch set 16 world outdoor records and 15 indoor world bests. She said she would continue her medical studies and marry her long-time coach, Wolfgang Meier, later

AFC Defeats NFC, 10-6, in Pro Bowl HONOLULU (UPI) — John Elway of Denver threw a 10-yard scoring pass to Todd Christensen of the Los Angeles Raiders, and New England's Tony Franklin kicked a 26-yard field goal to give the American Conference a 10-6 victory over the National Conference in Sunday's Pro Bowl, the final game of the National Football League season.

First-half fumbles by rookie punt returner Vai Sikahema of St. Louis set up both of the winners' scores. The NFC railied in the second half on field goals of 38 and 19 yards by Morton Andersen of New Orleans, but failed to score when it had the ball on the AFC 1-yard line in the final period. That drive ended when Lloyd Burruss of Kansas City picked off a pass by Washington quarterback Jay Schroeder in the end zone with 8:05 left

Shoemaker to Undergo Knee Surgery

ARCADIA, California (UPI) - Jockey Bill Shoemaker, the world's leading rider with 8,630 victories, said Sunday that he will undergo knee surgery, which will sideline him for several weeks.
Shoemaker, 55, decided to have the cartilage surgery on his left knee done this week despite an outstanding season thus far at Santa Anita Race Track, including a victory aboard Very Subtle in Saturday's Santa "When I'm riding the knee doesn't bother me," said Shoemaker, who underwent similar surgery on his right knee six years ago. "It's walking efterwards that bothers me. I didn't think I was going to make it back to the jockey's room after the race Saturday."

Shoemaker rode his first winner in 1949; since then his mounts have carned more than $110 million. He has ridden four Kennicky Derby

Basketball

Big Enst Conference

Conference All Garman
W L Pct. W L Pct.
4 2 250 17 3 250
20 4 2 750 16 3 342
4 5 4 256 15 3 323
5 4 256 14 4 778
5 4 256 12 8 400
1 3 7 300 12 7 432
ut 2 7 322 7 17 397 U.S. College Standings DePoul
New Orleans
Notre Dame
Pan American
Marauette
Milani. Fiz.
Uffica
Dayton
SW Louisiana. 8 .m 8 m 421 Conference All Germas W L Pct. W L Pct. 8 1 AMP 17 2 AFS 7 2 J78 19 2 J05 NBA Standings 4 .500 4 .500 6 .223 7 .222 8 .111 U.S. College Results 97 inion 29 15 .499 — 29 16 .594 1 .99 20 .99 27 27 27 .485 7½ 20 .24 .455 9 18 27 .486 11½ Rhode Island $4, Penn St. 75 Seton Holl 79, Boston College 76 Alabama Florida Auburn Kentucky SOUTH
Georgia Tech 76, Maryland
New-Las Vegas 104, Autum
MJDWRST Missouri 68. Konsoe St. 64 Hebrasko 73. Oktoberna St. 66 Hebra Dame 66. North Carolina St WESTERN CONFERENCE vision
W L Pct. G8
10. 14. 454 -26 18. -97 2
27 27 522 5 29 27 444 8½
16 29 .356 12½
14 38 .315 14 3 6 333 3 .727 3 .700 3 .700 4 .400 5 .565 3 .565 4 .433 7 .300 12 7 12 7 12 8 12 10 11 9 8 11 Vision
34 10 .773 —
28 19 .594 7½
34 20 .545 10
25 22 .532 10½ College Top-20 Results How the top 26 factors in The Agraciated Fountry's Rebells

Figurity 25 29 29 23—106

Astends 25 27 29 23—106

Astends 25 21 27 25 compact 6-14.5-7 17; Bellie

Fils 9-10 27, Whills 9-14.5-7 24, Rebessels: Noveten 46 (Clajuwen 11), Amenta 36 (Willia 16).

Assists: Novellan 26 (Leavell 10), Astends 22

(Bellie A)

38 26 20 35-116 Adilwostae 37 37 35-716
Sen Antoele 37 33 125-136
Robertson 9-15 10-15 26, Berry 7-14 5-6 19:
Cummlings 14-17 4-7 32, Planta 9-19 3-6 23, Retendels: Milweutee 36 (Cummlines 9), Sen
Antonio 61 (Gilmore 17), Aguish: Milweutee
26 (Lucos 10), Son Antonio 31 (Krystkowick ?). 28 (Lucus III), Son Antenic31 (Krysthowick 7).
New Jersey 29 27 27 23 18 9 11 7—149
Carden Shale 25 34 27 28 18 9 11 12—139
Carroll 15-37 13-18 43, Fisyal 10-34 9-11 29;
Woshinston 12-39 54 29, Gminski 11-18 3-4 23.
Rebounds: New Jersey 78 (Wellems 27),
Golden State 73 (Carroll 36). Assists: New Jersey 25 (Wootriske 19), Golden State 23

Debreit 22 27 27 16—94
Demiter 5-14 5-11 25, Lehnberr 7-13 2-3 14;
Jorden 14-39 9-9 38, Oakler 5-14 5-10 16, Pozoan
7-16 1-1 16, Rehounds: Chicaso 57 (Oukler 17),
Defroit 61 (Thomas 11), Assists: Chicaso 22
(Pozsan 7), Defroit 22 (Thomas 13),
Defites 27 28 37 25—117
Performi 36 23 36 38—123
Mendaments 14-72 6-7 38 (Parent 4-13 4-4 16)

sempnis sone seuto caratina Louisville Southern Miss Virginio Tech Cincinnati Florida State

12 7 AM 12 7 AM 13 9 99 16 12 AM 5 .167 11 7 .611 Conference Conference All Games

4. Perdue (14-3) del. Ohio St. 75-73; jest to Solis 554.

9. Alobomo (16-3) Net to No. 19 Florido 99-50, OT; del. Georgia 55-74, OT, 10. Oklohomo (17-3) del. Cotorodo 67-62; del.

I George St. 82-76; def. Herth Coroling St. 84-82.

13. Duke (16-4) del. Corneli 85-97; losi to 22 21 7 52 197 185 21 23 8 50 161 179 19 22 9 47 174 192 19 26 8 45 190 212 19 26 5 43 174 193 Sazovihe División

Winniang 2 2 8-4
Washington 2 2 3-4
Washington 2 2 3-4
Ducheste 2 (11), Stevens (8), Gariner 2 (22),
Gould (15): Harnel (22), Backman (11), Neuleid (16), Ellett (2), Shots on gest: Winniang
(on Peyters) 13-13-6-32; Weshington ion Perntey) 11-7-25.
Detroit 0 0 7-1
Suffice 1 2 3-6
Entition 2 (17) Anthonology (16), Crelebber

NY Islanders Washington NY Runpers New Jursey Phitsburgh

Follows 2 (17), Andreychuk (14), Creis (9), Arnjel (8), Housley (11); Lomb (1), Shots on goot; Detroll (on Borrosso) 7-6-13—24; Buffola (on Status) 7-13-6-30.

Harriford 4 1 3-2 PUTSBurgh 2 2 3-6 Dinsen (22), Francis (29), Jarvis (6), Perro-ro 2 (16), Anderson (16), Tippeti (6), Kleinendorst (3); Errey (13), Lemieus 2 (25), Cam-ntysyorth (17), Quien (28), Lindstrom (7). Shots as geni: Hartford (on Actoche, Guen-ofte) 16-10-7—35; Pittsburgh (on Liut) 11-18-

A. revenue-Las Veges (21-1) det. Franco St.

106-51; def. Califernio-trvine 114-10; def.
No. 18 Autours 104-85.

4. Indiam (17-2) det. No. 12 Illinois 69-46;
def. No. 4 Purque 68-77. Podubhy (28), Duguer (a), Lorouche 3 (20); Neely (21), Courinell (7), Thelin (1), MACCORITY (24), Shots on gool: Boston (on 4. Syrection (17-3) lost to No. 17 Pijishurph 84-70; lost to No. 11 Georgetown 2047, OT. 7. Termie (20-2) def. Rutgers 74-56; daf.

Davis Cup Tennis

Duquesne 82-44. R. DePaul (18-1) def. Weber $1,70-$1; def. Lp First Round AMERICAN ZONE

(At Nossou, Bahames) Constronivisaliti Caribbean 2, Cuba 2 oper Smith. Bahamas, del. Meris Ivan Tobares Perez, Cuba, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4, Juan Pine Perez, Cuba, dei, Des 75; def. No. 6 SYCOCUTE $3-67, OT. 12. Illinois (15-5) but to No. 4 Indiana 69-66; def. Colorado 69-65. n Pine Perez, Cuba, dei. Dou leo, 7-5, 2-0 (relired). Canada 4, Veneza

Georgia Tech 7546; del. Wake Parest 62-60, OT. 14. Clemson (19-2) def. Winthrop 94-69; last AFRICAN ZONE in Providence VI-II. OT. IA. Texas Christine (III-3) acf. Rice 64-85; del. Arkhones 73-65. 17. Pilitaburgh (III-4) def. No. 6 Syructon 84-(Al Abidjan, Ivary Count) Ivary Count 5, Tunisia 8 Clament N'Goran, Ivary Count, det. unioni, Tunislo, 6-1, 6-3. oc., No. 19 Florido B1-05; ked to No. 3 Newsdo-Less Varyes 10-05.

19. Florido 16-05 dat. No. 9 Aleborno 91-80. OT; lost to No. 18 Auburn 81-06.

Rax Coldwell, 5.190
Peter Jocobsen, 3,970
Tom Kite, 3,970
Corney Powin, 1,978
John Mohalley, 2,978
Ken Green, 2,037
John Cod', 2,037
Roser Molitble, 3,037
Milke Hulbert, 3,037
Joy Hess, 2,037
Gene Souers, 2,037
Milke Dongis, 3,037
Milke Dongis, 3,037 Dilani, Marecco, 34, 44, 6-3, 8-4, 6-4, Abdellatif Nation.

National Hockey League Standings

Kerms) 15-8-1-32. Las Angeles
Quebec
Quebec (29), Hough (4), A. Stocky (16); Nichells (18), Dionne (20), Shots on youl: Los Angeles (on Gosselin) 16-8-12—30; Quebec (on Eliot) 10-9-4—25. mrs Divisions 27 26 6 40 179 175 26 22 7 59 184 172 26 21 5 57 193 167 20 26 7 47 170 172 16 30 6 32 175 201

BASEBALL American League

BALTIMORE—Signed Bred Hovens, pitch-

BALTIMORE—Signed Brad Havens, pitcher, and John Sheltry, outfielder, to ens-year confracts.

AILWAUKEE—Signed Edgar Diez, short-stop: Brad Komminet, suffielder, and Bryan Cutterbuck, pitcher, to one-year confracts.

SEATTLE—Signed Mark Langston, pitcher; Domingo Roma, Infiliation, and Alvin Devis, first beamma, to gre-year confracts.

Hatland Langue

ATLANTA—Signed Poul Runge, infielder, to a one-year contract.

CINCINNATI—Signed Bill Landrum, Norm Charlton and Jeff Gray, pitchers; Terry McGriffs, cartaner, and Jeff Treadway, infield-infielder, to a one-year contract.

SAN DIEGO—Signed Dave Drawedry,

Golf

Mark O'Meara, 5,190 Rex Caldwell, 5,190

the 6.777-yard, par-72 Pubble Bo Bernhord Longer, 34,800 Fred Couples, 24,000 72-47-43-77--280 LOTTY Mize, 19,425 Donny Ethyants, 19,425 70-49-72-71--222 71-77-77-77-203 71-72-73-67-283 71-72-73-69-283 72-72-74-72-284 82-72-74-72-284 75-71-71-68-285 72-72-73-67-285 72-72-73-67-285 Rick Fehr, 15,000 Ken Brown, 15,000 Ison Aoki, 12,000 Sendy Lyle, 12,000 Ben Crenshow, 8,715 kelth Cleorwater, 8,715 Leonard Thompsn. 8,715 Andy Bean, 8,715 Fuzzy Zoeller, 8,715 Tem Byrum, 8,715 Jock Nicklous, 8,715 Lennie Clements, 8,715 George Burns, 5,190 Richard Zokol, 5,190 Curtis Strange, 5,190 Kenny Kriox, 5,190

72-70-71-71-285 68-74-71-72-285 72-72-70-71-285 72-70-69-74-285 72-70-69-74-285 69-75-73-69—286 73-75-71-48—486 71-71-72-71—286 70-71-72-73—286 74-71-71-71—287 69-75-71-72—287 69-77-71-72-280 76-77-71-71-280 76-71-74-73-280 69-72-74-73-280 73-73-72-70-280 71-73-73-69-280 71-73-73-69-280 Lormer (21), Presiev 2 (19), Fraser (18), T. Akurray (19), Second (24); Messier 2 (24), Kurri (33), AkcLellond (7), Slets en geal: Edmonton (en Savve) 12-148—34; Chicaya (en Moos) 8-6-12—31.

Broten (12), Hartsburg (10), Lawion (11), MacLellan (28); Petit (8), Petersen (3), Pe derson (16), Shots on good; Albanesote (on Copples) 7-124—25; Vancouver (on Yokka) 14-7-18—35.

Transition

BASKETBALL. National Septembell Association
L.A. CLIPPERS—Activated Norm
suard, from injured list,
MILWAUKEE—Signed Morvin W center, to a second 10-day controct, WASHINGTON—Pieced Dan Rou forward, on the jujured list,
National Football Leasue

Paterson, right wings, and Dave De-

LOS ANGELES-Normed Milke Murrhy

LOS ANGELES—Named Milks Murrhy cooch for the remainder of the season.
PITTSBURGH—Recalled Dwistr Marhle-set. right wing, from Baltimere of the American Hockey Leagus.

COLLEGE
RICE—Announced the resignation of Terriny Suitts, besteated Looch.
SONOMA STATE—Named Marty Fine

ootball coach.
TENNESSEE—Announced that Pred Jon-dies, point guard, will be out indefinitely.
TULSA—Named Tommy Bowden assistant

teofball coach.
VIRGINIA TECH—Announced that Johann

Skiing

World Championships

(At Cruss-Montane, Switzerland)
MEN'S SUPER-GIANT SLALOM
Picmin Zurbrigsen, Switzerland, 1 min

5. Hubert Strotz, Austria, 1:21.28
5. Hubert Strotz, Austria, 1:21.46
6. Robert Erfacher, Italy, 1:21.83
7. Rudolf Nierlich, Austria, 1:22.20
8. Mikhael Eder, West Germany, 1:22.30
9. Glinther Manzer, Liechtenstein, 1:22.44

11. Richard Promotton, Huly, 1:2256.

11. Nechard Promother, Halv, 1:2254.
12. Herbert Renoth, West Germony, 1:22A,
13. Guesther Moder, Austria, 1:2274,
14. Tomaz Cizmon, Yudeslevia, and Alberte
Tomba, 19ty, 1:22.91.
16. Torius Berge, Norway, 1:22.92.
17. Hans Styline, West Germany, 1:23.14,
18. Hélin Hotzer, Haly, 1:22.30.
19. Roc Petrovic, Yugoslavia, 1:23.30.

19. Korf Alphjer, Switzerland, 1:23.40.
20. Korf Alphjer, Switzerland, 1:23.41.
21. Lara-Beerle Eriksson, Sweden, 1:23.67.
22. Shirya Chiba, Jopon, 1:24,57.
23. Alfe Skaardel, Narway, 1:24,70.
24. Sieven Lee, Australia, 1:24,74.
25. Adrian Bires, Czechoslovekia, 1:25,02.

A Case of Cabin Fever

WASHINGTON — Last week the northeastern United States was locked in by two snowstorms in a row. It was so bad that cy. in the Washington area alone there were 347,987 reported cases of Cabin Fever.

This was a typical case. The Porter family was stuck in their house for three days as the wind blew back and forth, producing threeand four-foot drifts of snow. Mr. Porter stationed himself in the living room where he could monitor weather bulletins much better. Buchwald As we move in on him the newscaster has just announced, "Only those with essential jobs are re-quired to report to their government offices today."

Mrs. Porter said, "Thank God

you're not one of them." Mr. Porter blew up. "Are you trying to say I don't have an essen-No, I did not say that at all. I just meant it's good you don't have Porter was now shaking.

"I have a good mind to go in and show them whether I'm essential or

"Suppose they send you home?"
Mrs. Porter asked, You'd like that. You would like me to be humiliated at work." "Here, have some more vanilla pudding."

"I don't want any more pudding.

I've been eating pudding for two days. Why do you keep giving me pudding all the time?"

England Assembling Gothic Art for Show

LONDON - Churches, cathedrals and museums in England will send treasures to London for the first major exhibition of the coun-

The Royal Academy of Arts said the show, "Age of Chivalry: Art in Plantagenet England 1200-1400," will run from Nov. 6 through

"You told me to make it because it was the only thing to keep us alive during the 'snow emergen-

"I think I'll shovel the walk." "You keep saying that and then you don't get out of the chair."

"I want to watch Phil Donahue. I never get to see Phil Donahue when I go to the office. After that I'll either shovel the snow or go through my suits and tell you which ones I want to throw out."

"You always say that too." There are a lot of things to do when you're snowbound, and it's not easy to decide which one should get priority."

Veronica Porter, the 15-year-old, came downstairs. "Daddy, Daddy, Harriet says she's going to kill Robert if he plays Bruce Springsteen on his tape machine one more time." Mr. Porter smiled. "Well, don't interfere. Harriet is old enough to know what she is doing."

Mrs. Porter said, "How can you give permission for your daughter to kill your son?" "You have any better ideas of how to make him stop playing Springsteen? I don't like those

You never looked at those drapes before, I asked you a thousand times whether you liked the drapes and you always went 'mmemomenmnom.' I thought that meant you liked them." You would think with the money I give you I could have a say in the kind of drapes we have in this

"Do you want some pudding?" "No, I don't want pudding. Did Harriet kill Robert yet?" Veronica said, "Not yet. I think it was a joke."

"I'm going to take a snow shovel and break his tape player." Mrs. Porter said, "Doctors warn not to make decisions while you are snowbound in the house."

"I think I'll get out all my photographs and catalogue them by sub-ject matter and file them by date in

Mrs. Porter said, "That's interesting. Scientists have found that the most severe cases of Cabin Fever develop when a snowbound person talks about putting all his photographs in order."

A Curator's Magnificent Obsession

By Sarah Booth Conroy Washington Post Service

ASHINGTON — As cura-Washing Ion — In the Ashing the Ashing Ion Atlanta the treasures of Sultan Süleyman I, the great Ottoman ruler seemed to her almost to come back to life. And today, his gold-illuminated existence glows in "The Age of Sultan Stileyman the Magnificent," on display at the National Gallery of Art and organized by Belgrade and Rhodes, among other places, and battered the gates of Vienna, where, now that those wars are forgotten, he can be re-membered for bringing coffee houses, crescent-shaped bread and a golden touch that brushed Austrian art. In Washington, a bust of him as a great lawgiver stands in the Capitol. And throughout Islam, he is remembered as a poet and a patron of enduring arts and architecture.

The Turkish-born Atil yearned for more: "I wanted to give him his Washington conquest," she Süleyman's weapons are jeweled and gold-encrusted yatagans (swords), archers' rings set with precious stones, and gold-inlaid helmets. His peaceful persuaders are illuminated histories, crystal jugs, a movable throne set with ebony, silver and mother-ofpearl. Such magnificence blinds unbelieving eyes now as it did when Süleyman reigned, from chambers of Topkapi Palace.

For Atil, the search for the Süleyman collection was, she said, the most joyous of her life. "At mate, touching his nightgown and whose son was the reigning sul-the caftan he were when he was tan. She was by far the most pow-10. I read his love poems to his I discovered the names of his artists. Perhaps I am emotionally involved, but not just with Suleyman, I have so much admiration for Hurrem, his wife, for the nakkasan," the painters.

After being possessed by Süleyman for so long, she said, "Actu-ally, I feel like his mother."

Despite modern misunderstandings about harems, Atil points out that political skill and determination were not rare in the harem of the 1550s, Atil pointed out. Hurrem not only defied the arts, the poet and the lawmaker."

solution in the topsant Suleyrefused an object," she said.

Brown vividly remembers how arts, the poet and the lawmaker."

REAL ESTATE

TO RENT/SHARE

PARIS AREA FURNISHED

Embassy Service

YOUR REAL ESTATE

AGENT IN PARIS

45.62.78.99

FACING HOTEL

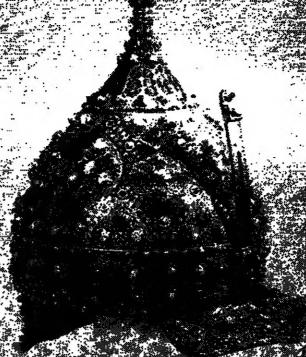

CONCORDE LAFAYETTE

AUDIORICUS DUPLEX PLATS
Both, phone, no agency fees, F4900 net per month. Short hern lease, 15st body
1 leam-Spers 95 Bd Garwinn St Cyr., Paris
17th. Tel. [1] 43 59 45 81

IN A FAMOUS BUILDING

The Claridge Residence

for 1 month or more studios, 2 or 3-room aportments are ovaliable for moving into right own

Esin Atil amid exhibits on reign of Stileyman in Washington.

practice of the time to officially marry Süleyman and supplant his previous hasekis (favorites), but also was able to move herself, the seum in 1981. other women and the children from the Old Palace into 360

"The Harem [literally sacred place] was the private domain of the sultan, where members of his family resided," Atil writes. "At times I felt it was almost too inti- the top was the Valide Sultan, erful mother and frequently advised the sultan on household as well as national and international affairs. Below her were the hasekis, who had produced male off-

> In 1973, Atil organized a show at the Freet Gallery, where she is curator of Islamic art, on Turkish art of the Ottoman period, to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Turkish Republic. "This made me realize only with objects from the Topkapi could

Atil made her first foray into the world of the art show spectac-ular with the "Art of the Mam-luks," at the Natural History Mu-

"When Carter Brown [the National Gallery director] said he liked the show and was sorry there was no room for it on his schedule, I quickly said, But I have another show, a bigger one for you'" But first the law had to be changed. For more than 20 years, the Turkish government had refused to allow historical treasures to leave the country, even on loan. After the Turkish parliament decided to allow intercountry loans beginning in late 1985. Atil laid siege to the Topkapi, where, un-touched by war, revolution or modernization, most of the trea-sures remained. She made forays into museums around the world for the few Ottoman objects that had got away.

"I'm proud that I was never

She received her first degree in kapi museum as though it belonged to her. His own affection for the Topkapi began when he was 12 and went to Turkey and 1956, when she was 18 --- young enough to have plenty of time to earn another degree at the West-ern College for Women, in Ohio. "I thought that I would study Greece with his father. John Nicholas Brown was for many modern art and that would lead years president of the Byzantine me back to medieval art, the way into Islamic art," she said. She eventually earned a Master's degree in that field from the Univer-Institute of America, which helped restore important Turkish

Though the National Gallery has shown works from many countries that are far different Islamic art in 17 years. The latest, "Saleymanname," the first study of the 16th-century imperial manuscript, and "The Age of Suleyman the Magnificent," are from Western sensibilities, it is musual to have the curator of an exhibition who was both born to the exotic culture and was found, as Brown put it, "right under our noses." Atil is on loan to the National Gallery from the Freez, which is across the Mall

"I don't collect," she said. "I have never believed that a musenm curator should compete with the museum for objects." Atil learned English when she was eight. Her family had come to New York for four years while her father studied economics at Com dilly dilly

PEOPLE

ate ne ws

Wande in Mississiol

St. Art.

ر بن اور وبا⊈

San deputies

REDE TODAY

paid Breit and Completed

Applicate me the risk free

The in I market

The state of the s

And and a street of the street

Many of Sulfaces

Strate Vitte

Charles Salar

Oliver Stone's 'Platoon' Wins 3 Golden Globes

"Platoon," the gritty movie dra-ma of U.S. soldiers in Vietnam, won top honors in the 44th annual Golden Globe awards. "Platoon" won for best motion picture drama. for best director, Oliver Stone, and for best supporting actor, Tom Berenger. Bob Hoskins won the best actor award for "Mona Lisa." Marlee Matin won as best actress for "Children of a Lesser God." The best motion picture, musical or comedy, was "Hannah and Her Sisters." . . Stone will begin work on "Wall Street" - a story of corporate greed and corruption — in April. "It's a Crime and Punishment' story of a young trader who becomes kind of a yuppie Scarface," he says.

A tentative settlement in a dis pute over Georgia O'Keeffe's will calls for distribution of most of ber works to museums and nonprofit institutions, lawyers say. Relatives of O'Keeffe had challenged the will, alleging that the executor, Juan Hamilton, her companion in her last years, had unduly influenced the aging artist in order to shift an art estate estimated at $40. million to $65 million to himself rather than the moseums. The attorneys refused to say what Hamilton would get. O'Keeffe died lest March at the age of 98.

Katherine Hepburn is the great est female star ever, according to a People magazine poll, with 36 per-cent of the vote. People also said that its poll of 9,759 readers showed Cary Grant as the greatest male star of all time, with 18 per-cent of the vote, followed by Clark Gable, 16 percent.

Peter Fonda is starring in a movie about mercenaries being filmed in South Africa. The Sunday Times of Johannesburg said it interviewed. Fonda on the set of "The Fighters" and that he was unconcerned about possible adverse reaction to work ng in South Africa from the public or his sister, actress Jane For liberal political activist. "I spoke to lane recently on the phone and she didn't say one word about the South African situation," the paper quoted Fonda as saying. "Sin knows why I'm here. I'm working on a movie and the movie set just happens to be in South Africa."

ANNOUNCEMENTS MORE THAN 200 PART-TIME COURSES FOR ADURTS AT THE UMERICAN COLLEGE IN PAIRS. Doyline and evering schedules, legistration: Feb. 5. Classes begin eb. 9. Call the Admission Office today, 45.25.91,73. USA DIVORCE IN 14 DAYS. No Iroy-

GUAM USA DIVORCE. No Guam mp-Both Sign. Don Porkinson, Box BK, Agona, Guam. Tek 671-477-7637. RELING level? - having problems SOS HELP crisis-line in English, 3 p.m. 11 p.m., Tel: Paris 47 23 80 80. ALCOHOLICS AMONYMOUS in English, Ports (doily) 4634 5765, Rome 678 03 20, Netherlands (020) 256057

PERSONALS DAN O, HAPPY BIRTHDAY. MOVING

> ALLIED WORLDWIDE MOVING

(1) 43 43 23 64 93 21 23 4 93 21 35 72 FIRANGUET 250066 DUSSELDOR-RATINGEN: LMS RATINGEN: [02102] 445023 MUNICH

MUNICIF (089) 3202088 (M.S.) LONDON AMERITANS (01) 953 3636 USA: ALLED VAN LINES (0101) 312-681-8100

FOUR WINDS International GET A NETTER SERVICE FROM THE LARGEST WORLDWIDE MOVER

Pans office (1) 30 36 63 11 or call your local office in your yellow pages CALL US FOR AN ESTIMATE YOU WILL BE GLAD YOU DID! CONTRNEX, Small & medium moves, baggage, cars worldwide. Call Char-les: Paris 42 81 18 81 (near Opera).

SECRETARIAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE

PLUS

INTERNATIONAL

Specialized temporary agency

stacks Bilingual and English mother langua

SECRETARIES

Shorthand and word processing skills appreciated.

Tek: 45 22 01 79

PARS OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL Consultants seeks blinguel secretary, obscalately perfect French & English, written and spoken, ideal condiction will be between 22 & 28 years old, good types, responsible, enflusionation team use of word processors & computers and happy to work in friendly town offmosphere. Must possess work permit. Tel. (1), 45 00 04 10 or write SIAR, 40 rue Paul Volery, 75116 Pars.

73116 Ford.

URGENT - INT'L CONSULTING FRAM
in Para seels for its regional director securious secretary, fully bilingual, Franch mather torque, tisted considate will be between 30 and 35 years old, should possess a pleasant personoldy, seculent presentation. Experisecs with word processing systems a must furniturally Wangl. Send C.V. + photo + splary requirements to fiest

photo + solary requirements to Sci 4360, Herold Tribune, 92521 Neurity Codex, France

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE FRENCH PROVINCES

large terroces, F3,500,000. Prospolion Mozort, Mine von Pilsoch, Le Ruhl 93,86,37-37. Teles IMMOZAR 461235.

Foreignert can buy STUDIOS/APARTMENTS/CHALETS, LAKE GENEVA MONTRELIX or in these world famous resorts: CRANS-MONTANA, VERBER, VELARS, GRUTHRES, CHATEAU D'OEK, GSTAAD, LES DIASLERETS, LEYSIN, JURA. Thermol center in the those volley etc. from SF125,000. Mortgoges 60% of 64% interest. MONACO MONTE CARLO Very nice 2-room operament for sole in machen residence near center, each sole in machen residence near center, each sole in machen residence near center, each sole in the control of the

INTERMEDIA

PARIS & SUBURBS RANELAGH Semptuous triples, 300 sq.m., 6 rooms, 2 boshs, more's room, garage, VEW. Justified price. Residence Fonciere: 47 04 20 12.

MARCEAU Large 3 Rooms High class building, F7,950,000. 4th Roor, 45 55 20 00.

PLACE SEAUBCURG. Exceptional view, pershouse, top floor of new building, very large living + bactroom, 90 sp.m. + rovising terroce, garage. Daressoy 46:24.93.33.

NEURLY/BOIS. Bd Mourice Barres, very high class, 8 rooms, 370 sp.m., parking, 3 marks rooms. Doressoy 46:24.93.33. 5th ST JULIEN LE PAUVIRE. Exception-ol view, upper floor, elevator, large living, 2 bedrooms, balcony, facing south, F2,500,000, Tel: 42,72,40,19.

AUTEJE, 6th floor, sun, LOVELY about 160 sq m. + balanny & 2-asr garage & maxd's room. NPO: 46 24 02 15. 4th MARAIS, PIED A TERRE, Living, 1 bedroom, beams, charm. Very 2000 store, F1,100,000, OPTIM 45 62 03 03. 167H BUE FAISANDERIE, 500 sp.m., 3rd floor, very languous, high class decorations. La Generale: 42 27 98 07

International Secretarial Positions

SECRETARIAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE

COMPUTE CONSULTANT CO.
near Versalles, is looking for a PRENCH BILBNOUAL SECRETARY
Assistant for C.E.O.
Commercial English required.
Import-export notions. Send resume &
photo to: Aude Albert, Allos Micro Informatique, 10 rue Ampère Prolongée, 78180 Montigny le Brix., France.

MINIERVE SEBS for AMERICAN FIRMS in PARTS: English, Belgion, Dutch or German socratories, knowledge of French required, English shorthand, Billingural televists. Write or phone: 138 Avenue Victor Hugo, 75116 Paris, Franca. Tel. [1] 47 27 61 69.

EXECUTIVE

SECRETARY / TRANSLATOR

American Nationality
Permanent position
PRODEST: 43 35 14 30 Paris

FINANCIAL CONSULTANTS PARIS
8th, seek young bilinguol English//French secretary. Financial bodground o mast. Receive reply by handwritten letter with CV, and photo to:
80x 4361, Herald Tribune, 92521
Neurby Codex, France

SEEK PREFLANCE ALDIO/TYPISTS, English, Sponish or German, Exper-ence word processing on IBM PC a plus, Paris/West suburb, 39 13 54 92

TRANSLATOR NEEDS Engish language types, experienced dutio and word processing. Paris 47 75 20 58.

GREAT BRITAIN LONDON. For the best furnished floss and houses. Consult the Specialists: Phillips, Key and Lews. Tell South of Parts 325 28111, North of Park 596 9882. Teles 27846 RESIDE G. MAYFAIR: SUPERS 2-bedroom fiet. EZ70/week. Tel: 01 589 8223 MONACO Unique in Monte-Carlo

REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE

SWITZERLAND

For Foreigners
Lake Geneva, Gatasel Volkey, Villians, Verbier, Legans areas.
Fine residential apartments, villias and choles overlooks, Verbier, Louis vients.
Daily visits. GLOBE PLAN S.A.,
And Man Recot. 24.

Ave Mon Repos 24 CH-1005 Lossanne, Switzerland rel: (21)22 35 12, Tec 25 185 MRUS CH

REAL ESTATE

TO RENT/SHARE

SUPER SEARCINI
APARTMENT-VELA (SPLIT-LEVEL) WITH TESSACE AND GARDIN
for rent- large living room, drang room, sudy, 6 bedrooms, 4 bedrooms, hilly equipped linteren, puruge & celor.

A.G.E.D.I. decorations, Lei Generale: 42 17 98 07

ST CLICUID, 6 rooms, gorden, portings, sun, F3,000,000. Tel [1] 45 27 46 98

Tet. 93.59.66.00. Telex 679 417 MC

SECRETARIAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE

EXECUTIVE BEINGUAL English/ French secretary required for French subsidiary of British Merchant Bonk, English mether tongue. Places write with CV & photo to: Box 4363, Harcki Tribute, 9/521 Neally Cedex, France BIAT TRADUCTION seeks codic typist, English mother tongue for word pro-cessing work. Transing assured, Send CV. to Bet, 71 rue Fondery, 75015 Pans or call 45 77 97 96.

SECRETARIES AVAILABLE

SELIKE I ARLIES AVAILABLE

EPRIBATE, DYNAMIC, sell-reicht, dedicated, French/American secretory, moture, experienced, highly responsible, excellent human contacts, topperione word processing, sales with Int'l Co. Excellent retremos, seels position Para seros, free lo tranel. Would consider working of home.
Telephone Paris & 60 23 20.

RANDSTAD Speciolized in REINGUAL AGENCY Fully Rengue! Tamporary Office Peris: 47 58 12 40 Percentel

MILITEUNGUAL, 15 years experience with sensor management American companies, looking for new position in Ports. Marce write Box 4342, Herold Tribute, 72521 Neually Cades, frontes or leave memorge Pans. 45 66 40 56.

BILINGUAL SECRETARY, Irish, 21, succiliant references & skills, good Franch, seeks position in Ports, Write Box 4366, Herold Tribone, 92521 Neurily Cades, France

DYNAMIC U.S. Gift. from LA. 22, seeks job in Pors. Previous casistant to VP of major US film co. Multi-stated, trilingual, chief Pors 46 47 80 00.

ATTENTION EXECUTIVES ATIENTION EXECUTIVES Publish your business stessage in the International Hersid It-bana, where are then a third of a million readers week-wide, meet of wheat are in business and indestry, will read it. Just takes as [Paris 613593] before 10 a.m., ensowing that we can takes you back, and your areseage will appear within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. $12.00 or local appears within 48 hours. The rate is under the constant of the rate of the r

> BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

OFFSHORE & UK LTD COMPANIES LID COMPANIES
Incorporation and management in UK, bile of Man, Turks, Anguilla, Choose Islands, Pontano, Liberia, Gibrabar and most other diffusion areas.

• Inmediate availability
• Nomines services
• Bearer stores
• Bearer stores
• Bearer stores
• Accounting & administration
• Mai, Integrance & teles
Free explanatory booklet frame.

SELECT CORPORATE SERVICES LID
Head Office
Mr Placement, Douglas, Isla of Man
Tab Douglas (0624) 22718
Telest 62854 SELECT G

Brokers / Agents
Guaranteed returns for your clients first time years, followed by projected annutive years, followed by projected annuof returns overaging 30% for decades.

Advanced Tedmology in the food isdustry Increases Production Mana

Termology description and administration of Swiss and foreign companies. Guaranteed returns for your clients first five years, indicated by projected consoler returns averaging 35% for decodes. Advanced Technology in the food industry Increases Production More Them 300%. Lifetims Income. Complete material, available in English, French, German.

Globe Plan S.A., Av. Man-Repos 24, CH-1005 Lousanne, Switzerland. Tel: (21)22 35 12. Thr. 25185 MEUS CH.

BUSINESS ADVISORY SERVICES S.A.

OFFSHORE COMPANIES, formed and administered in confidence, oil major centers, accounting, fiduciary service, trading contacts, tal., fix., noting the confidence of the confid

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED TO RENT/SHARE TO RENT/SHARE PARIS AREA FURNISHED

AT HOME IN PARIS PARIS PROMO Estate Agent - Property Manager 25 Ave Hodre, 75006 Paris, 45 63 25 6 CRLE ST CLOUD. Near school, livin 2 bedrooms, F5500 met, Living, 3 be rooms, F6600 net, Free reporty. To 39.69.43.36.

NBURLLY, Meurice Borres, very hig class, 3rd floor on Bois, large living, bedrooms, perfect condition, parkers Justified high price. 42 25 38 38 16th PORTE MARLOT. 3-bedroo sportment, fiving, dining, study, colin sunny. For 18 months from March 1 F13,000/month. Call today 4500 866 AVE MONTAIGNE, LAST FLOOR, 130 sq.m., syrrounded by larroca. Telephone: 47 27 97 04 / 42 66 10 05 BNVALIDES Very nice 1-bedroom operiment, quest, sunsy, short lerm. F5,350 net. Tek 42 73 01 37. MARAIS, SUN, LUXURY, 4 rooms, high closs, short term possible. P9000 net, Tel. 42 25 16 85. RUE ST. HONORE, near Le Louvre. Cusurious studio, short ferra, repid's service, TV & phone. Tek 40 26 37 72.

TEL: 43 59 67 97 AGENCE DE L'EFORE
47 64 03 17
Frankin Rosseeh: Superb studio,
both, kist-kenette: F4000.
Contrescrepte: Studio, both,
intrhenette: F2500.
Contrescrepte: Studio, both,
latchenette: F3500. PARIS AREA FURNISHED

mezzonine, F6200. Tel: 47 20 48 38. 15th. SHORT TERM 1 bedroom, both, terroce, oil conforts. Tel; 48 28 52 19: PARIS AREA LINELIRAISHETI FAST EXECUTIVE HOMEPHOONG-

STUDIO TO 4 ROOMS, Week, month, year rates, Losembourg & Montpornosse. No agency fees, 4325-3509. 16th AUTEUL, charming studio & 2-room flat, balanny. Owner 4525 8327 ETOTLE, NICE STUDIO, fully furnished, NL, TV, maid. F300/day; 42 61 56 08.

EXECUTIVES AVAILABLE EXECUTIVES AVAILABLE
CANADIAN 32, residing in Switzerland, fluent English, Franch, Arabic, experience of international politics, specifically Middle East officers and North American system, 8 yes experisize in media + construications, seeks position as advisor or respresentative of interested firm or organization. Contact. M. Boumb, flosserion.
16, CH-3007 Bern. Tel. 931 /45 32 71

GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE HOSTESSES US cerospace company requires bilingual hastesses for Paris Air Show (11-2) Junel. Excellent English a mest. Good appearance and gracening essential. Send CV & photo to Box 4358, Herald Tribune, 92521 Neully Cedex, France

International Business Message Center

BUSINESS SERVICES

BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE

U.S.A. & WORLDWIDE

ASSISTANT NEEDED in the Burson's Office of an American university in Peris. Bilinguol French-English, accounting delik, experience with acceptants and EEC notionality or valid working popers required, Send CV to the Personnel Manager, 31 Ave Bosquet, 75007 Paris. GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED

EMPLOYMENT

GENERAL POSITIONS

A JOB IN JOURNALISM

TO THE EDITOR WHO ...

has of least 8 years writing and especially adding experience - whose mather longue is English - whose french & German are fluent - whose wide-ranging interests include current events, tonego officins, human interests, culture and science Our European office is adding this creative and imaginative editor to its Participant staff.
Condicions should send detailed resume including samples of work final-need not be returned, solary history and requirements to, Giono Boughton, Bacaler's Digest, 54 rue de Varenne, 75007 Paris.

GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED ATTRACTIVE LADY, 30, English, French, Sponish, university graduate in Blenchpure, seeks positive or private assistant transit compromise or public sity of Michigan.

EMPLOYMENT

She has written 17 books about published by Harry N. Abrams Inc. in conjunction with the Na-tional Gallery. She worked on the concept of the presentation, the audiovisual show, the PBS special, the recorded walk-along. She even gave the dishes for the pre-view dinner appropriate Turkish

"I never knew one person who could do so many parts of an exhibition," Brown said.

relations, Write: Box 4357, Herold Tribune, 92521 Newly Codex, France YOUNG ADMINISTRATIVE ossistors, English, Reent French, working in Fronce leaf 8 years, seeks challenging job, Free fo trovel. Box 4254, Heroid Tribune, 92521 Neutilly Cades, France POUNG LADY, 25 YEARS, SERS position in public relations. University education, secretorial skills, French / English, good opportunes. Tel Brussels. 322/648958 mornings.

DOMESTIC POSTTIONS AVAILABLE WANTED

BLITISE - MAJORDOMO
For President of lef? Company, Minimum 5 yrs amperience, specific French / English
travel Europe / New York,
Excellent solary,
Only moture, experienced Professionals need apply.
Please send your CV to, Cyber E 11
118535, Publicitis, C1-1271 Geneva

WANTED COUPLE: Housekeeper, Cook, Coretoker for small Broodmare Form on Long Island, New York, WSI sporsor, Send resume to: Nostosi, White Inc., 129.09 26th Ave., Flushing, NY 11354 USA Atta; Frank Nostosi, FUSAT NOTES WANT LEAF

BASED IN MONACO but free to Ironet, very experienced top cassitant. French, English, Sponish specifing used to building and running administrative operations including personnel amonagement and computer accounting seets responsible position. Herea Ref. 230, 4 rue des Iris, Morde Carlo

Ref. 230, 4 rue des Iris, Morde Carlo

Clock, Caretater for sizes brocomore form on Long Island, New York. Waster form on Long Island, New York. Waster, 129-09-26th Ass., Rushing, NY 11354-USA Altri, Frank Notice.

AU PAIR WANTED for sid resort-form on Long Island, New York. Waster, 129-09-26th Ass., Rushing, NY 11354-USA Altri, Frank Notice Carlo

Based In MonAco Dut free to Ironet, very experienced top cassitant. Form on Long Island, New York. Waster

White Inc., 129-09-26th Ass., Rushing, NY 11354-USA Altri, Frank Notice

AU PAIR WANTED for sid resource to Ironing seed to building and Ironing seed to building on Ironing seed to building and Iron-

AUTOS TAX FREE

AUTOMOBILES

TERRARI TESTA ROSSA, new 1987, red/ton, immediate delivery, duty not peid, Best offer. Zurich 01/20276 10.

THE LARGEST SHOWROOM AND STOCK BY BURDYE
Keeping a consister stock of more from 300 brand new cars of all European + Jupanese sociest competively priced.
Tex free seclest-dispiping insortance.
Text free multicolor free catchages.
Transco SA, 95 Neordelous, 2030 Anthren, Belgins
Tell 323/542 6240 7x 35207 Trans

TAX PREE MERCEDES of figure, or-mored consistentialed corn. Seed-down 28, 0-26300 Brewson, To 24662A, Fox. (421) 630005. TRASCO Germany, tel: (421) 633044.

LEGAL SERVICES US LAWYER, FORMER JEDGE, serious motions convolvere. William Sheffield, 31 Middle Beach Rd., Madison, CT 06443 USA. COLLEGES &

UNIVERSITIES KENSINGTON DEGREE CAN UNLOCK YOUR EARNING POWER POWER

Kennington University offere:
BA, RS, MA, MS, PAD, JD,
SCECUTIVE MBA.
Registered with Coffernia Countites of Bor Examines:
NO CLASSROOM ATTENDANCE
FOR FREE Brochure.
ICENSINGTON UNIVERSITY
124 S. SABEL ST, DET. 51
GLE-DDALE CA 91205 USA

ACCESS VOYAGES

LOW COST FLIGHTS

POR CINEY $149, FLIGHT PACKAGE for 10 US chies + Montreed Control your US travel agent with 20 years experience ITS, 103 rue (a foots, Poris 8 (60ft. Ch. Byseet), 425 920.

SMALL FRENDLY independent school on take oversen public, immediate vectoricies for opes 4-18. Cell Allic London 904 5348, 24 Naj or 907 793 kil 3pm. Advanced teaching-methods. PEN PALS

Place Your Classified Ad Quickly and Easily in the INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE

By Phone: Coll your local B-17 representative with your lead, You will be informed of the cost immediately, and once prepayment is made your ad will appear within 48 hours.

Cost: The basic rate is $12.00 per line per day + local taxes. Therefore 25 letters, signs and spaces in the first line and 36 in the following lines. Minimum space is 2 lines. No obbreviotions accepted.

Credit Cardis: American Express, Diner's Club, Eurocard, Maillet Card, Access and Visa. LATIN AMERICA Busess Airer 804 40 31/9 5d. 54. (Dept.312). Caracine: 262 2043. Georgeopti: 52 29 15. Limes: 417 652.

Paris: (For desified only)

Amsterdam: 26-34-15. Affann: 361-8397/360-2421. Brusseis: 343-1899. Coparhogen: 45) 42 93 25, Frankfort: (049) 72-67-55, Helsinkt: 647412 Istumbul: (70/1) 146 02 10. Lisbon: 67-77-73/66-25-44 London: [01] 836-4802 Madrid: 455-2891/455-3306. Milano: 5462573. Sergen (Norway): (05) 134010. Rome: 679-3437

Sweden: Contact Paris.
Tel Aviv: 03-455 559. UNITED STATES New York: (212) 752 3890. Toll free: (800) 572 7212. Los Angeles: (818) 594 0898. Son Francisco: (415) 362 8339.

Chicago: (312) 446-8764. SOUTH AFRICA

FAR EAST ghok: 258 32 44. Hang Kong: 5861 06 16. Manife: 817 07 49. Memile: 817 17 49. Secosi: 735 87 73. Singapera: 723 64 78/9. Televent: 752 44 25/9. Televen: 304-1925. AUSTRALIA -Melbourne #00 $233. Sydney: 929 56.39, 957 43 20. Ports: 328 98 33. Peddington, Queenstand: (07) 367 34 53. NEW ZEALAND

Macrico: 535 31 64. Proposter. 69 09 75. Surnings: 69 61 5 55. Son Prode: 852 18 93. Correton: 262 2043.

America: 62 44 30. Behrein: 256(32.

Beiret: 341 457/8/9. Caire: 486756. Dahe: 476535. Dahet: 224761.

MEDDLE EAST

BUSINESS PROFILE IN THE IHT EVERY SATURDAY. INDIVIDUAL CASE HISTORIES OF SUCCESS AND FAILURE

complete personal & business se complete personal & business servi providing a unique collection of idented, versotile & multilingual individuals for all social & promotional occasions, 212-765-7793 330 W. 56th St., N.Y.C. 10019 Service Representatives Needed Worldwide. Aston Company Formation Ltd., 19 Peel Rd. Douglas, Isle of Man. Tel (0624) 26591. Tix 627691 SPIVAG Tix 22861 MET MAK 26 G

RNEST INVESTMENT NEWSLETTER. Award-wissing in I Harry Schultz Letter in its 23rd year, 530 for Indiastocration, FERC, P.O. Box 622, CH-1001 Lossonne, Switzerland, The Financial & Freedom-Fighter Letter.

BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITIES

OFFSHORE COMPANIES

PERFUMES. NYC based co. selling name broad French perfumes, prefer-obly to Germany/Italy. Christopher: 212-254-3857. Tbs: 697-3248. HNANCIAL advisors earn 8-10% com-mission, Tops performing US multiol funds, US real estate, ISFA 104, 3145 Geary Bird, Son Francisco, CA 94118. DELAWARE, PANAMA, Liberia, Cor-porations from US$150, Phone; (1624) 28933/ 20240, Teleo: 628352 ISLAND G. (via UK).

BUSINESS SERVICES GENEVA SWITZERLAND Full Service ·

is our Business

7 Rue Muzy, 1207 GENEYA. Tek 36 05 40, Tbr: 23342, Fox 86 06 44

INTERNATIONAL
YOUR OFFICE IN PARIS
HIGH CLASS & ALL SERVICES
Short or long term qualichie
30 Ave Fach, (17 Sp. Foch)
75 116 PARIS
Tel: 45 00 45 00 Tbn 649 489F PARIS ETOILE D.O. DISCUTIVE CENTER Tel: 46 22 98 98. Th: 649601. Imprime par Offprint, 73 rue de l'Evanglie, 75018 Paris.

BANNHOFSTRASS 52
YOUR OFFICE AWAY FROM HOME

Offical/Management Services

Company Formsfore

How to do Business in/or/
FROM SWITZERIAND
Business Services Coreals Corp.
Business Coreals Core.
Business Coreals Coreal Coreal Coreals Coreal Core

FOCH BUILDING

OFFICE SERVICES OFFICE SERVICES WHY RENT SPACE WHEN YOU CAN ACTE: 50 BUSINESS RENT AN OFFICE CENTERS IN EUROPE

Fish equipped offices to rest.

Dossicilation, mod, helex, fox.

Prone, translation.

FARES
Tel (1) 43.80.90.10, Th: 642187 F
GREYA
Tel: (2) 321161, Th: 289159 CH
FRESURES (FRG)
Tel (49) 76 13 19030
SERIESES nd save up to 50% of your cost)? 212-765-7793
212-765-7793
230 W. Schi S., N.Y.C. 10019
Service Representatives Needed Worldwide.

NIGHT VISION-BECTRO OPTICS
Mil Specs, Pocket and Rifle Scopes, Binoculars, Longe Range Conserv.
Agents worked.
CCS COMMINECATION CONTROL
in Paris colis Mr. Michaels 4297-5600
in London colis Mr. 861 01-629-6500
in London colis Mr. 861 01-629-678-610
YOUR OFFICE IN NEW YORK, Fifth
Ase, address and/or phones as your USA office. Mail, phote colis reported & forwarded. New York Mci Service, 210 Fifth Ase, NYC 10010.

PARS ANSWERING SERVICE: Telex,
Fig., secretary, errunds, mailbax, five
284/day, 20 YEAS SPERENCE
Call PAT: 46 09 95 99.

OFFICE SERVICES

ZURICH-ZURICH-ZURICH
BAHNHOPSTRASSE 5.2

ZURICH-BARNSWERING 32, 8001 Zurich.
Teles: 813455

FAR EAST EUROPE Tel: (322) 6402485 Th: 65444 B PARIS

POOR CHAMPS ELYSES FURNISHED OFFICES VIEW HECH CLASS
AIR CONDITIONED CONFERENCE ROOM SECRETARIAT - TREET, FAX
LE SATELLITE, 8 rue Coperaix 75116 Paris. Tel.[1] 4727 1559.

is ready when you need 2, even for a couple of hours

Fully functional modern offices and conference recent to rest by the hour, day, month, etc...

From tocked or permanent base, Pressign moling address, all services

BOSS BURO EXPRESS

"HE RELAS D'AFFALESS"

91, Fg Sh-Honore 75008 Peris

Yet. 42 66 90 75. The 642.0666 FAR EAST TOKYO: ABS Boilding, 2-4-16, Kuda Minami, Chiyada ku, Tokyo 102, Tek 03-239-2811, Tekse: 132384

U.S.A., NEW YORK: 575 McGran Avenue New York, NY 19022. Tel: (212) 605-0200. Telen: 12584 or 237659 NE. 197 St., N. Misoni Boach, Fl 33181 Tel: 305-98-07. Tel: 6716225 PALM BEACH: 2675 So., Ocean Bird. Palm Beach, Fl 33480. Tel: 305-98-7175. Ter: 5711-671 NEW PRILADELPHIA: Suite 500, 714 Morket Street, Philodelphia, PA 19106. Tel: 215-238-7000. The: 6974-601 DIAMONDS DIAMONDS WORLD-WIDE BUSINESS CENTRES

YOUR OFFICE IN PARIS

Fine diamonds in only price range of lowest wholesde prices direct thousand prices direct thousand world. Full guarantee, For free price list write JOACHIM GOLDENSTEIN DIAMAMTECPORT BYBA Established 1928 Pathocarance C2, 8-2018 Antwerp Beigian - Tel. (22, 31, 224 (2), 51 The: 71779 syl b. All the Diamond Cub. Heart of Antwerp Diamend industry

the state of the state of the Texas: (713) 627-9930.

Bryonston: 705 14 08.

WORLDWIDE :

AUTO SHIPPING

HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL EDUCATION ...

PBN PALSI Write to Victor, F.O. Box 85429, Hollywood, CA 90072 USA.

FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS